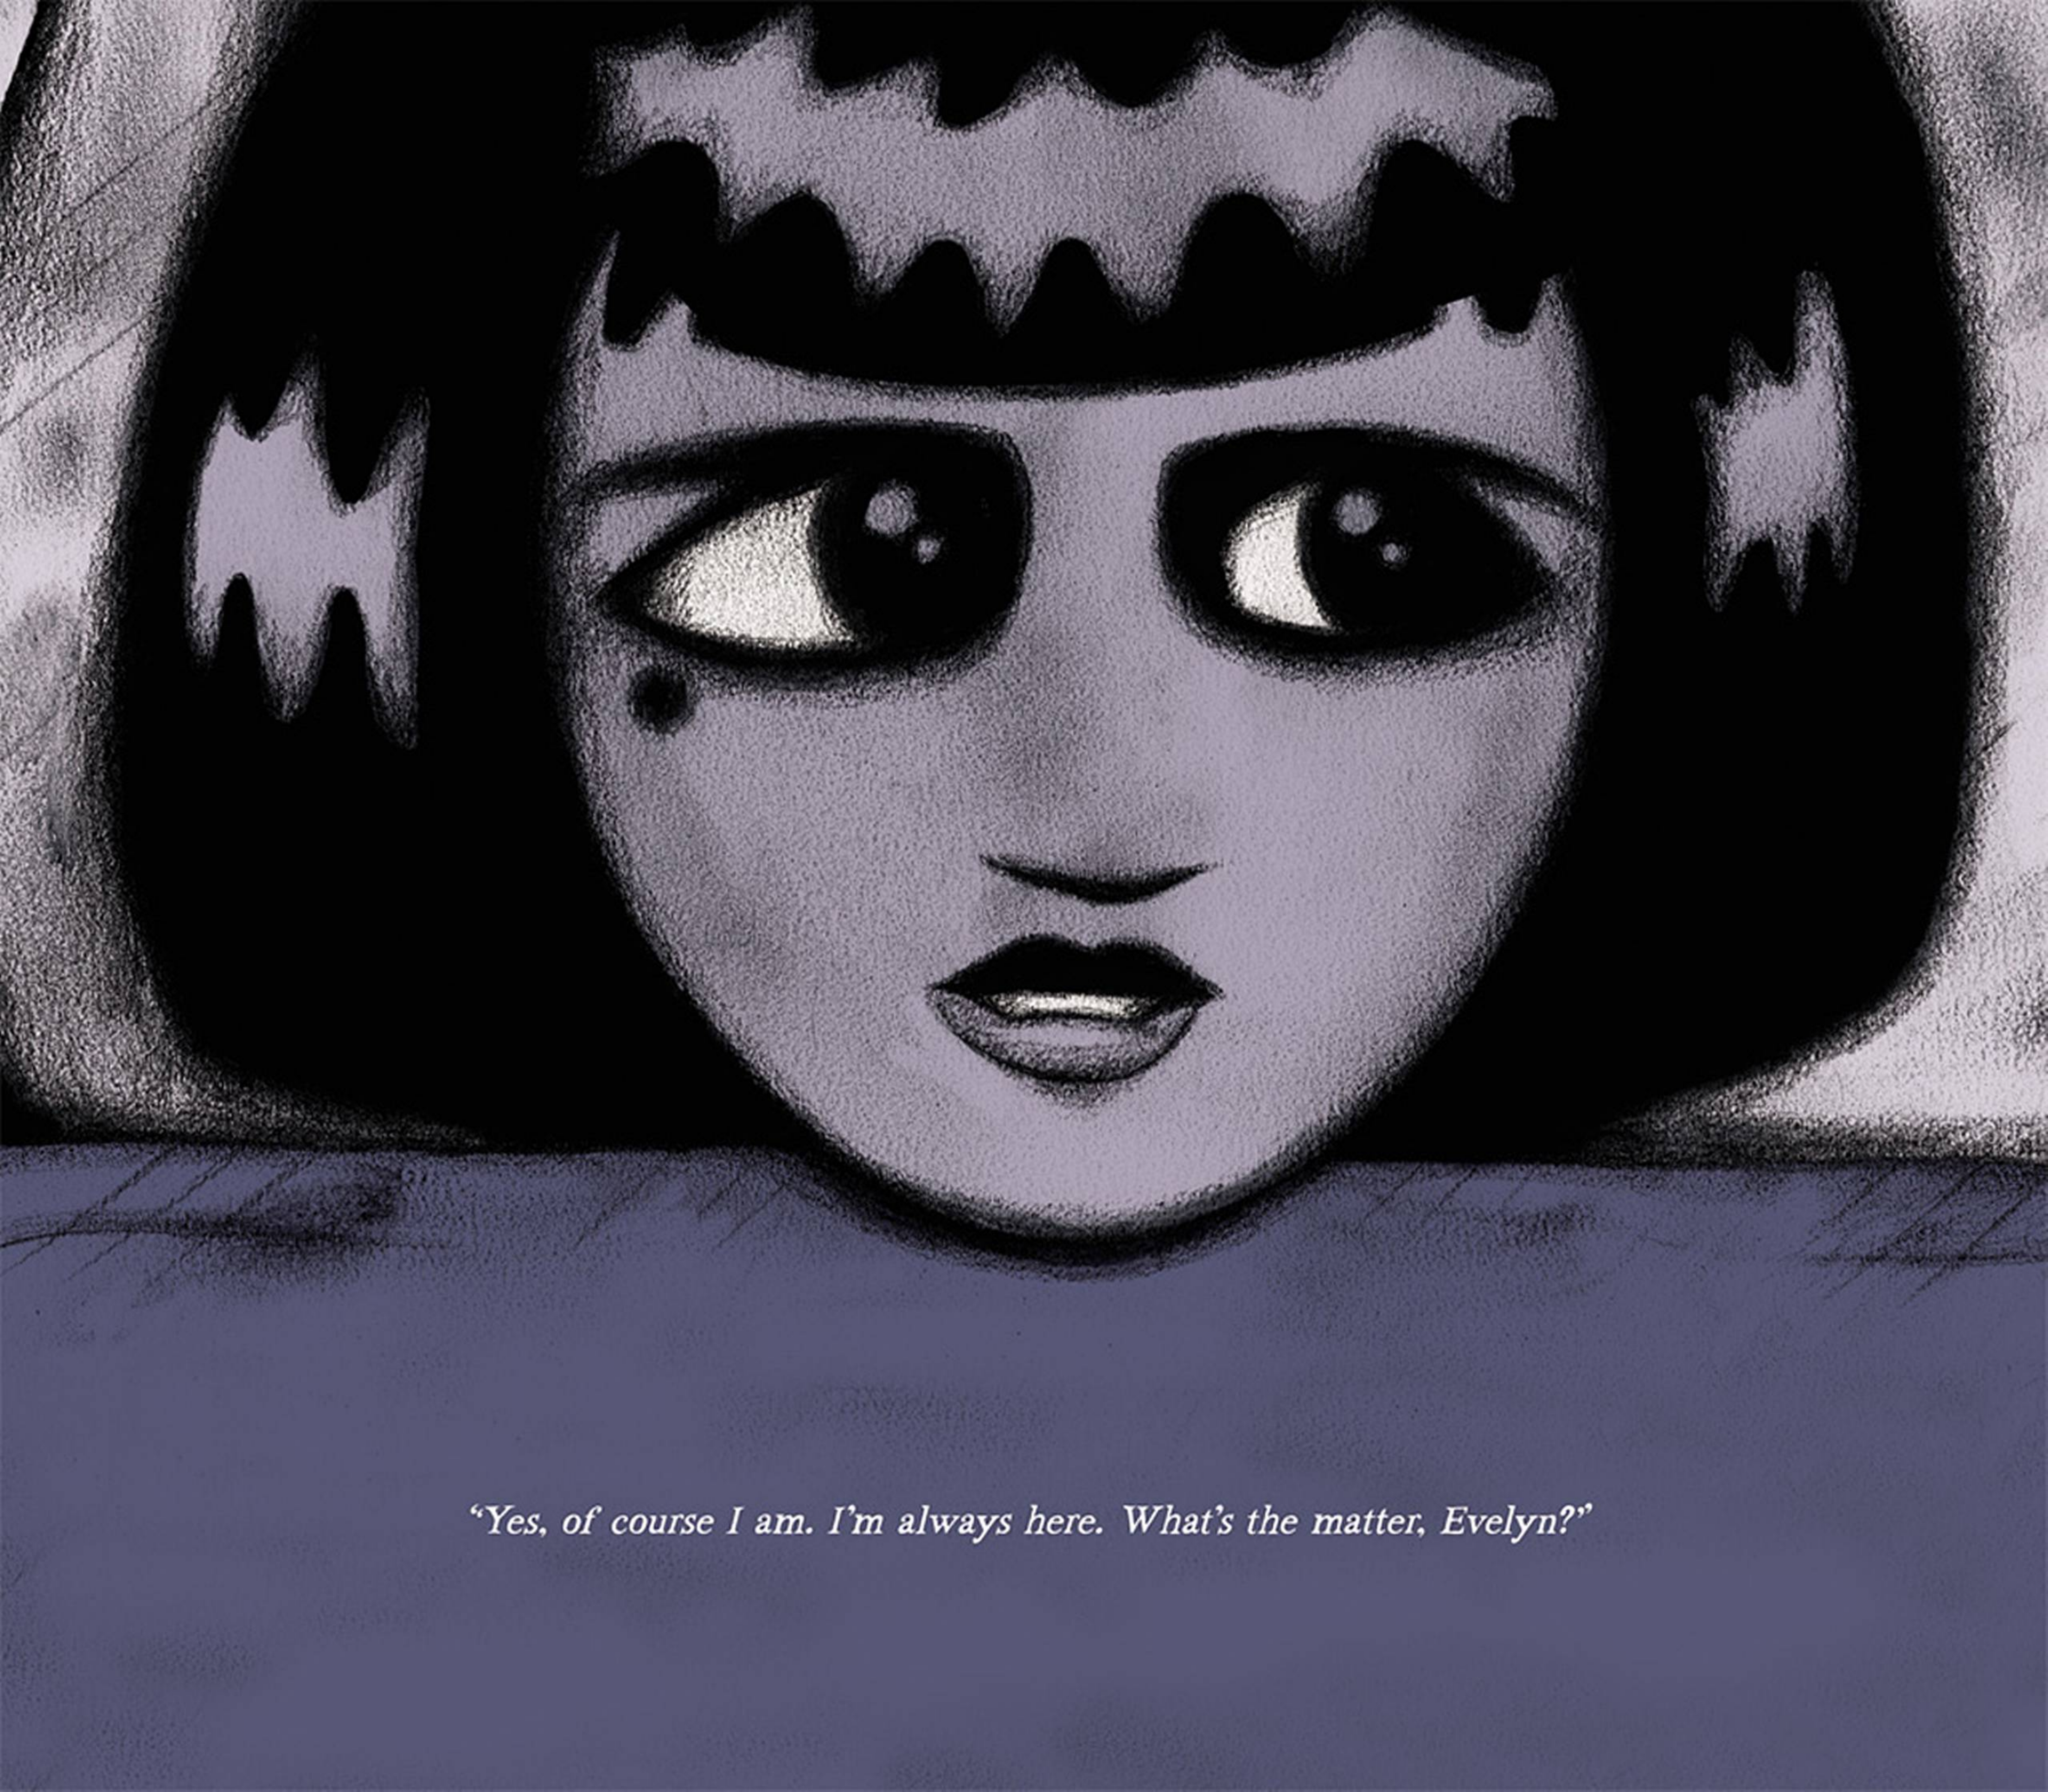
Part I

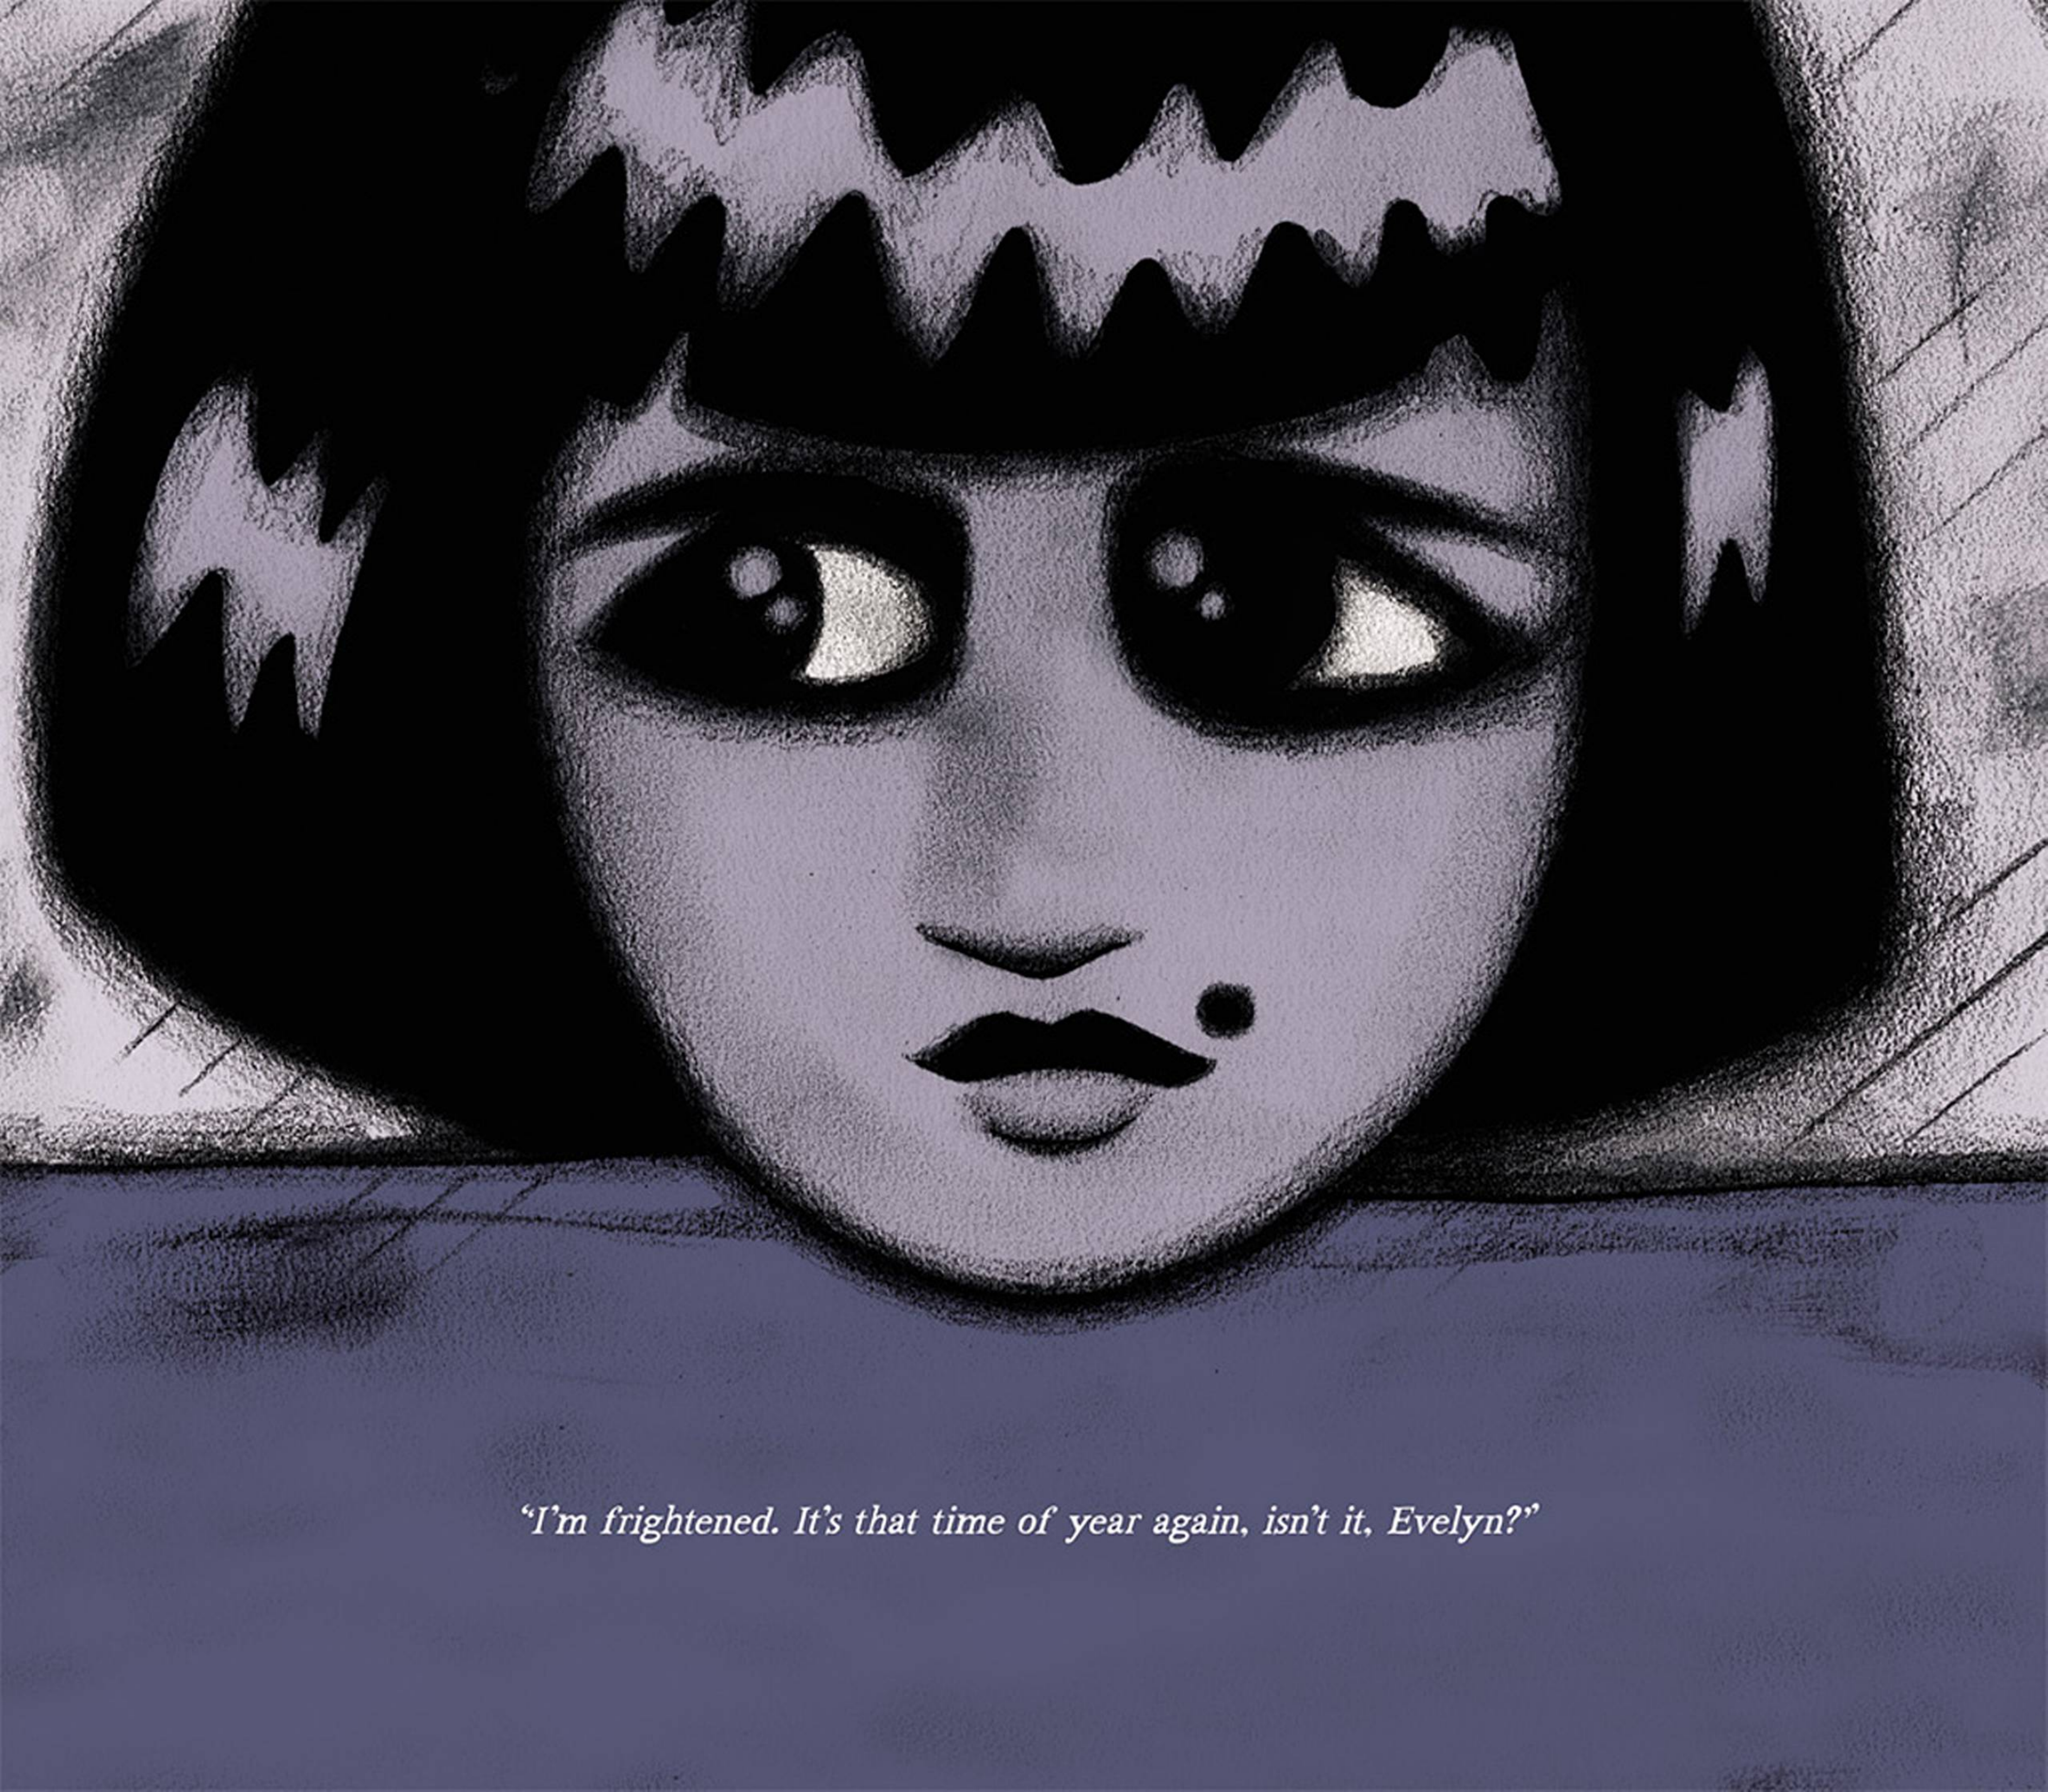
"ALL THINGS GO IN PAIRS,
ONE THE COUNTERPART TO THE OTHER;
HE HAS MADE NOTHING INCOMPLETE."

—Ecclesiasticus 42:24

“Are you there, Evelyn?”



"Yes, of course I am. I'm always here. What's the matter, Evelyn?"



"I'm frightened. It's that time of year again, isn't it, Evelyn?"

"Yes. It is that time again, Evelyn."

"Tell me once more how it all happened, Evelyn?"

"Hush, now. We don't talk about that, because it makes us sad, Evelyn."

"I won't be sad this time, I promise. Please, tell me again about the tragic events of September, Evelyn . . ."

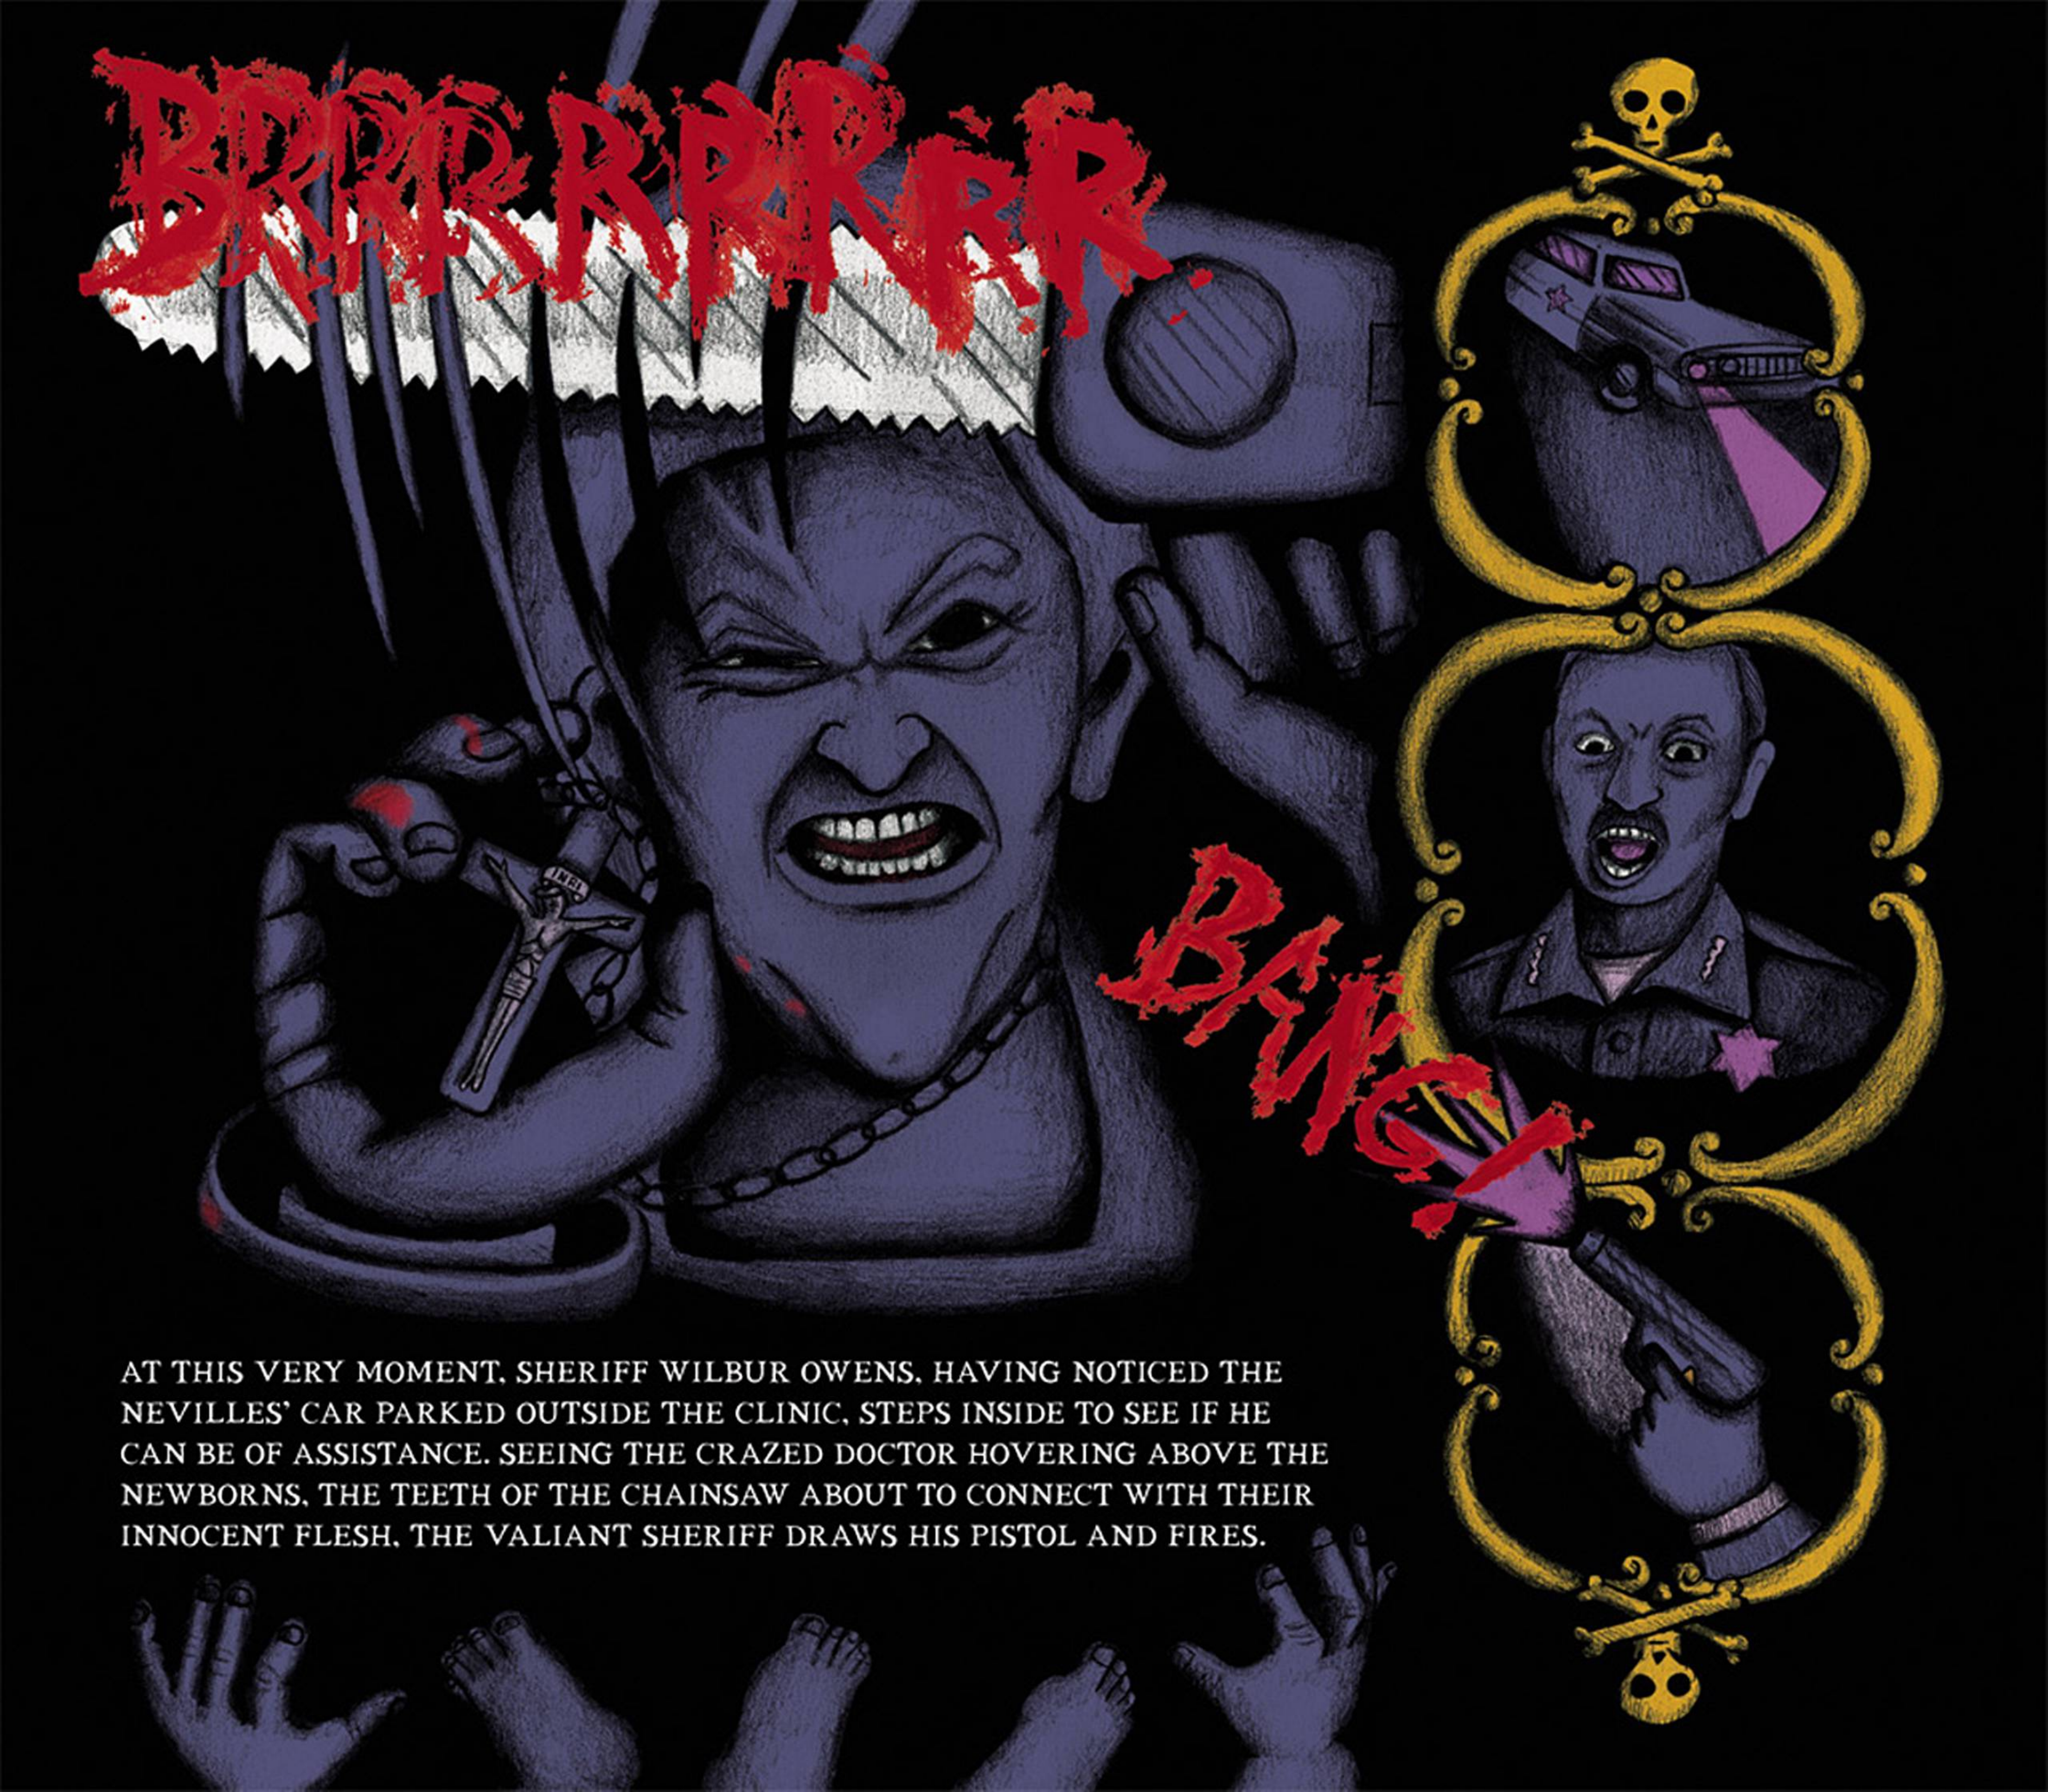
"And the Lord spoketh to Isaiah, 'Prepare your ax, for a great task lies ahead of you.'"

WITHOUT HESITATING, DR. VON KOOKE PLACES THE INFANTS ON THE OPERATING TABLE. MUTTERING BIBLICAL QUOTATIONS OF DOUBTFUL ACCURACY, THE DOCTOR LEAVES THE TRAILER AND RETURNS WITH A GAS-POWERED CHAINSAW. THE NOISE IS DEAFENING IN THE SMALL SPACE AS HE STARTS THE ENGINE AND PREPARES FOR THE GRUESOME OPERATION.



AT THIS VERY MOMENT, SHERIFF WILBUR OWENS, HAVING NOTICED THE NEVILLES' CAR PARKED OUTSIDE THE CLINIC, STEPS INSIDE TO SEE IF HE CAN BE OF ASSISTANCE. SEEING THE CRAZED DOCTOR HOVERING ABOVE THE NEWBORNS, THE TEETH OF THE CHAINSAW ABOUT TO CONNECT WITH THEIR INNOCENT FLESH, THE VALIANT SHERIFF DRAWS HIS PISTOL AND FIRES.

AS THE BULLET PIERCES HIS HEART, DR. VON KOOKE EMITS A CRY AND STUMBLES BACKWARD.

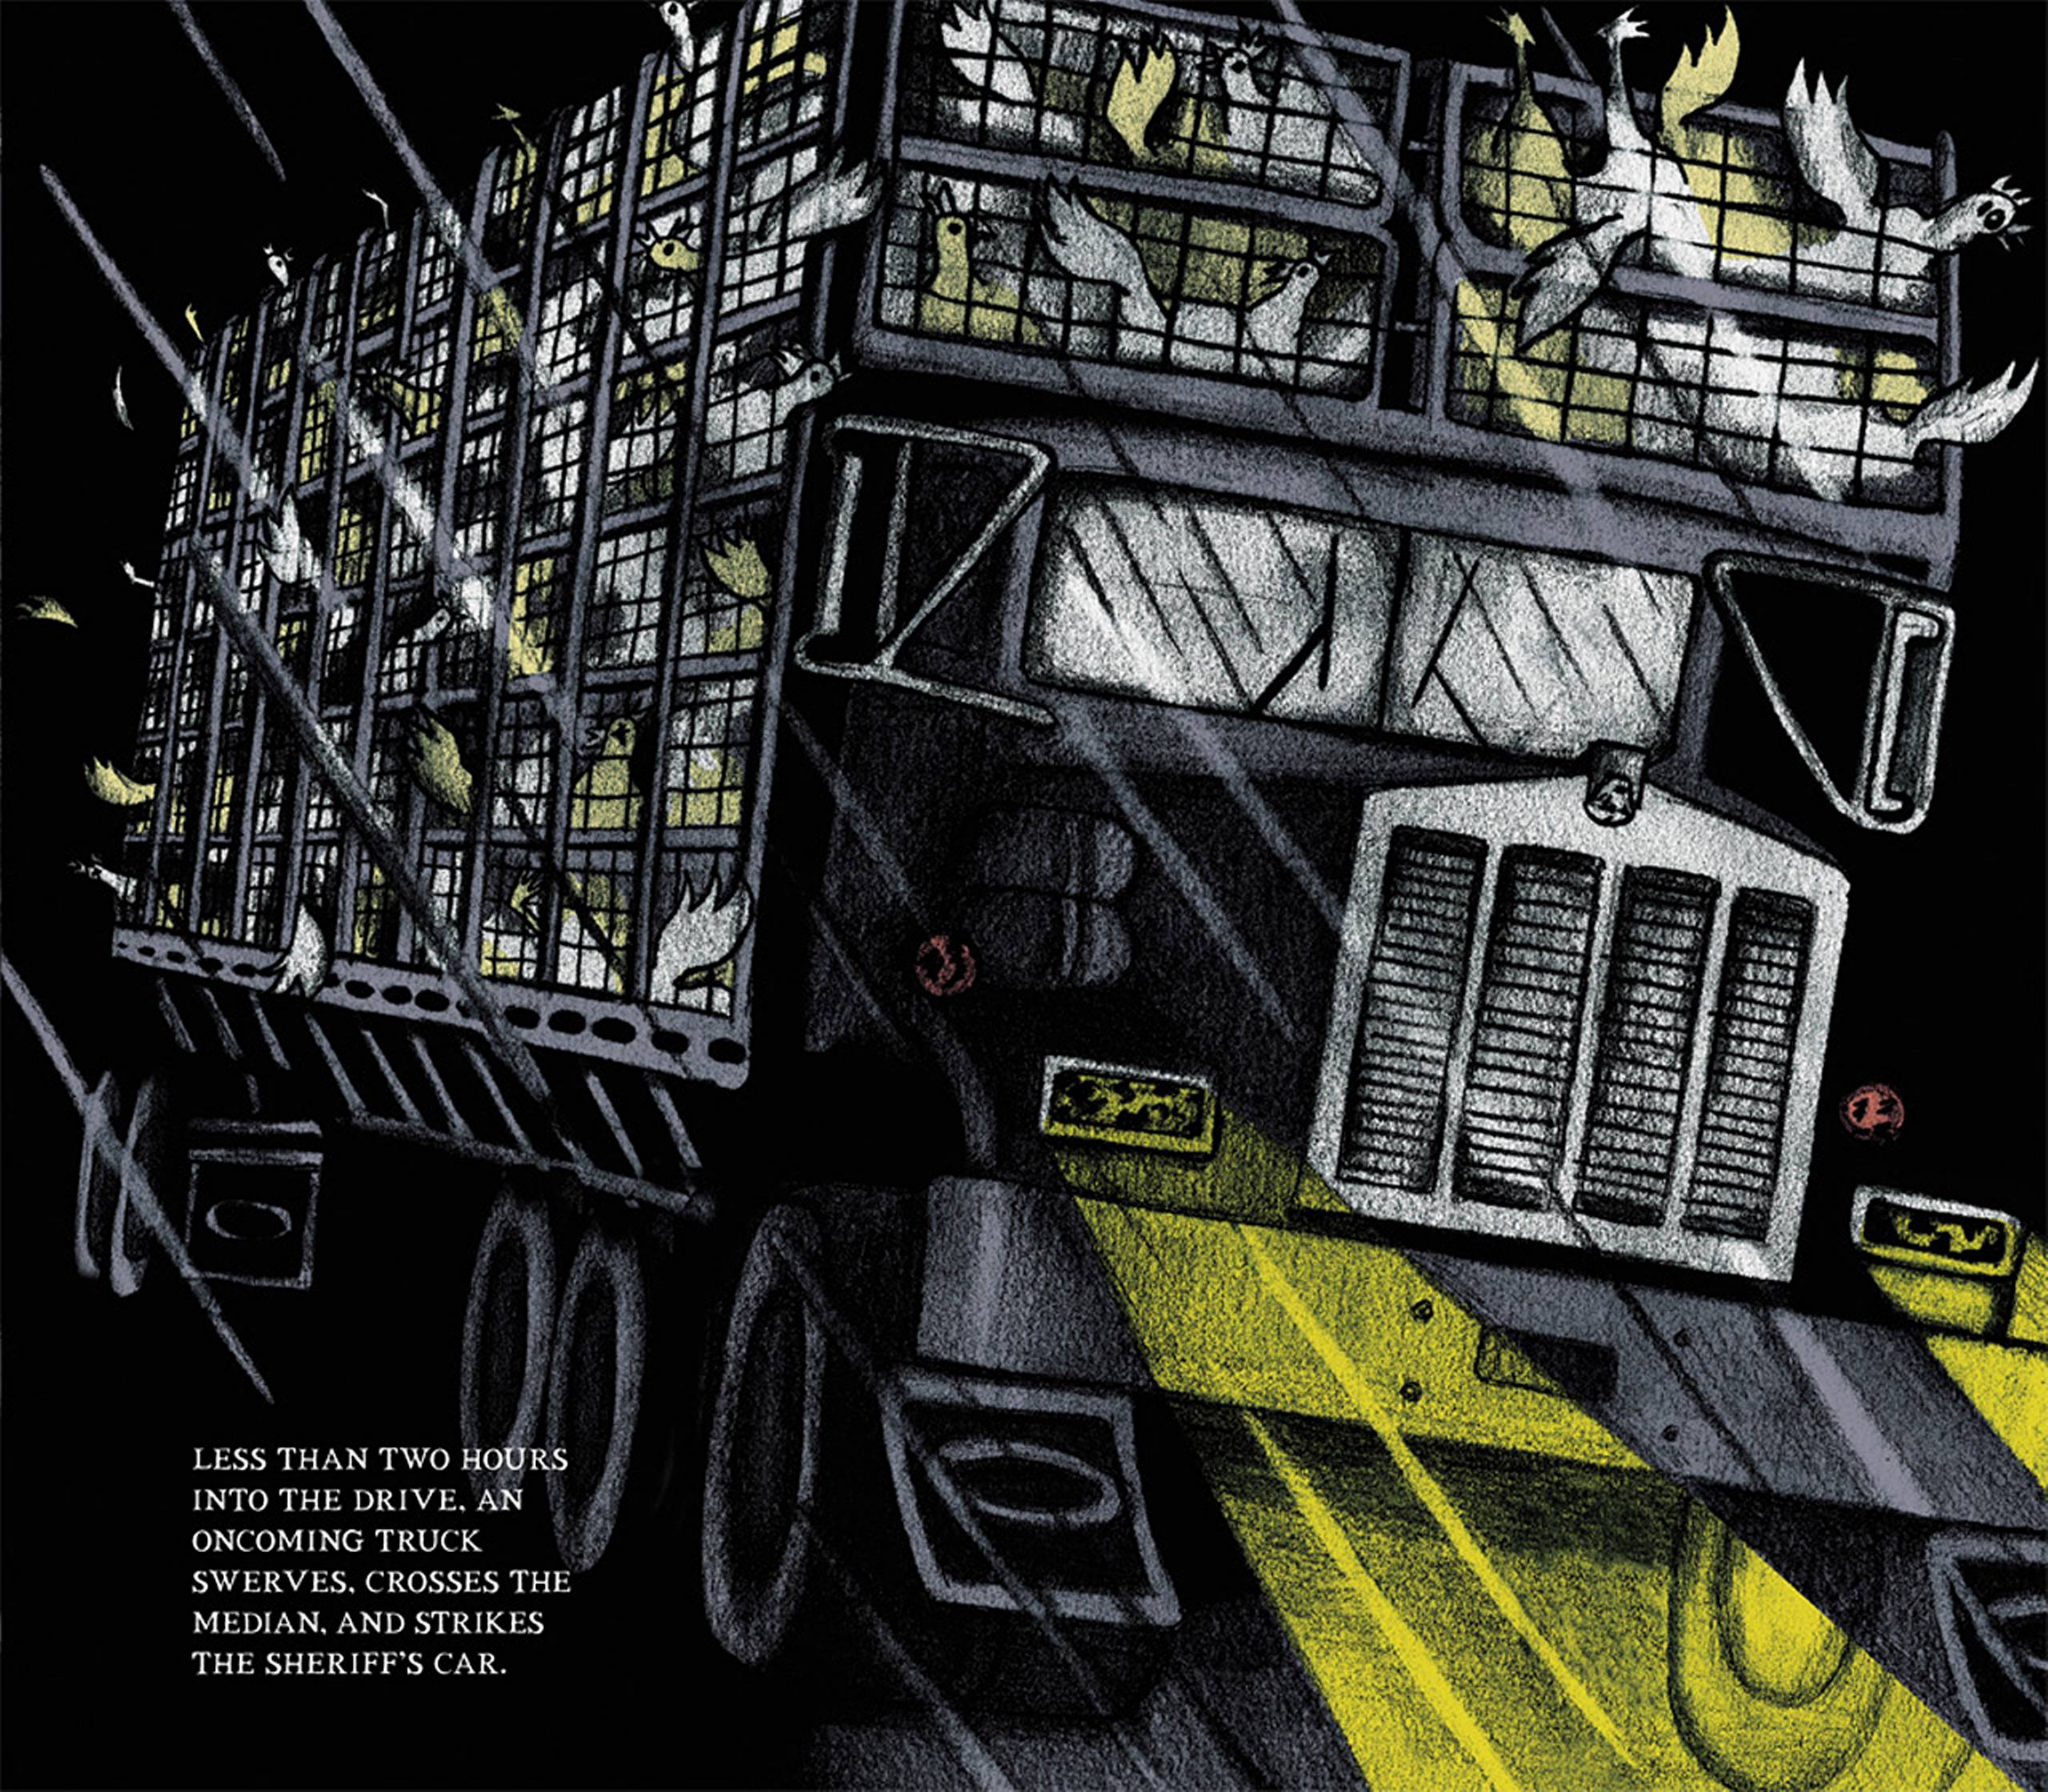
DISTRAUGHT, THE GOOD SHERIFF TAKES THE CRYING INFANTS TO HIS CAR. HE RADIOS BACK TO THE STATION, WHERE, AFTER SEVERAL CALLS, IT IS ARRANGED FOR THE TWINS TO BE ADMITTED TO THE BETHANY CENTER FOR DEVELOPMENTALLY DISABLED YOUTH IN TOPEKA. SHERIFF OWENS DECIDES TO DELIVER THE TWINS TO THE BETHANY CENTER PERSONALLY.



LESS THAN TWO HOURS

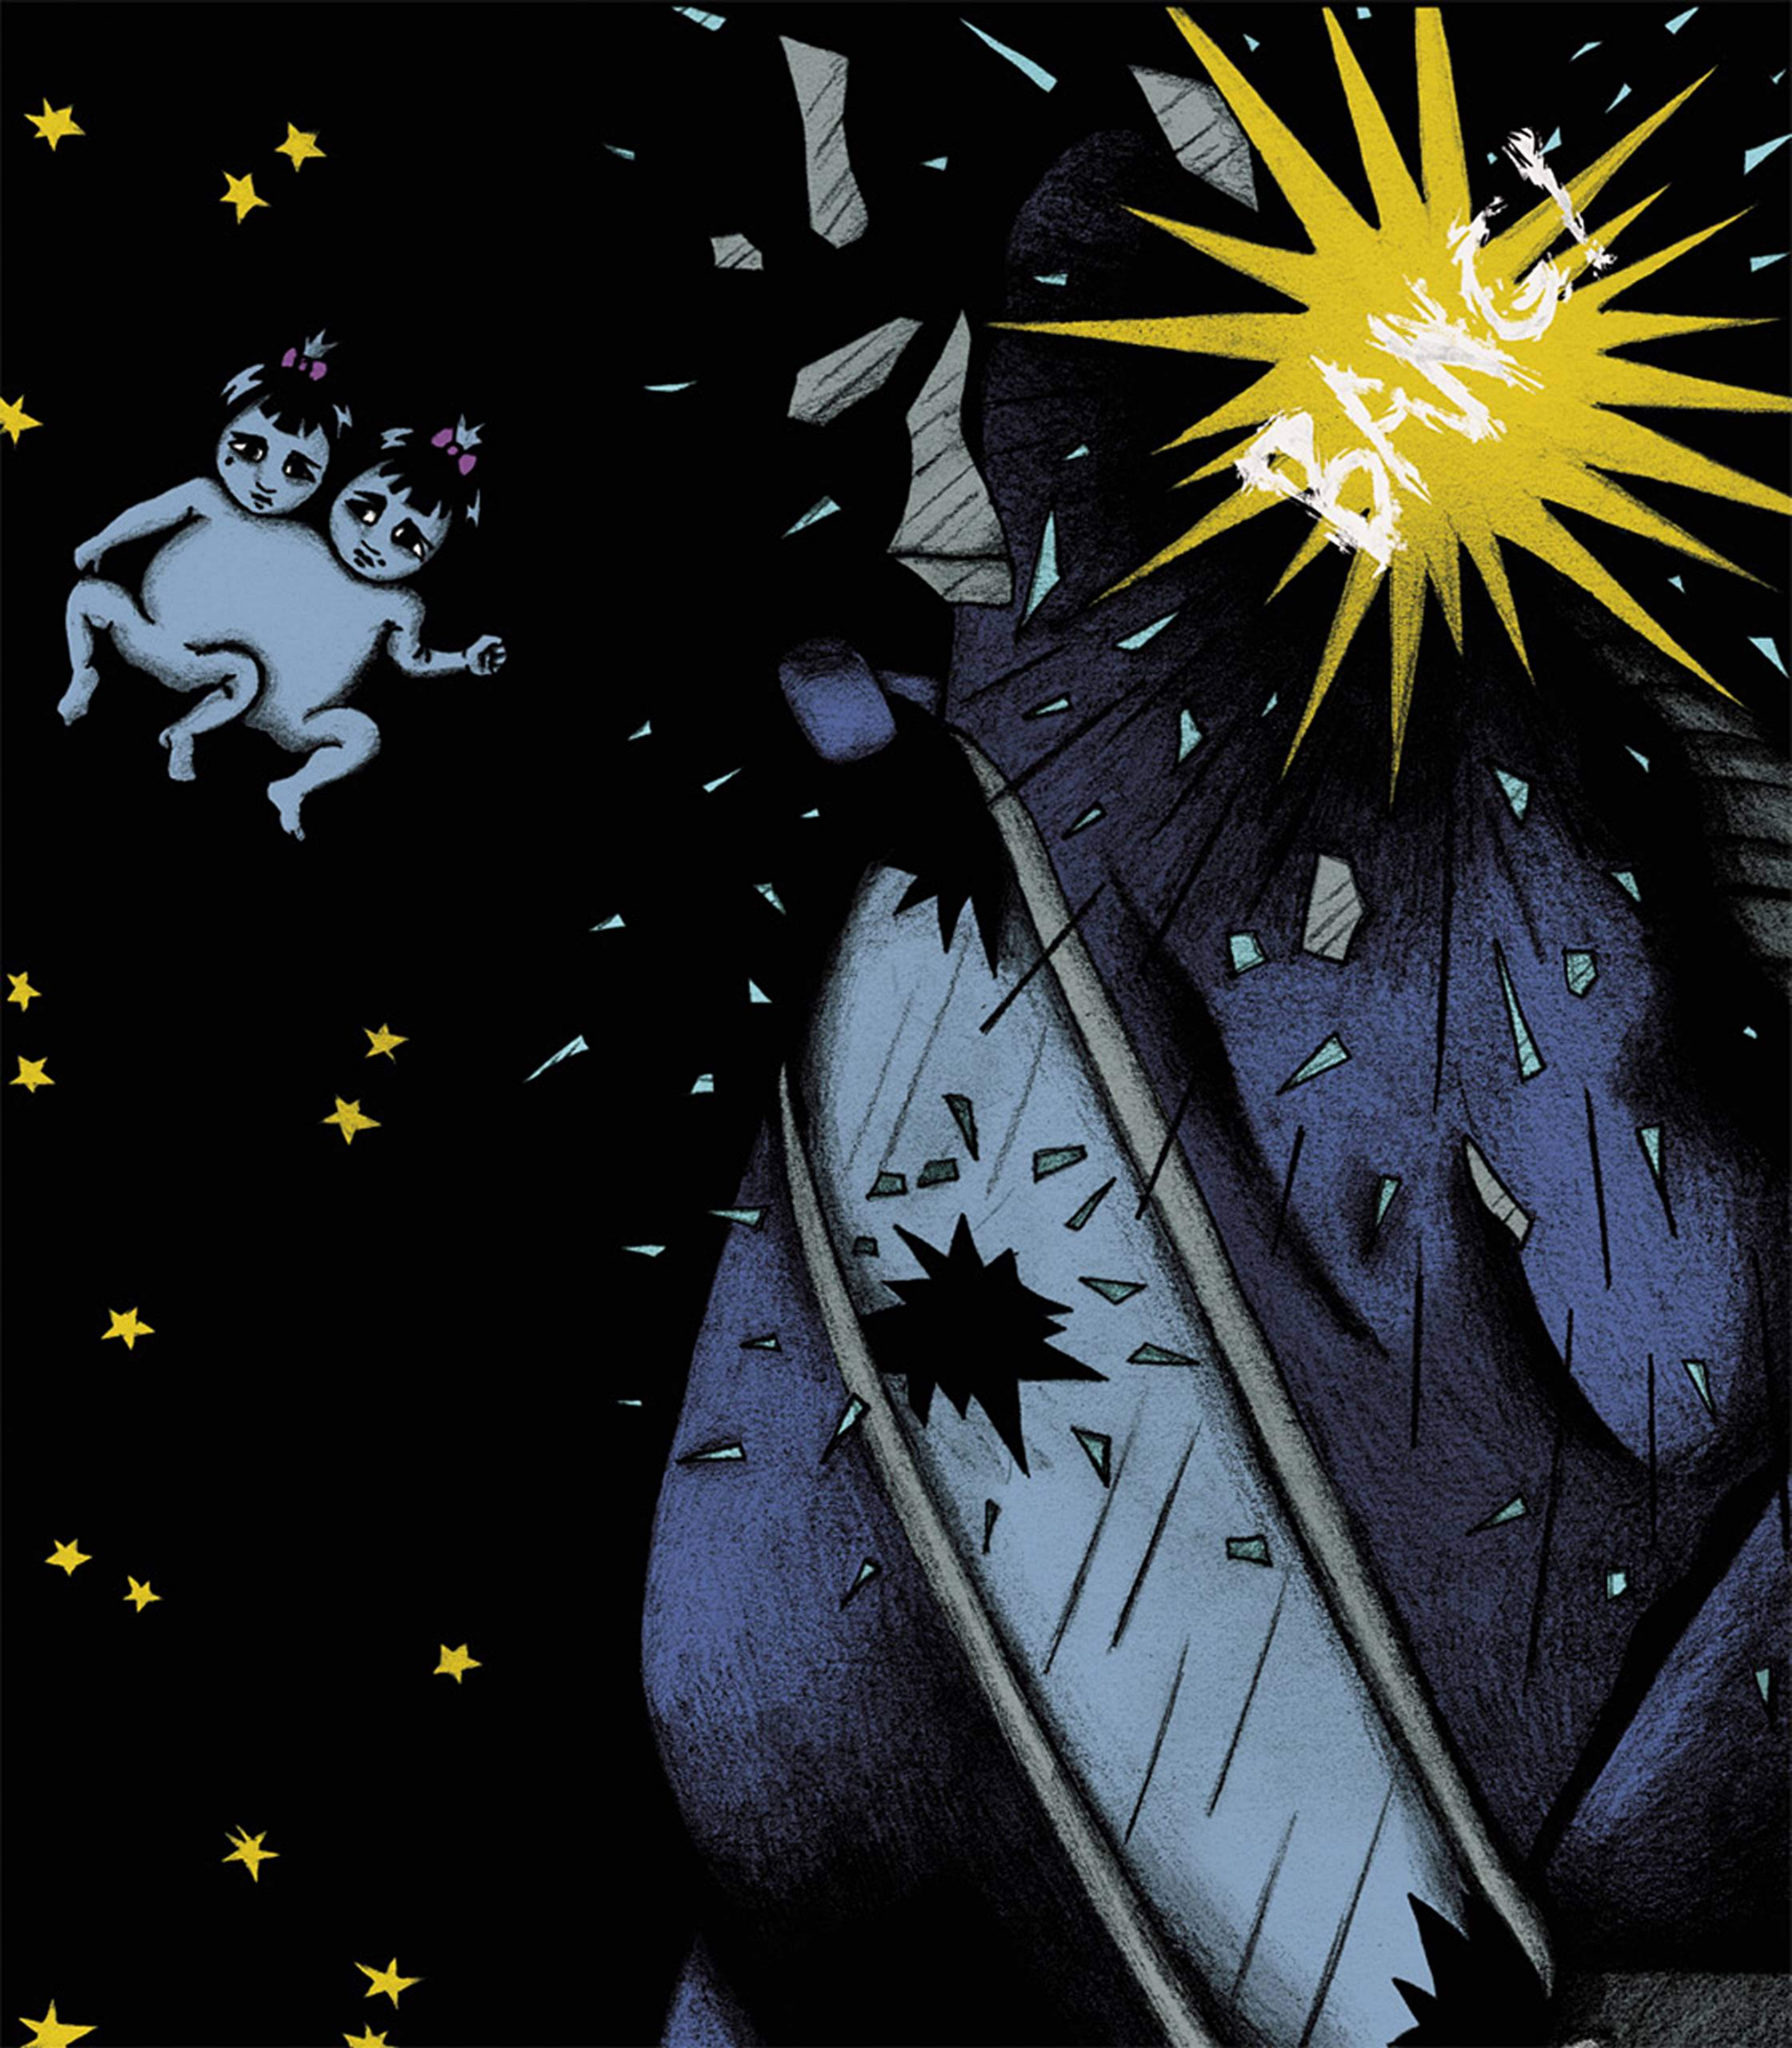
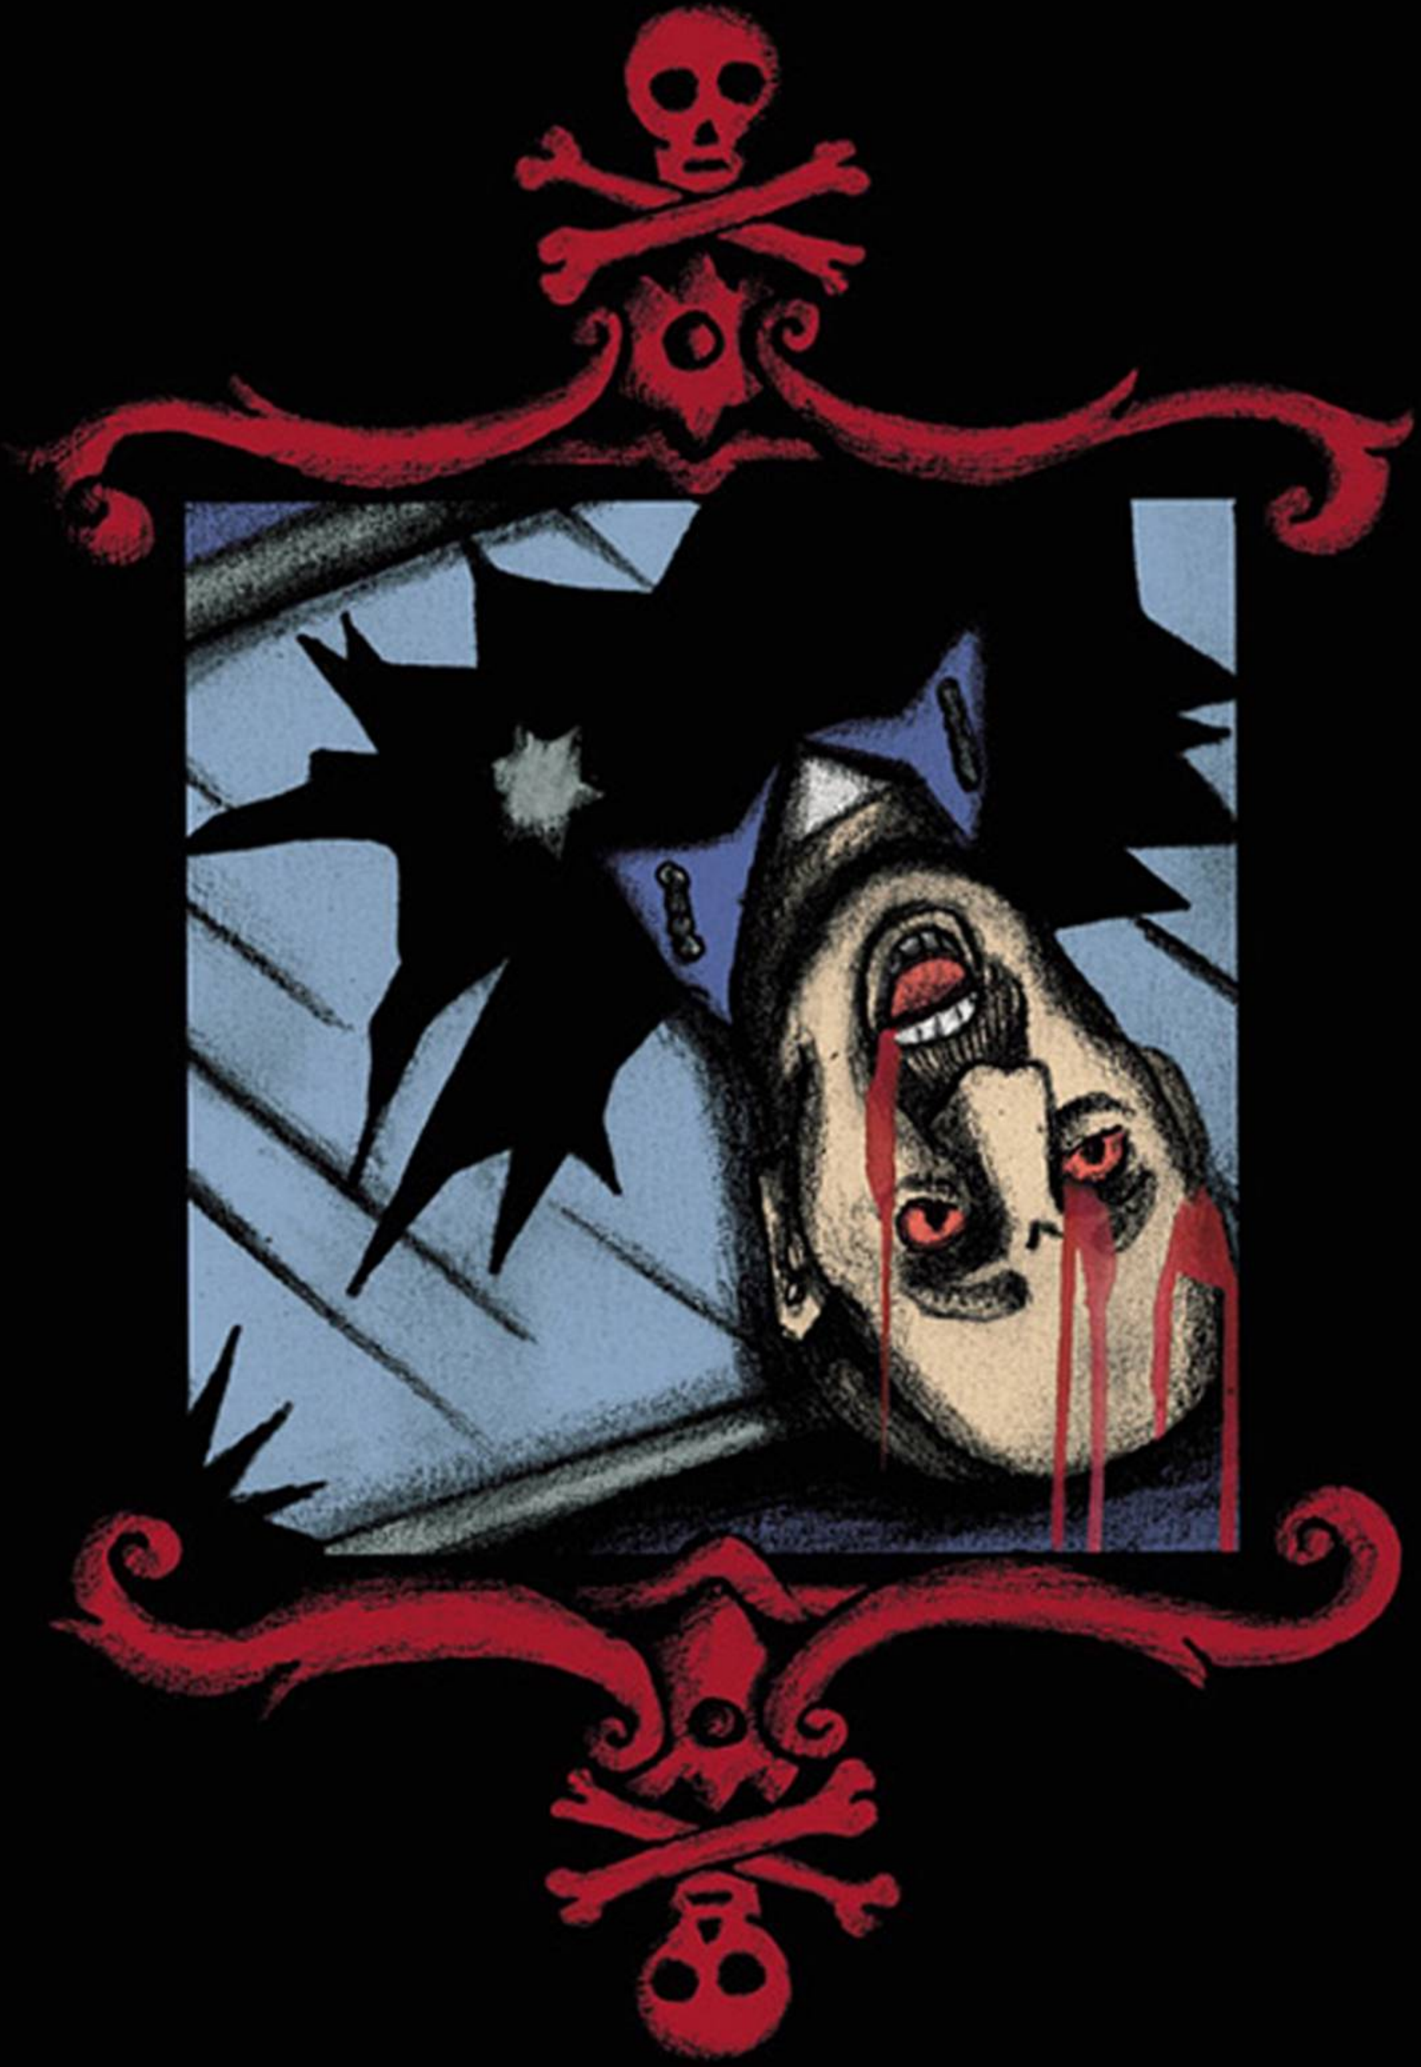
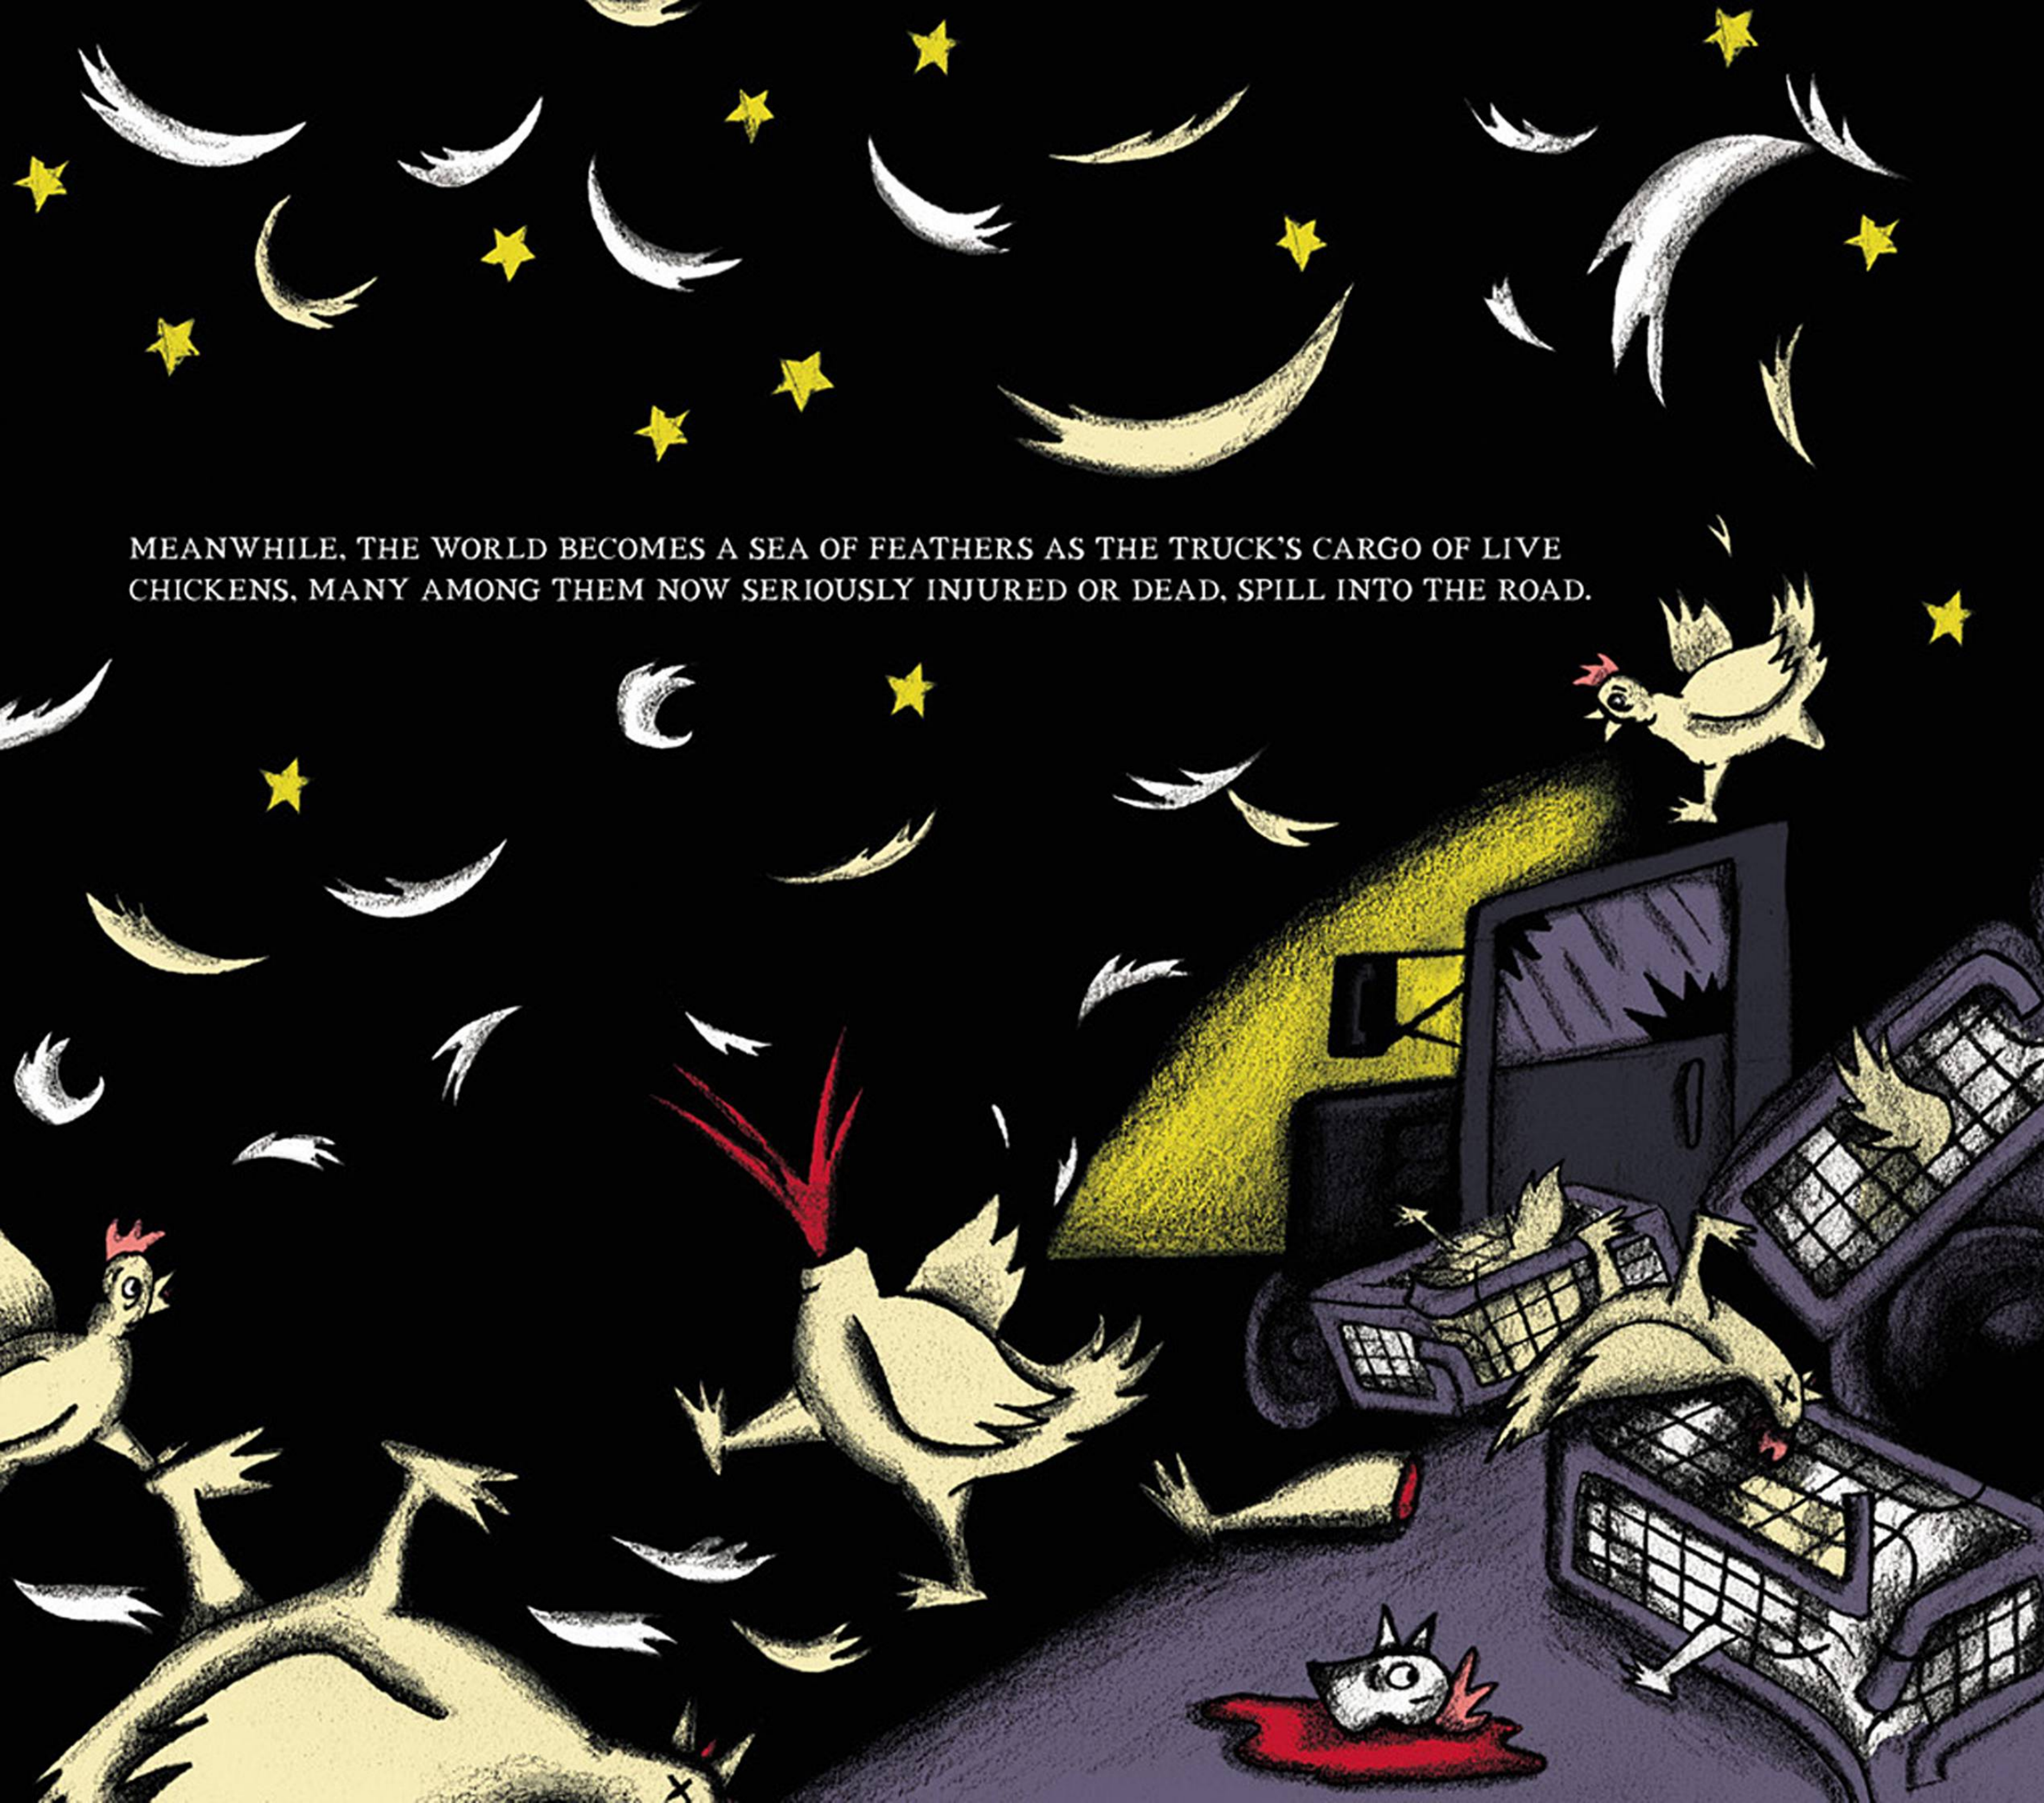
MEDIAN, AND STRIKES
THE SHERIFF'S CAR.



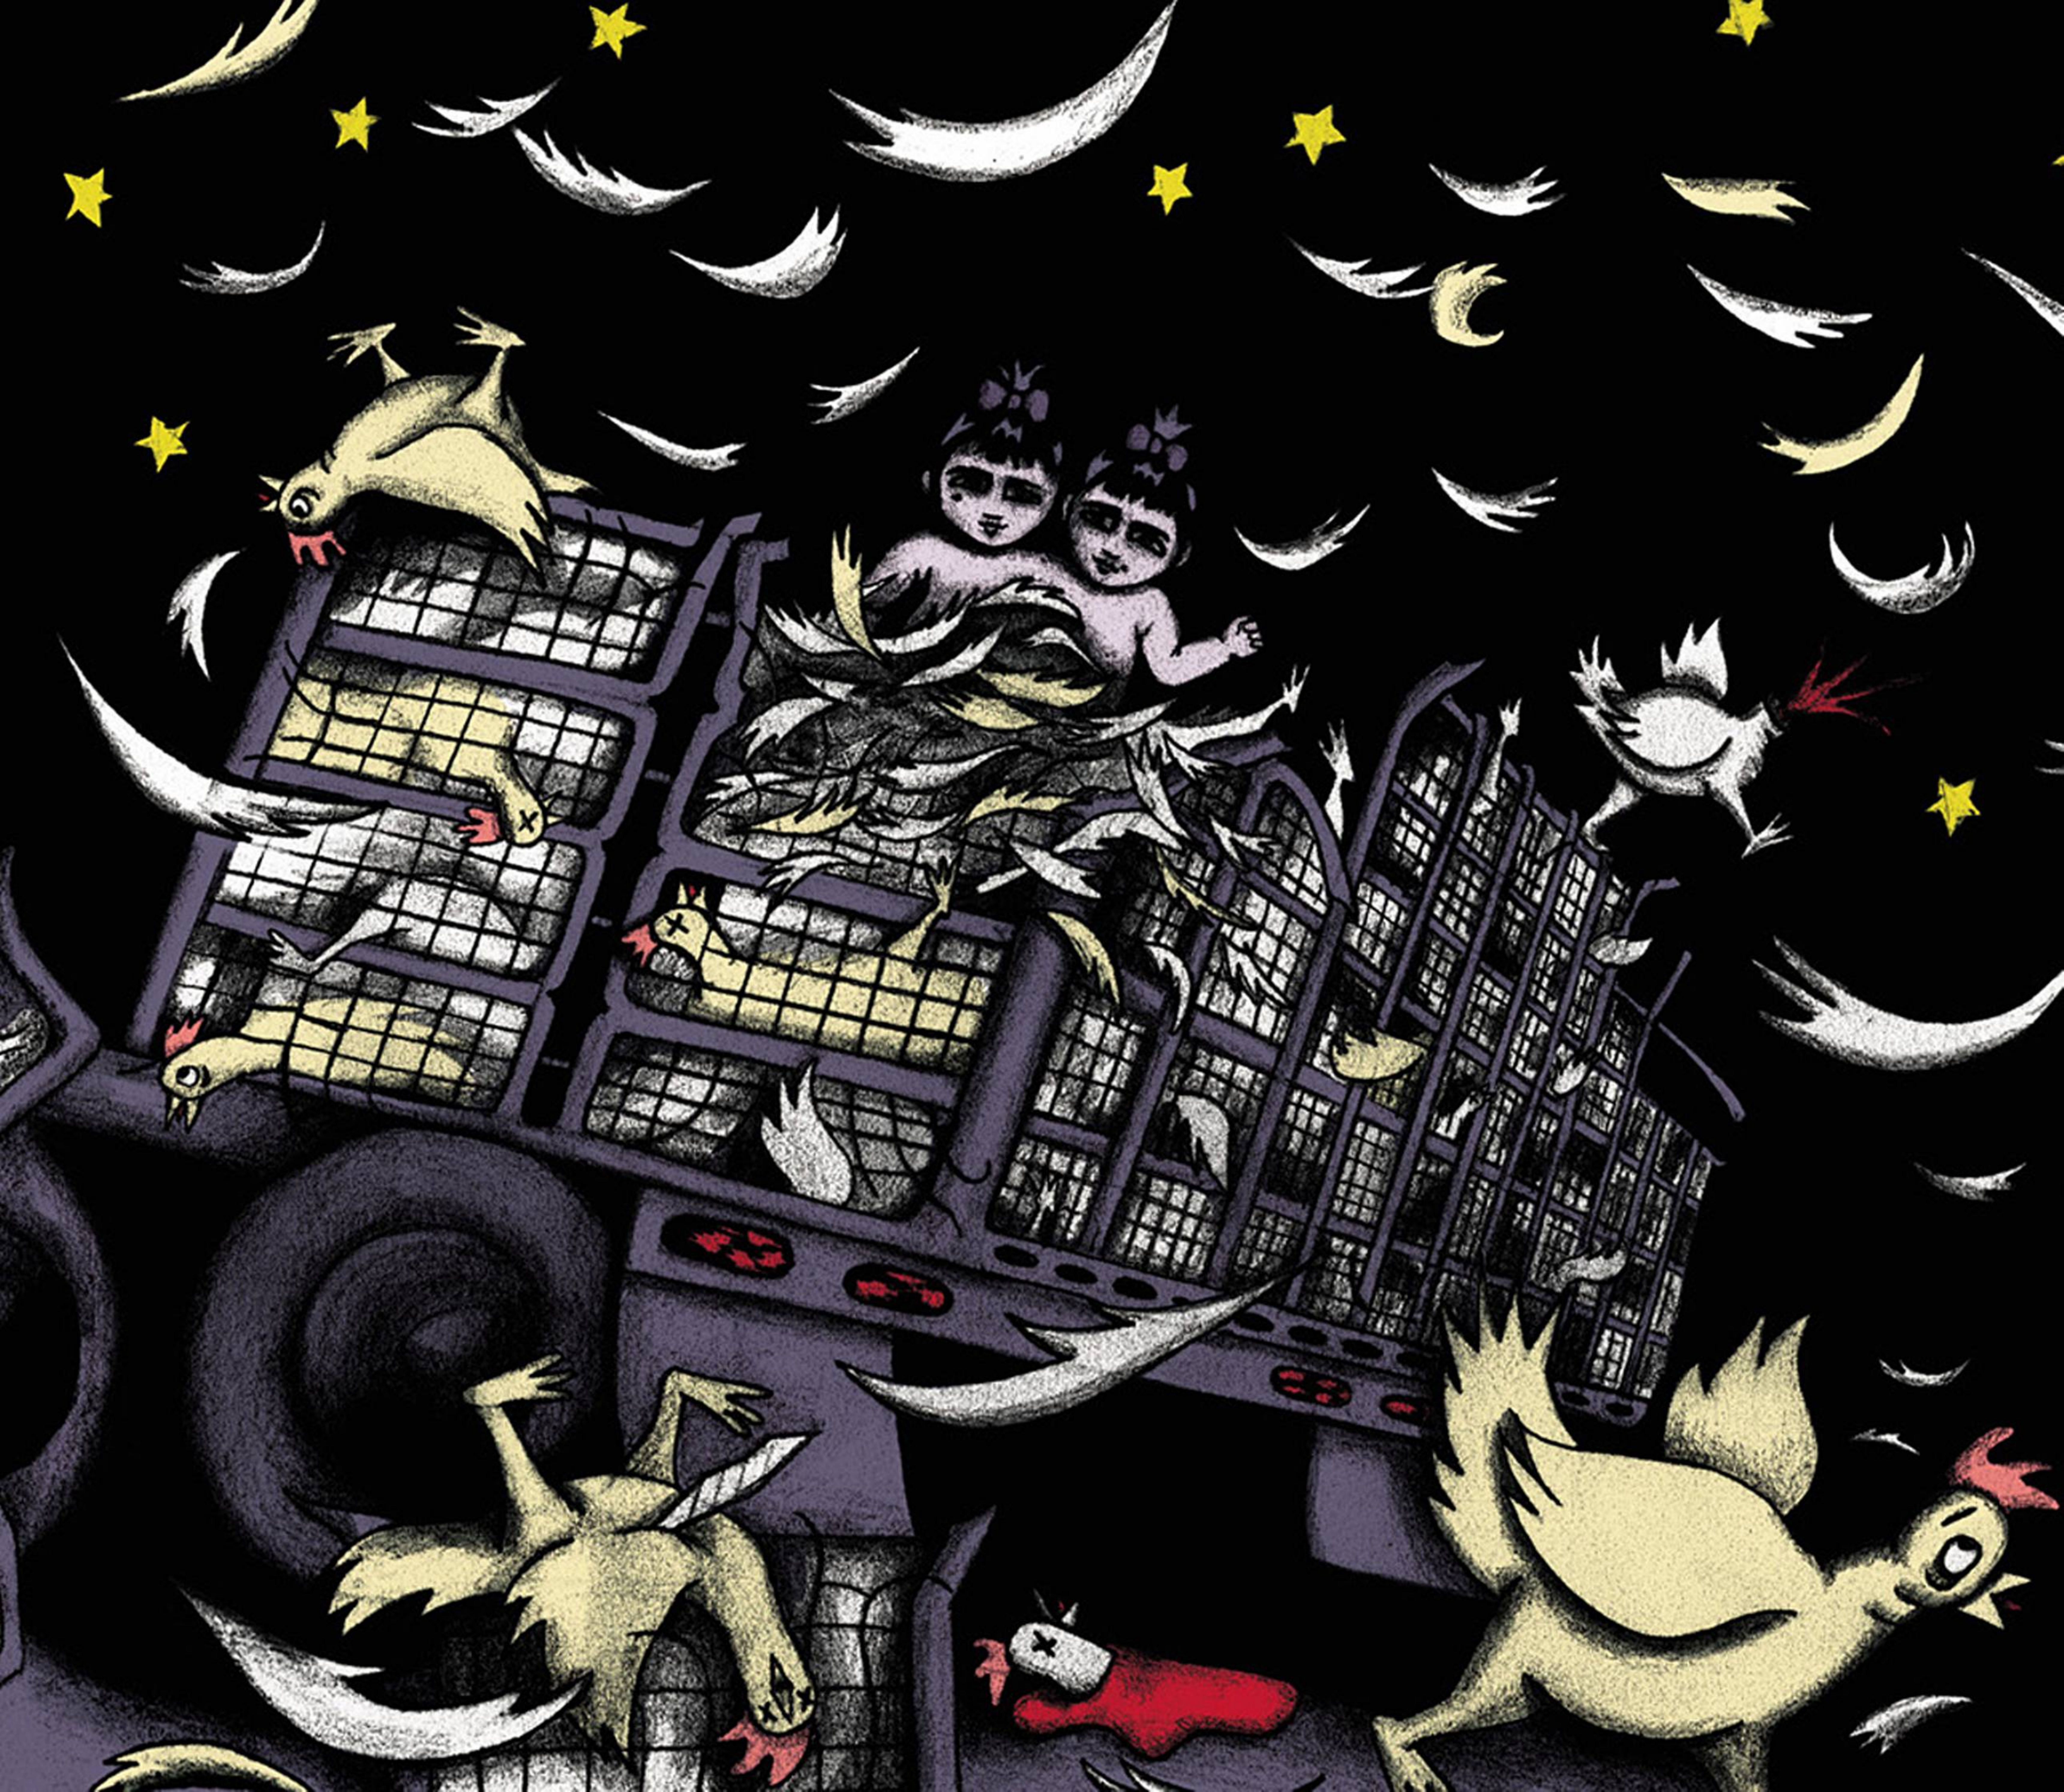
BANG!

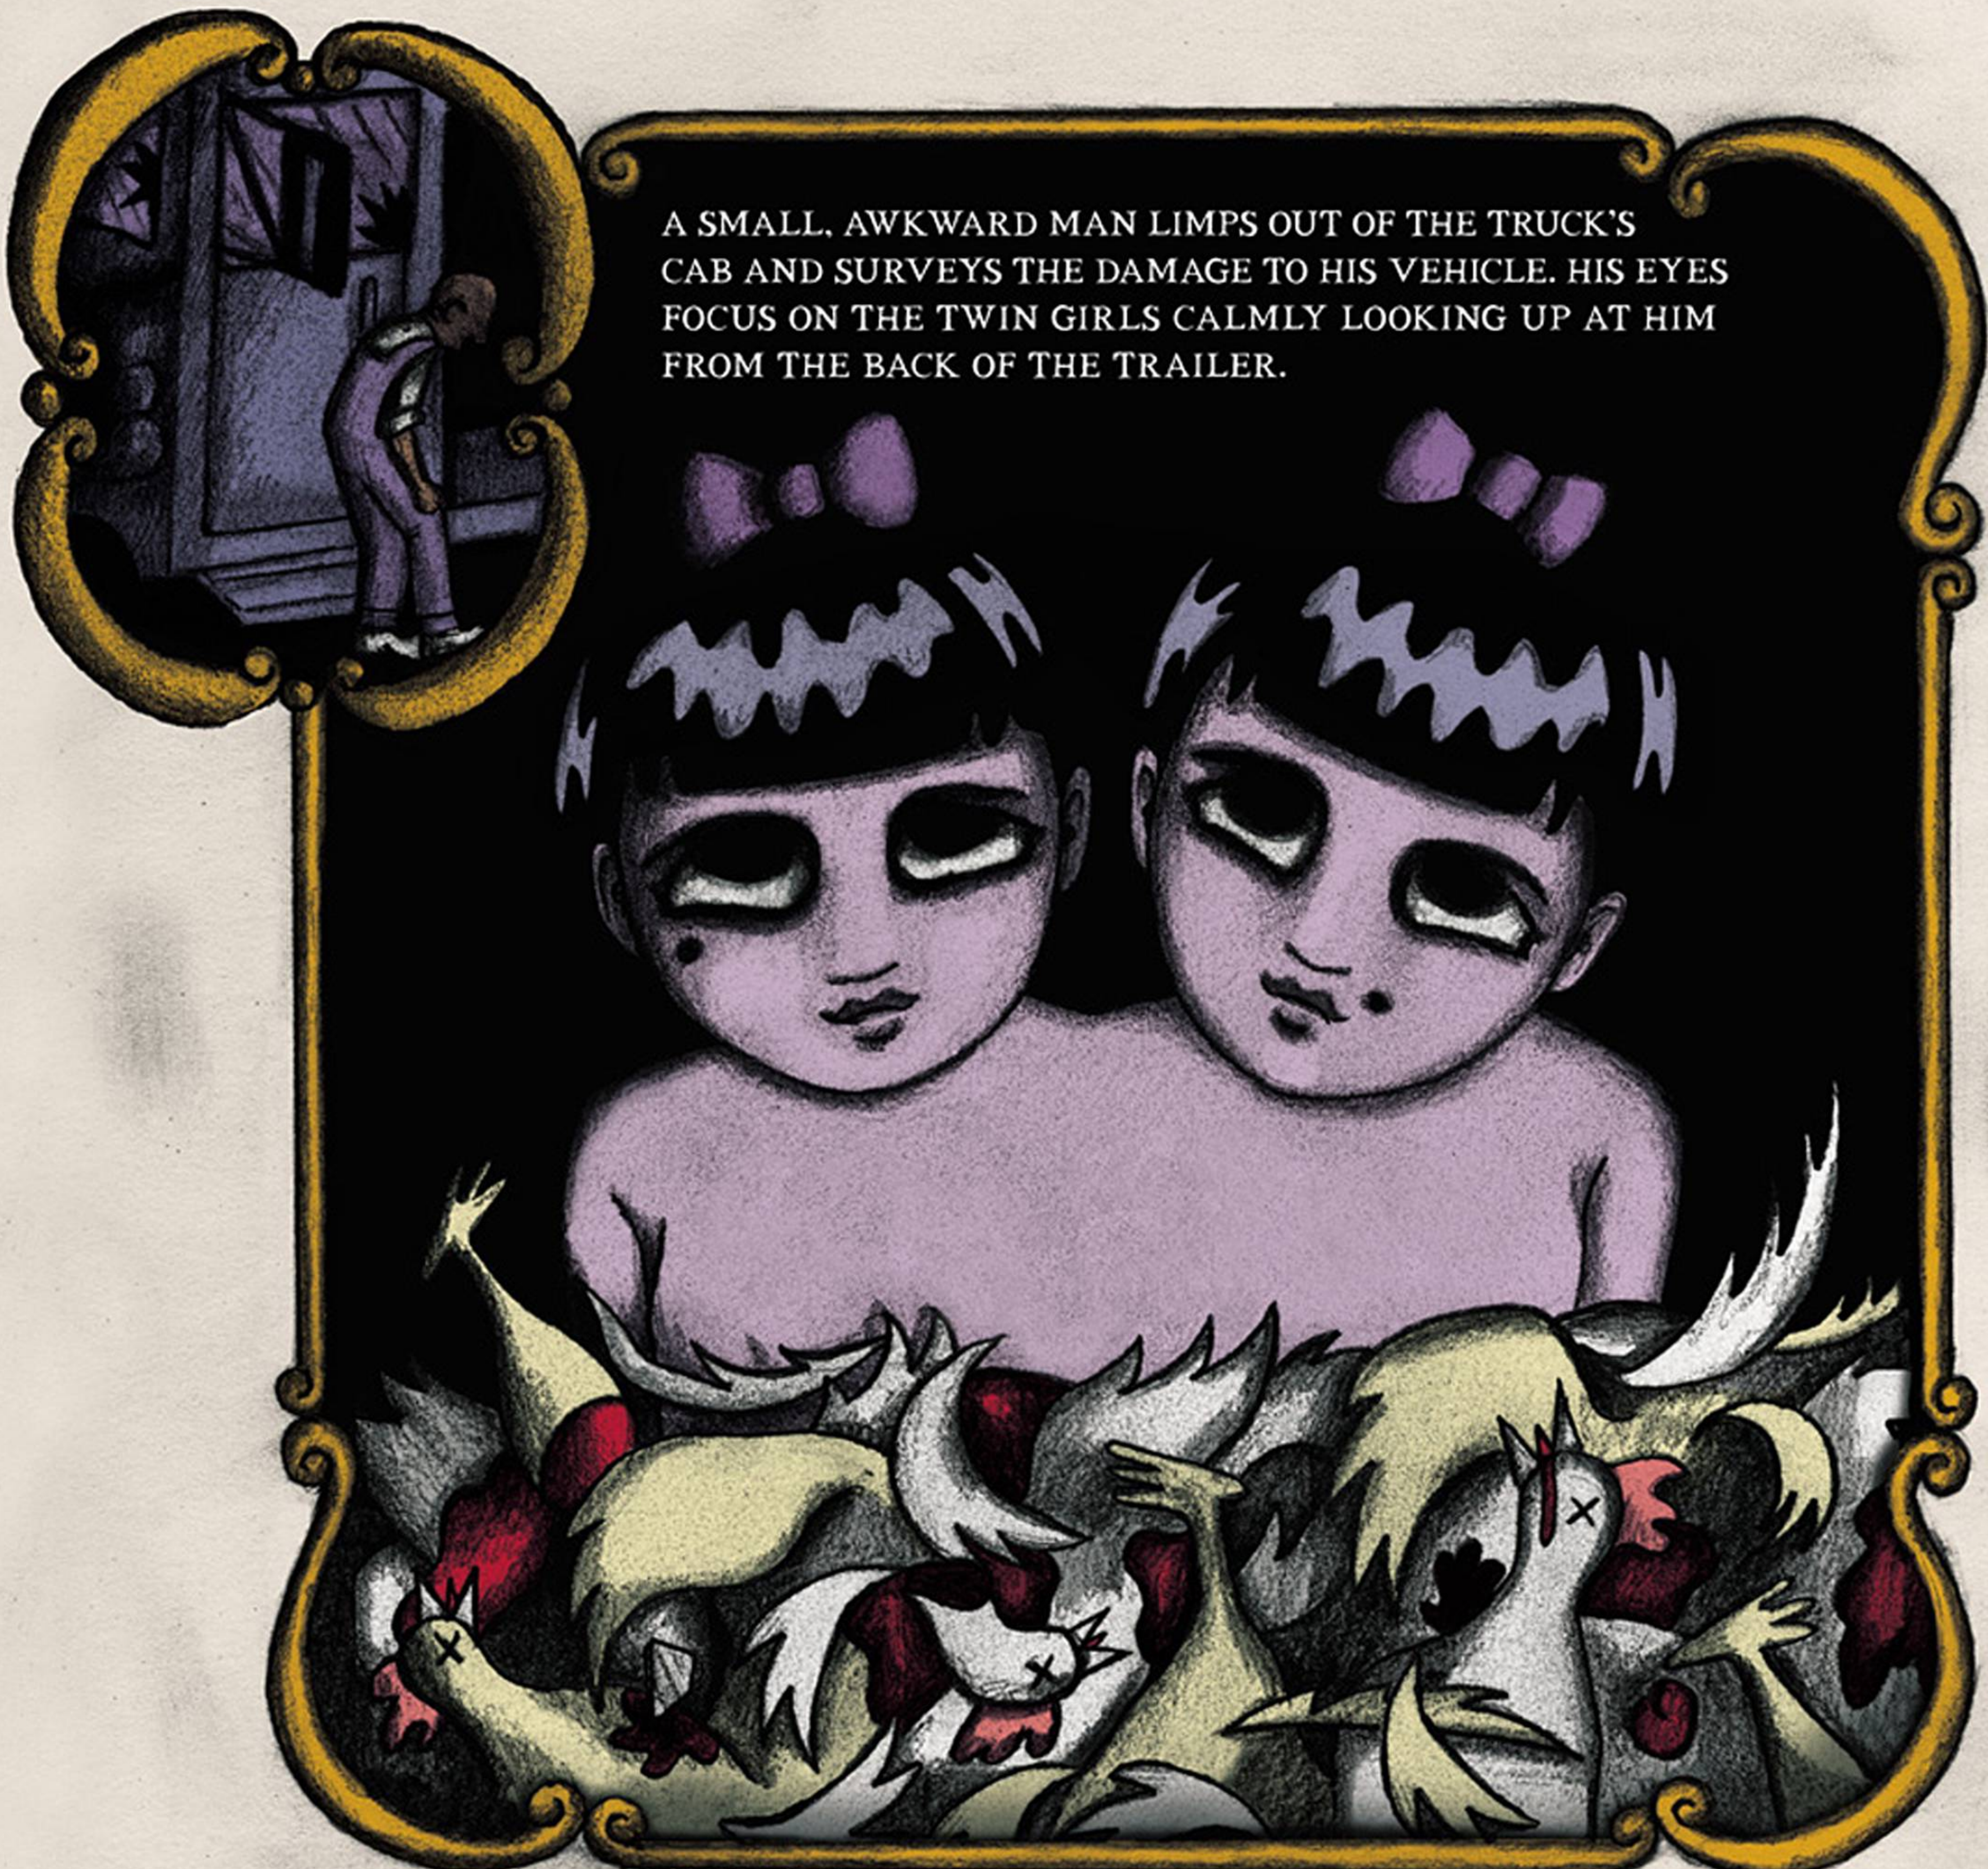
THE SHERIFF IS THROWN INTO THE WINDSHIELD AND KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS.
HE WILL DIE THIRTY MINUTES LATER FROM LOSS OF BLOOD.



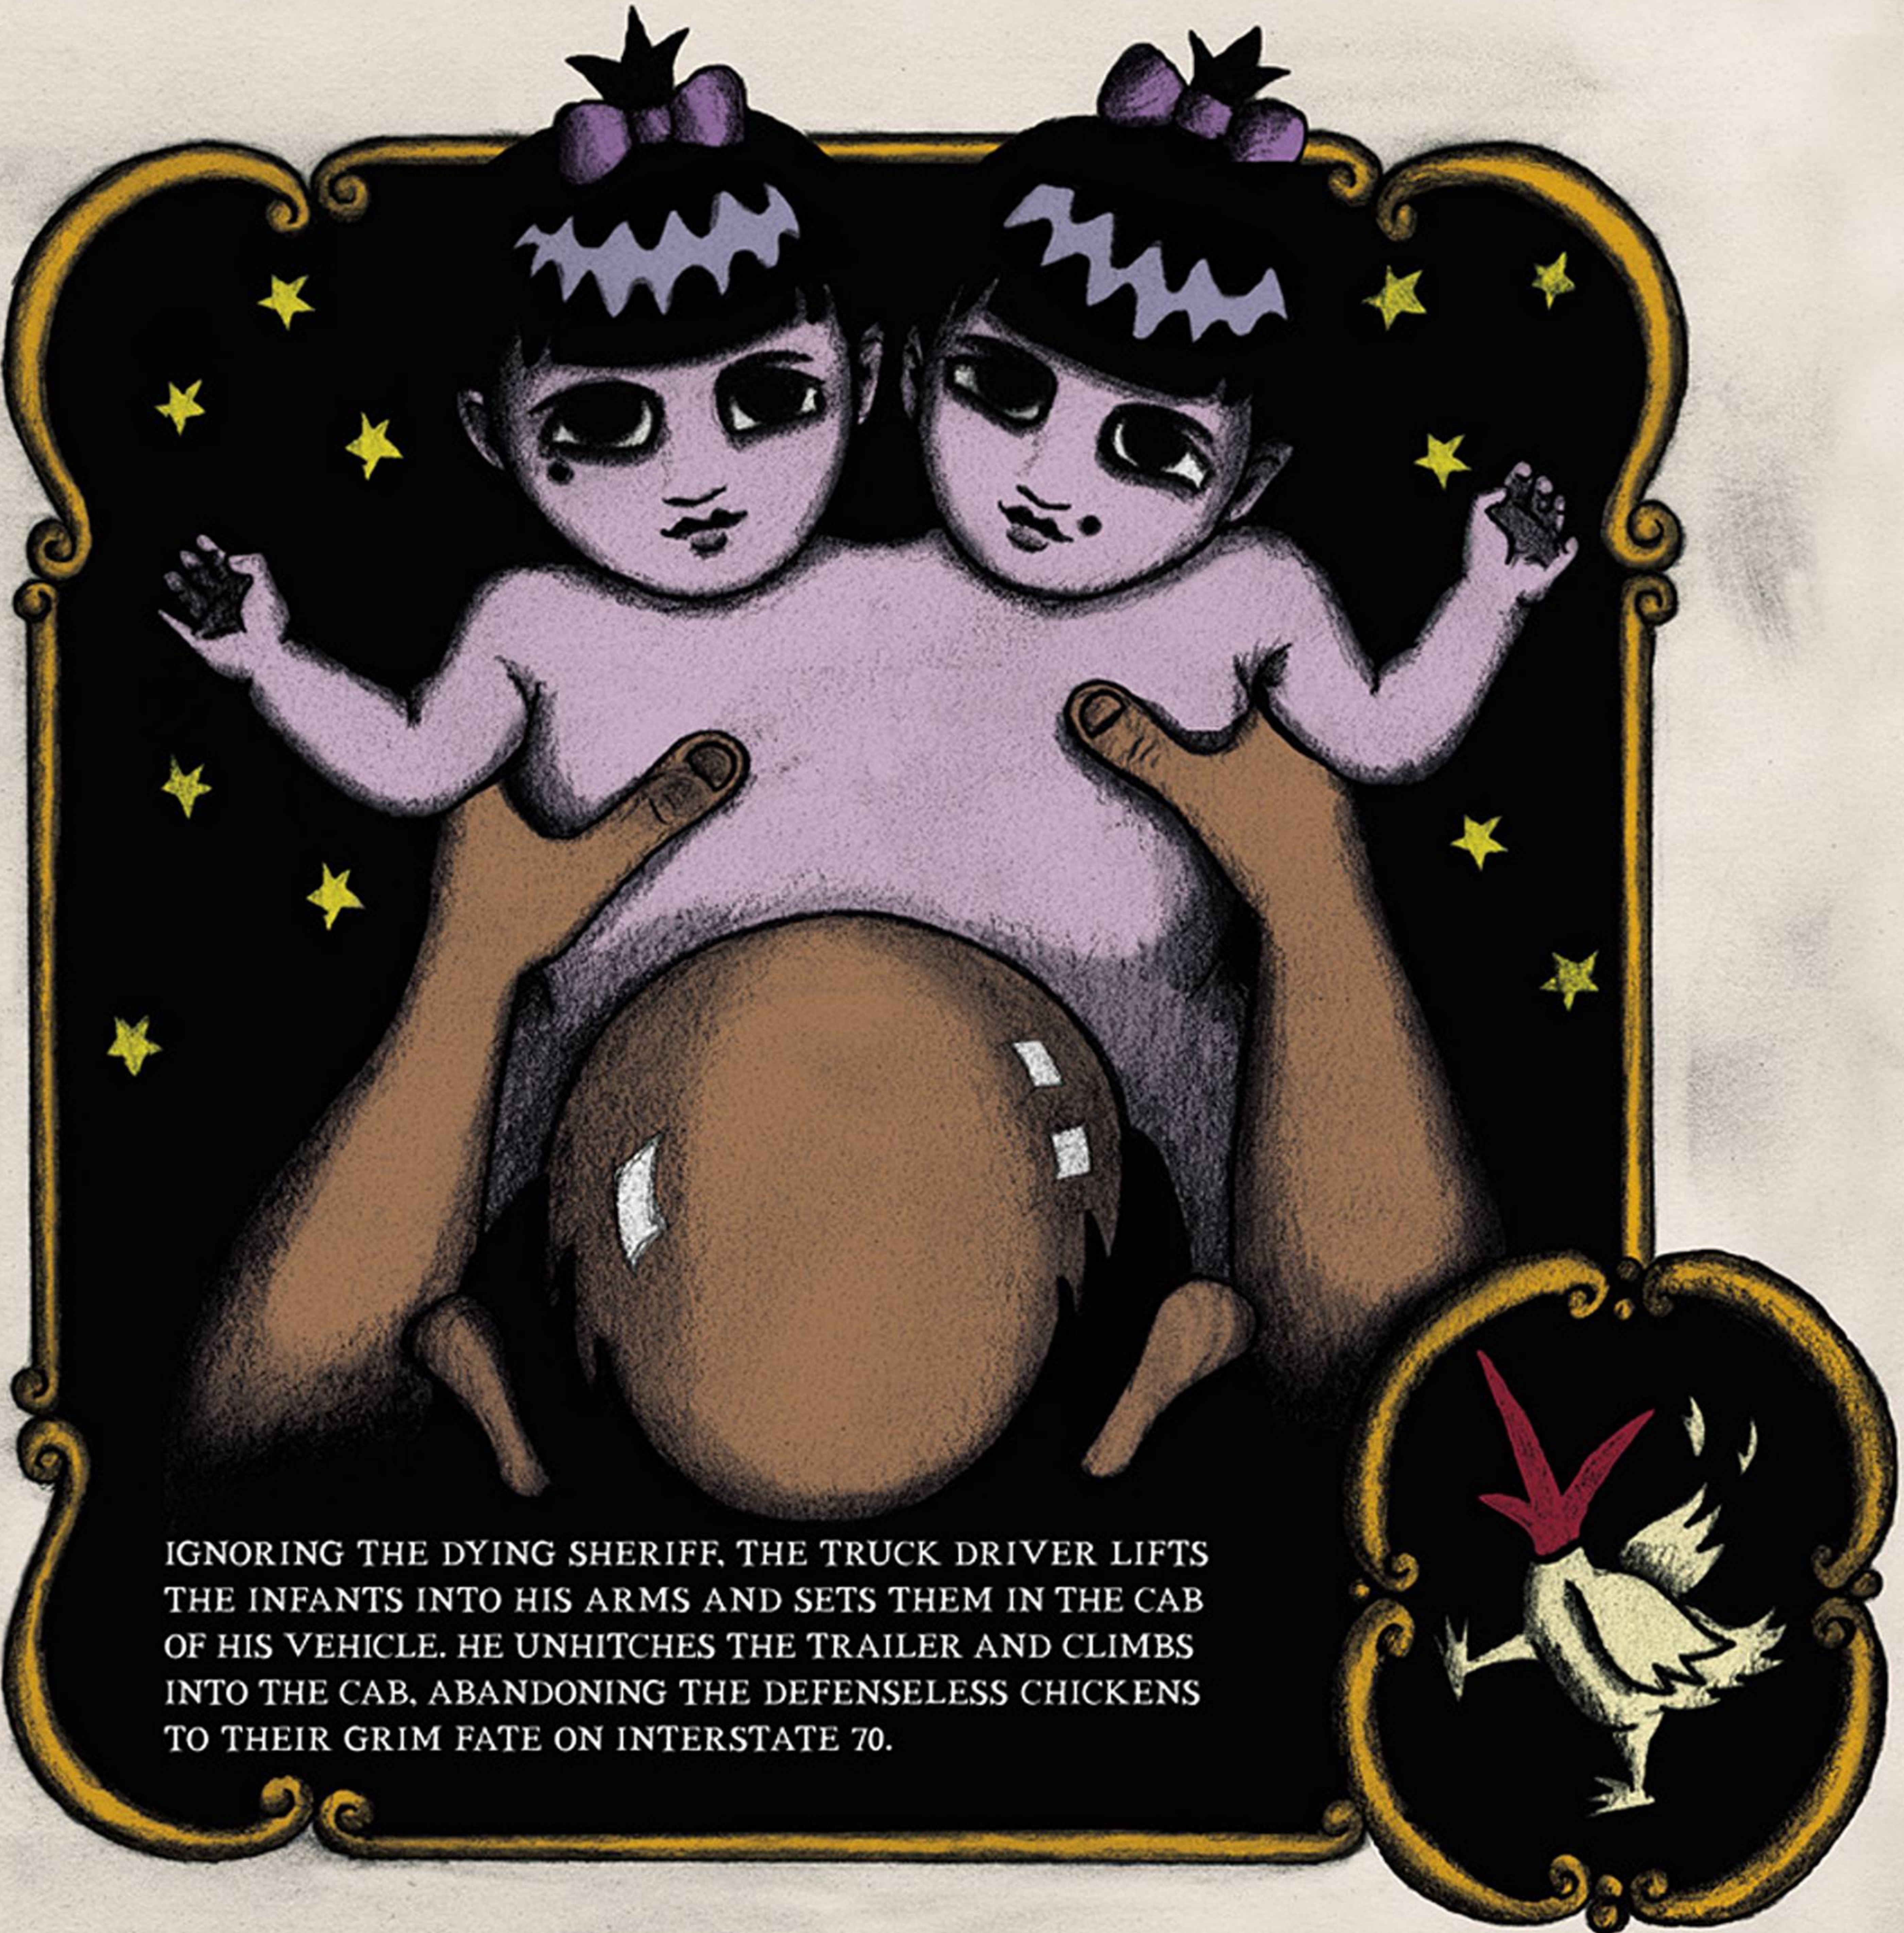


MEANWHILE, THE WORLD BECOMES A SEA OF FEATHERS AS THE TRUCK'S CARGO OF LIVE CHICKENS, MANY AMONG THEM NOW SERIOUSLY INJURED OR DEAD, SPILL INTO THE ROAD.

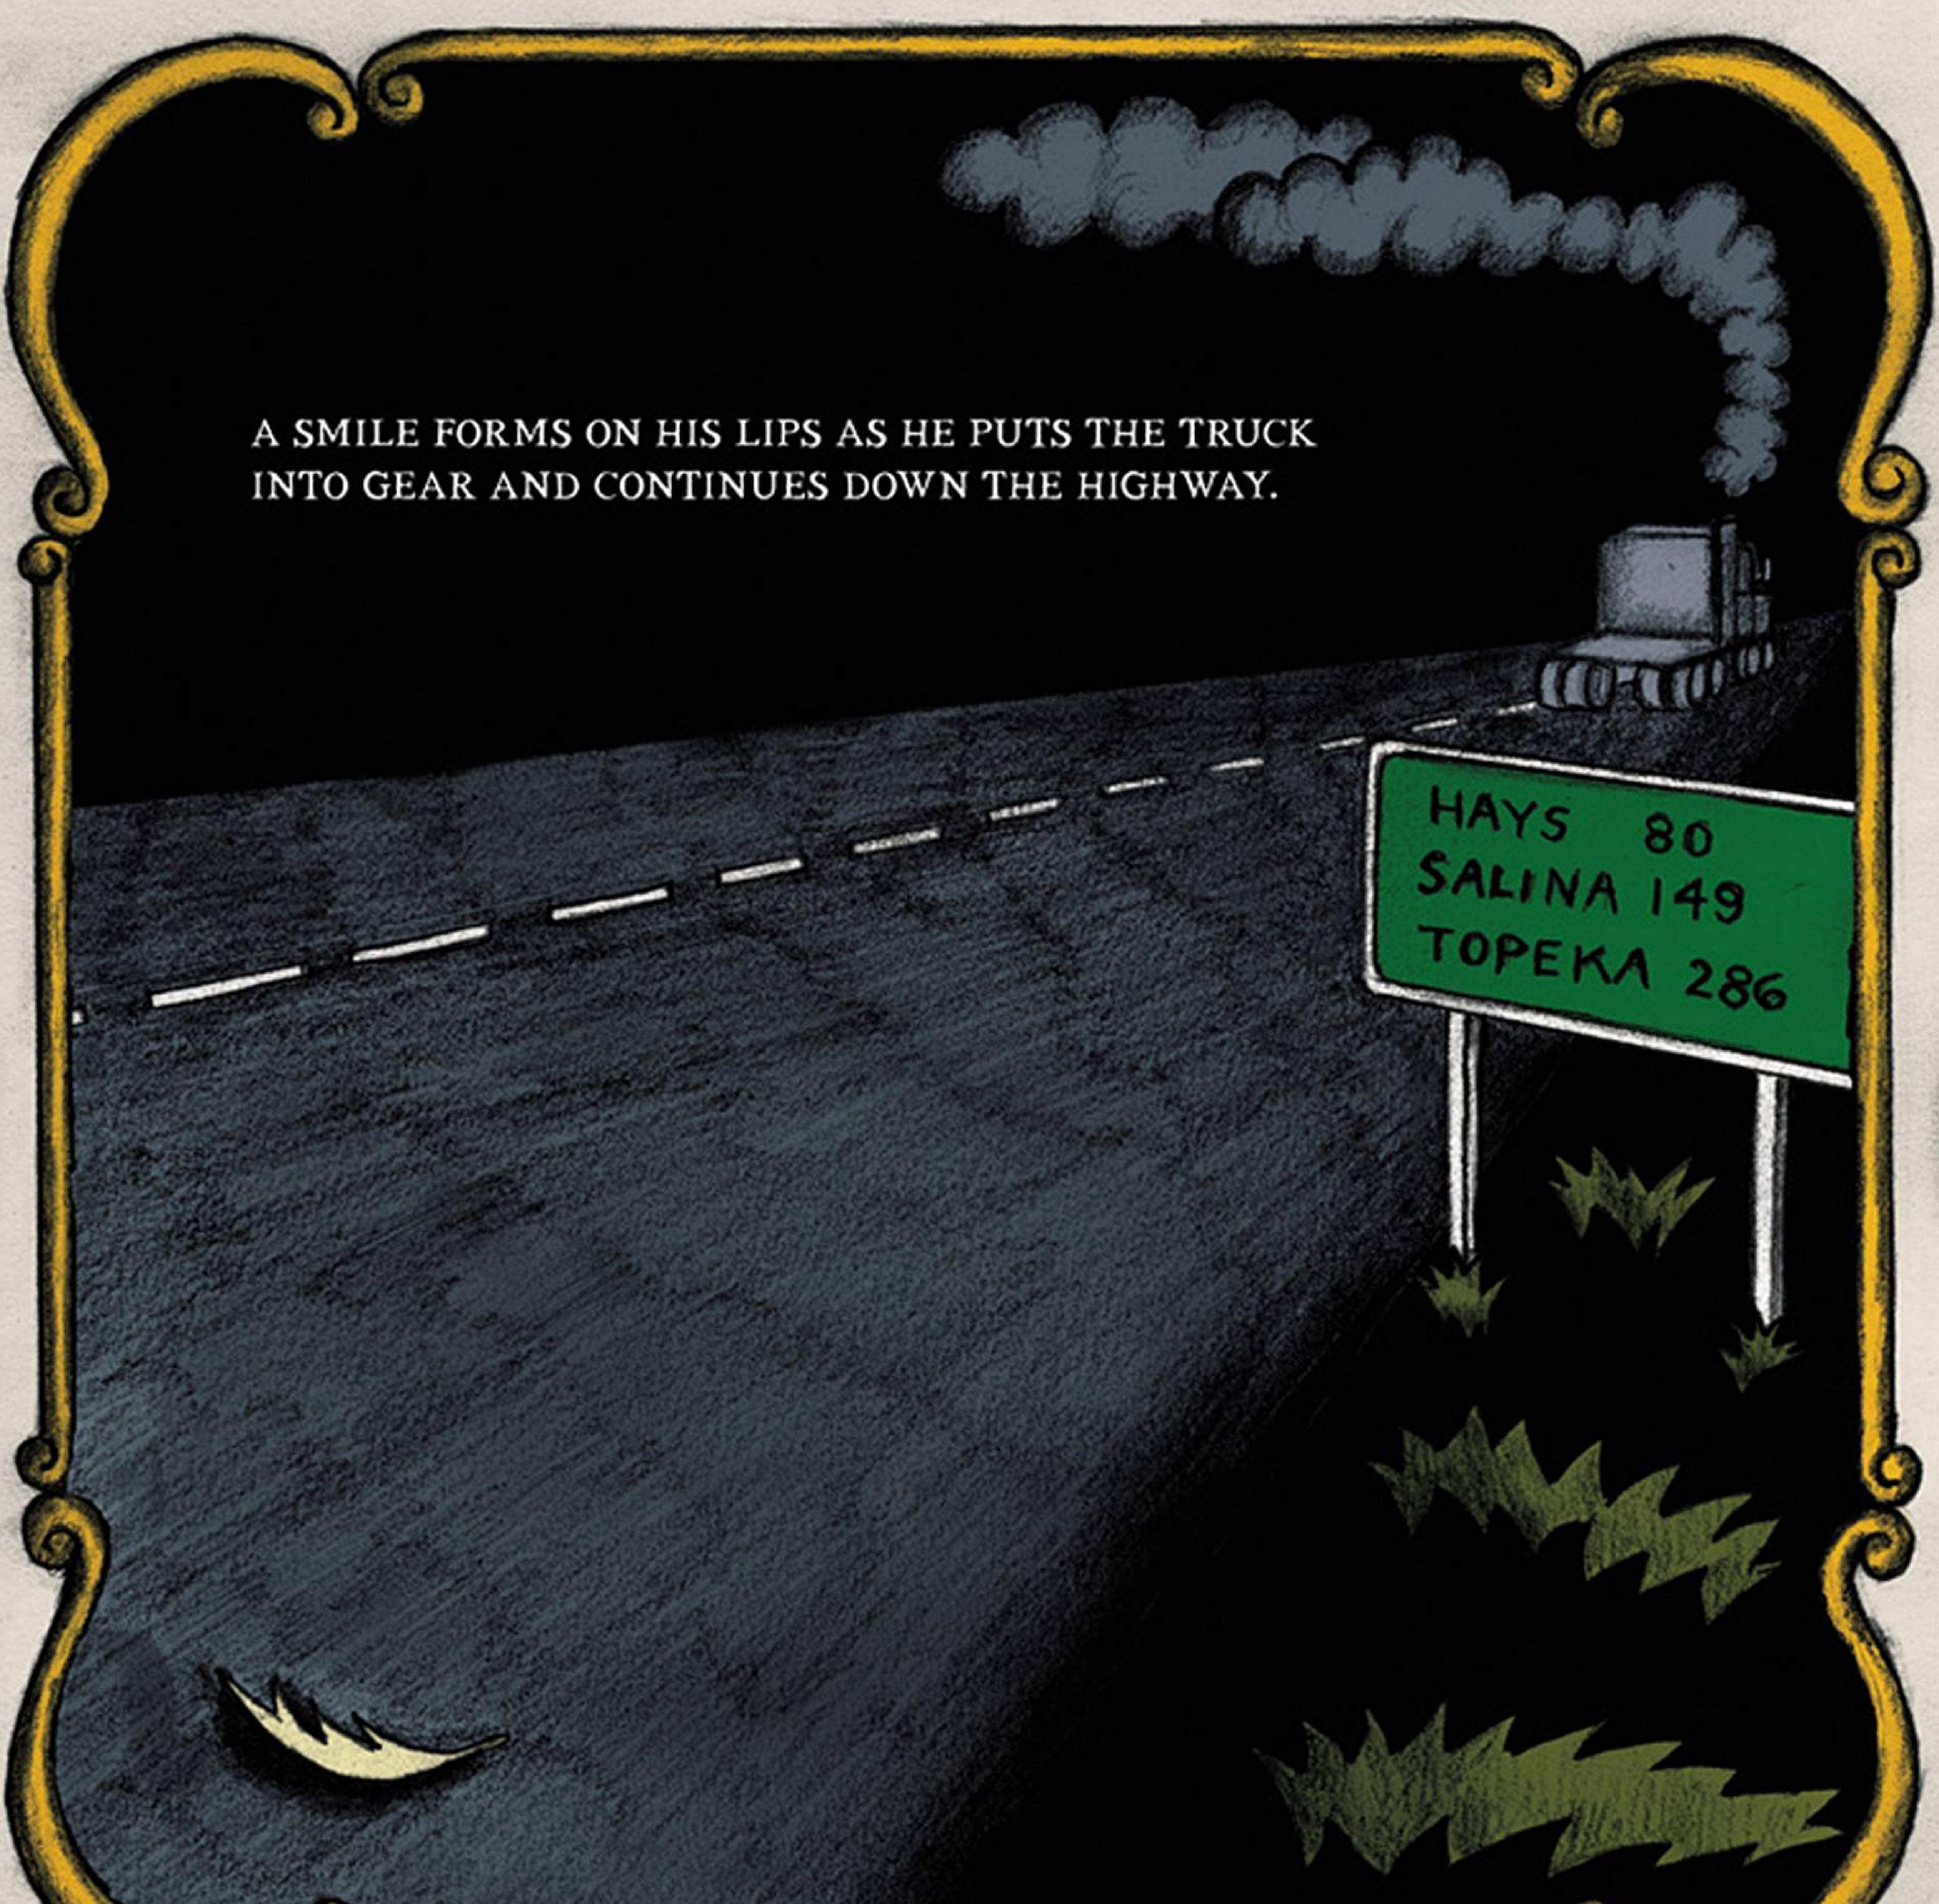




A SMALL, AWKWARD MAN LIMPS OUT OF THE TRUCK'S CAB AND SURVEYS THE DAMAGE TO HIS VEHICLE. HIS EYES FOCUS ON THE TWIN GIRLS CALMLY LOOKING UP AT HIM FROM THE BACK OF THE TRAILER.



IGNORING THE DYING SHERIFF, THE TRUCK DRIVER LIFTS THE INFANTS INTO HIS ARMS AND SETS THEM IN THE CAB OF HIS VEHICLE. HE UNHITCHES THE TRAILER AND CLIMBS INTO THE CAB, ABANDONING THE DEFENSELESS CHICKENS TO THEIR GRIM FATE ON INTERSTATE 70.



A SMILE FORMS ON HIS LIPS AS HE PUTS THE TRUCK INTO GEAR AND CONTINUES DOWN THE HIGHWAY.

TWIN SISTERS ARE WAITING

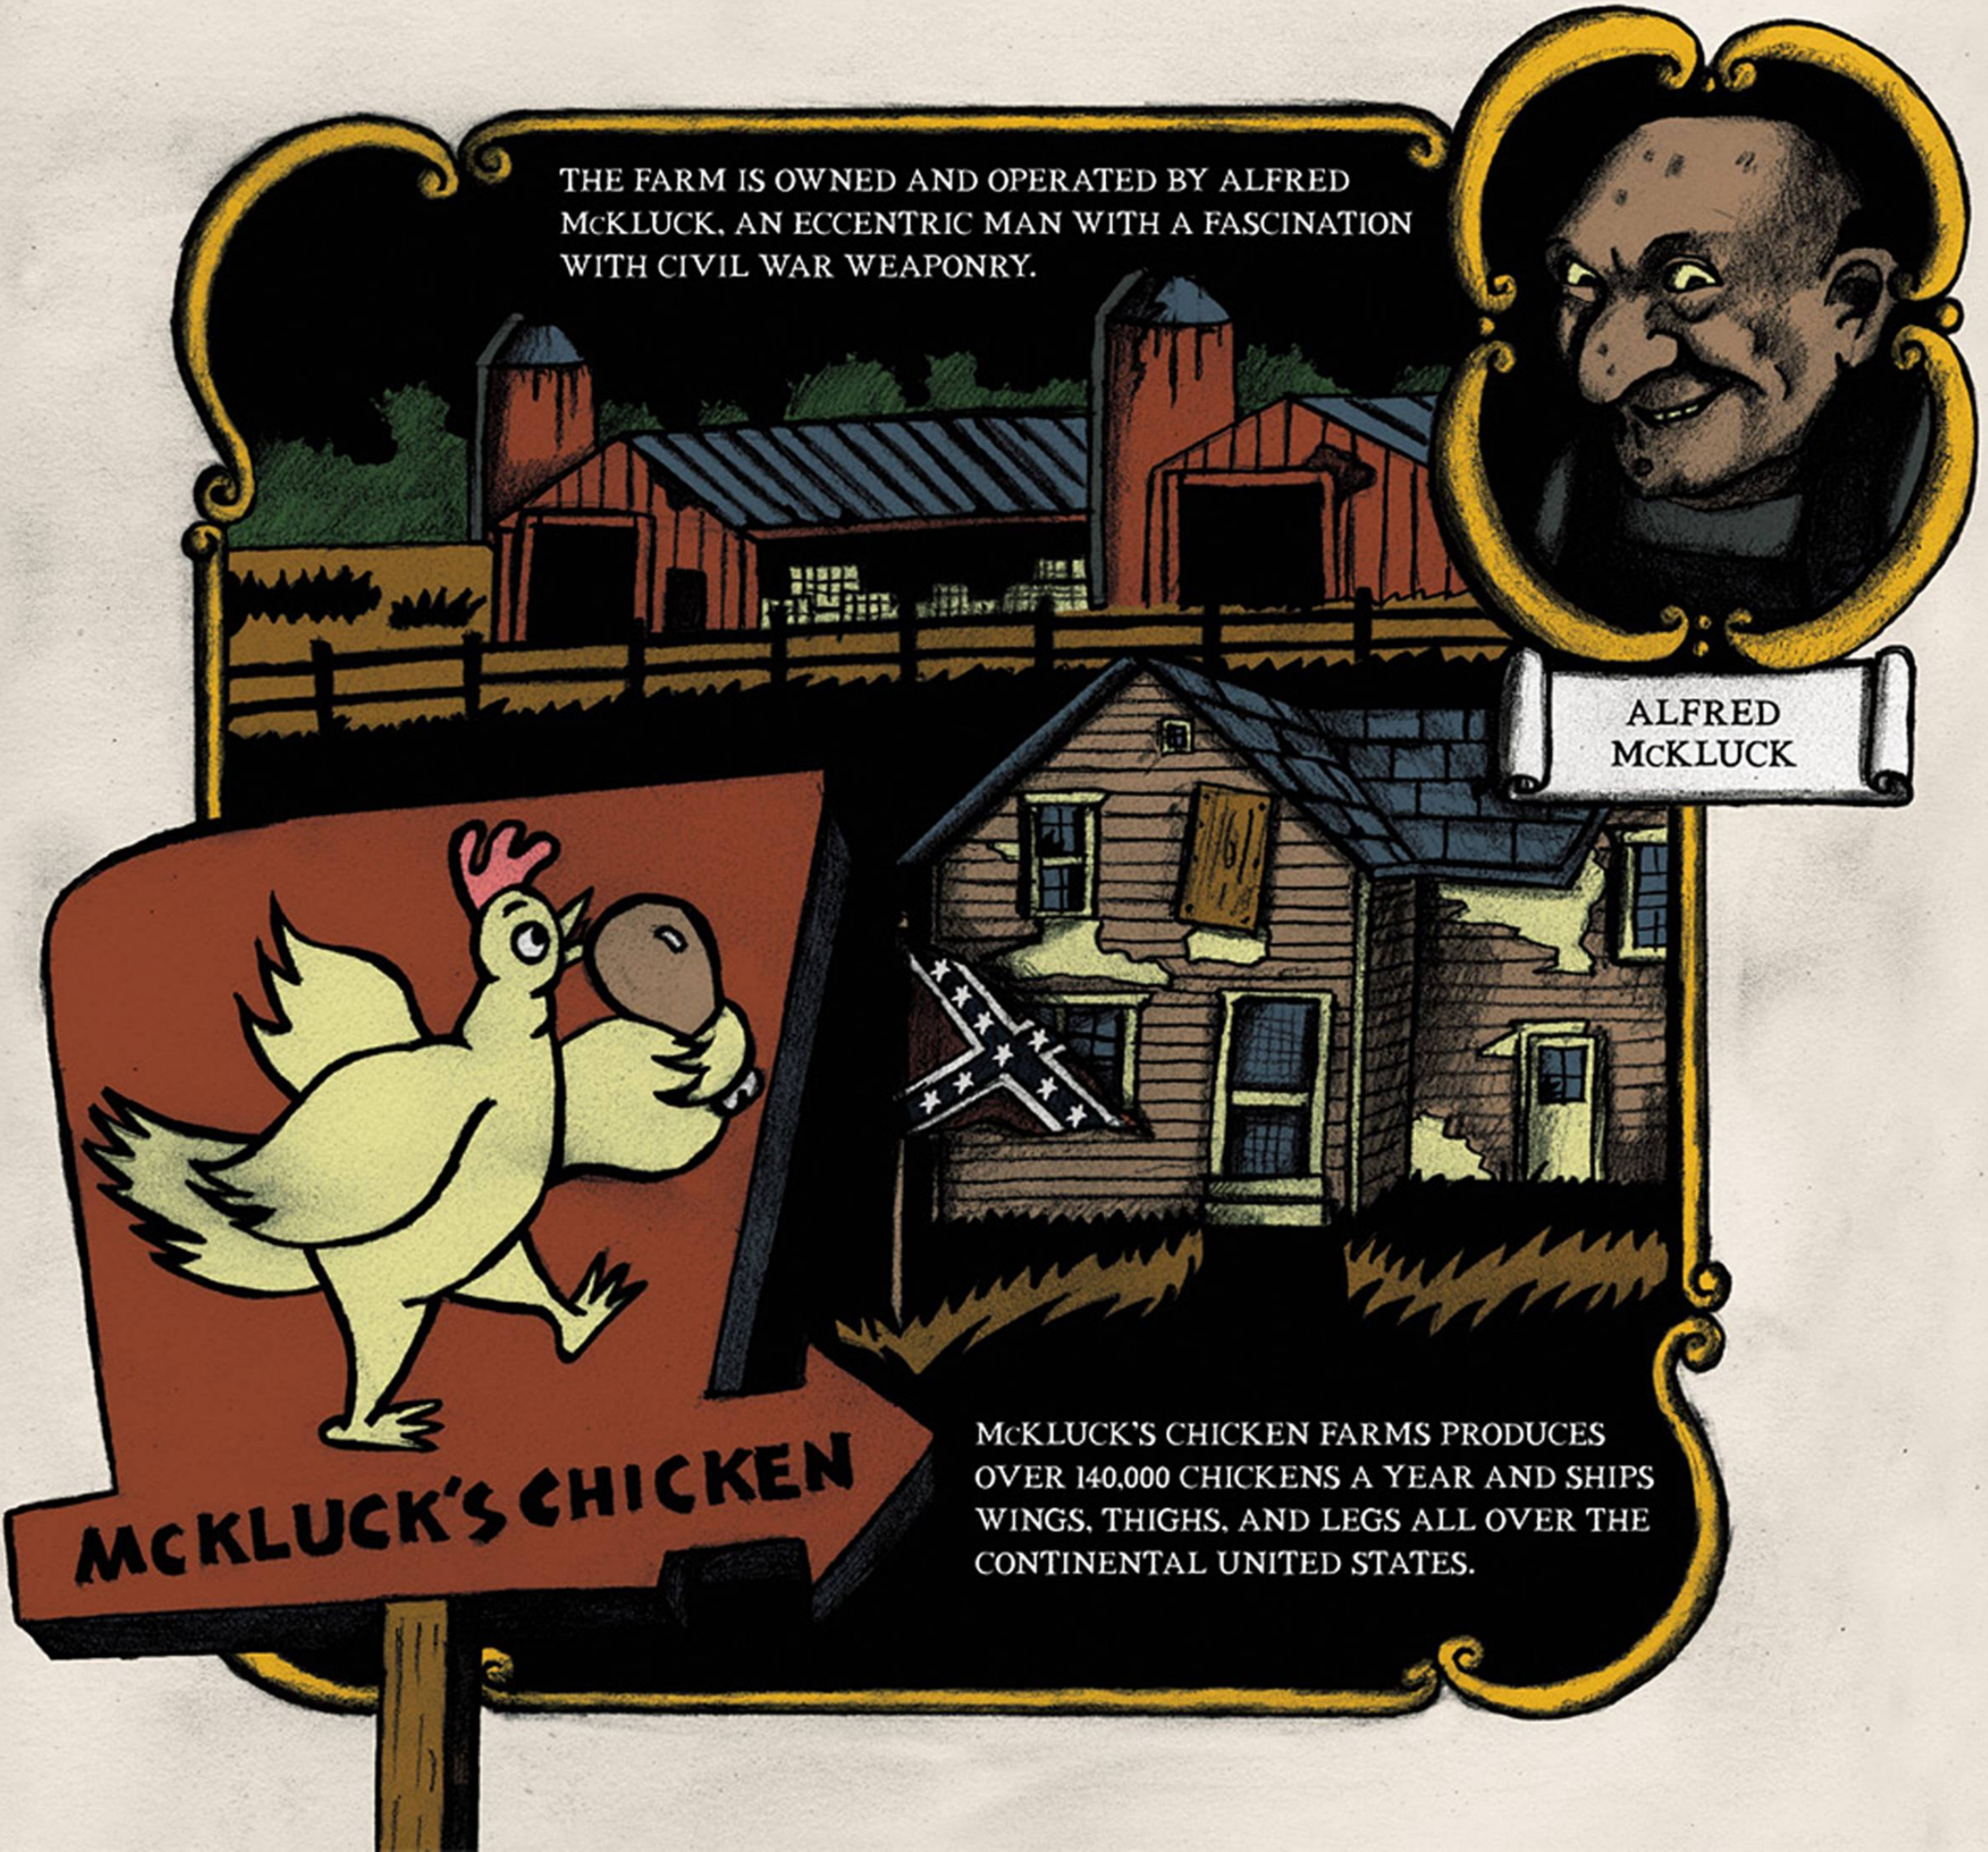
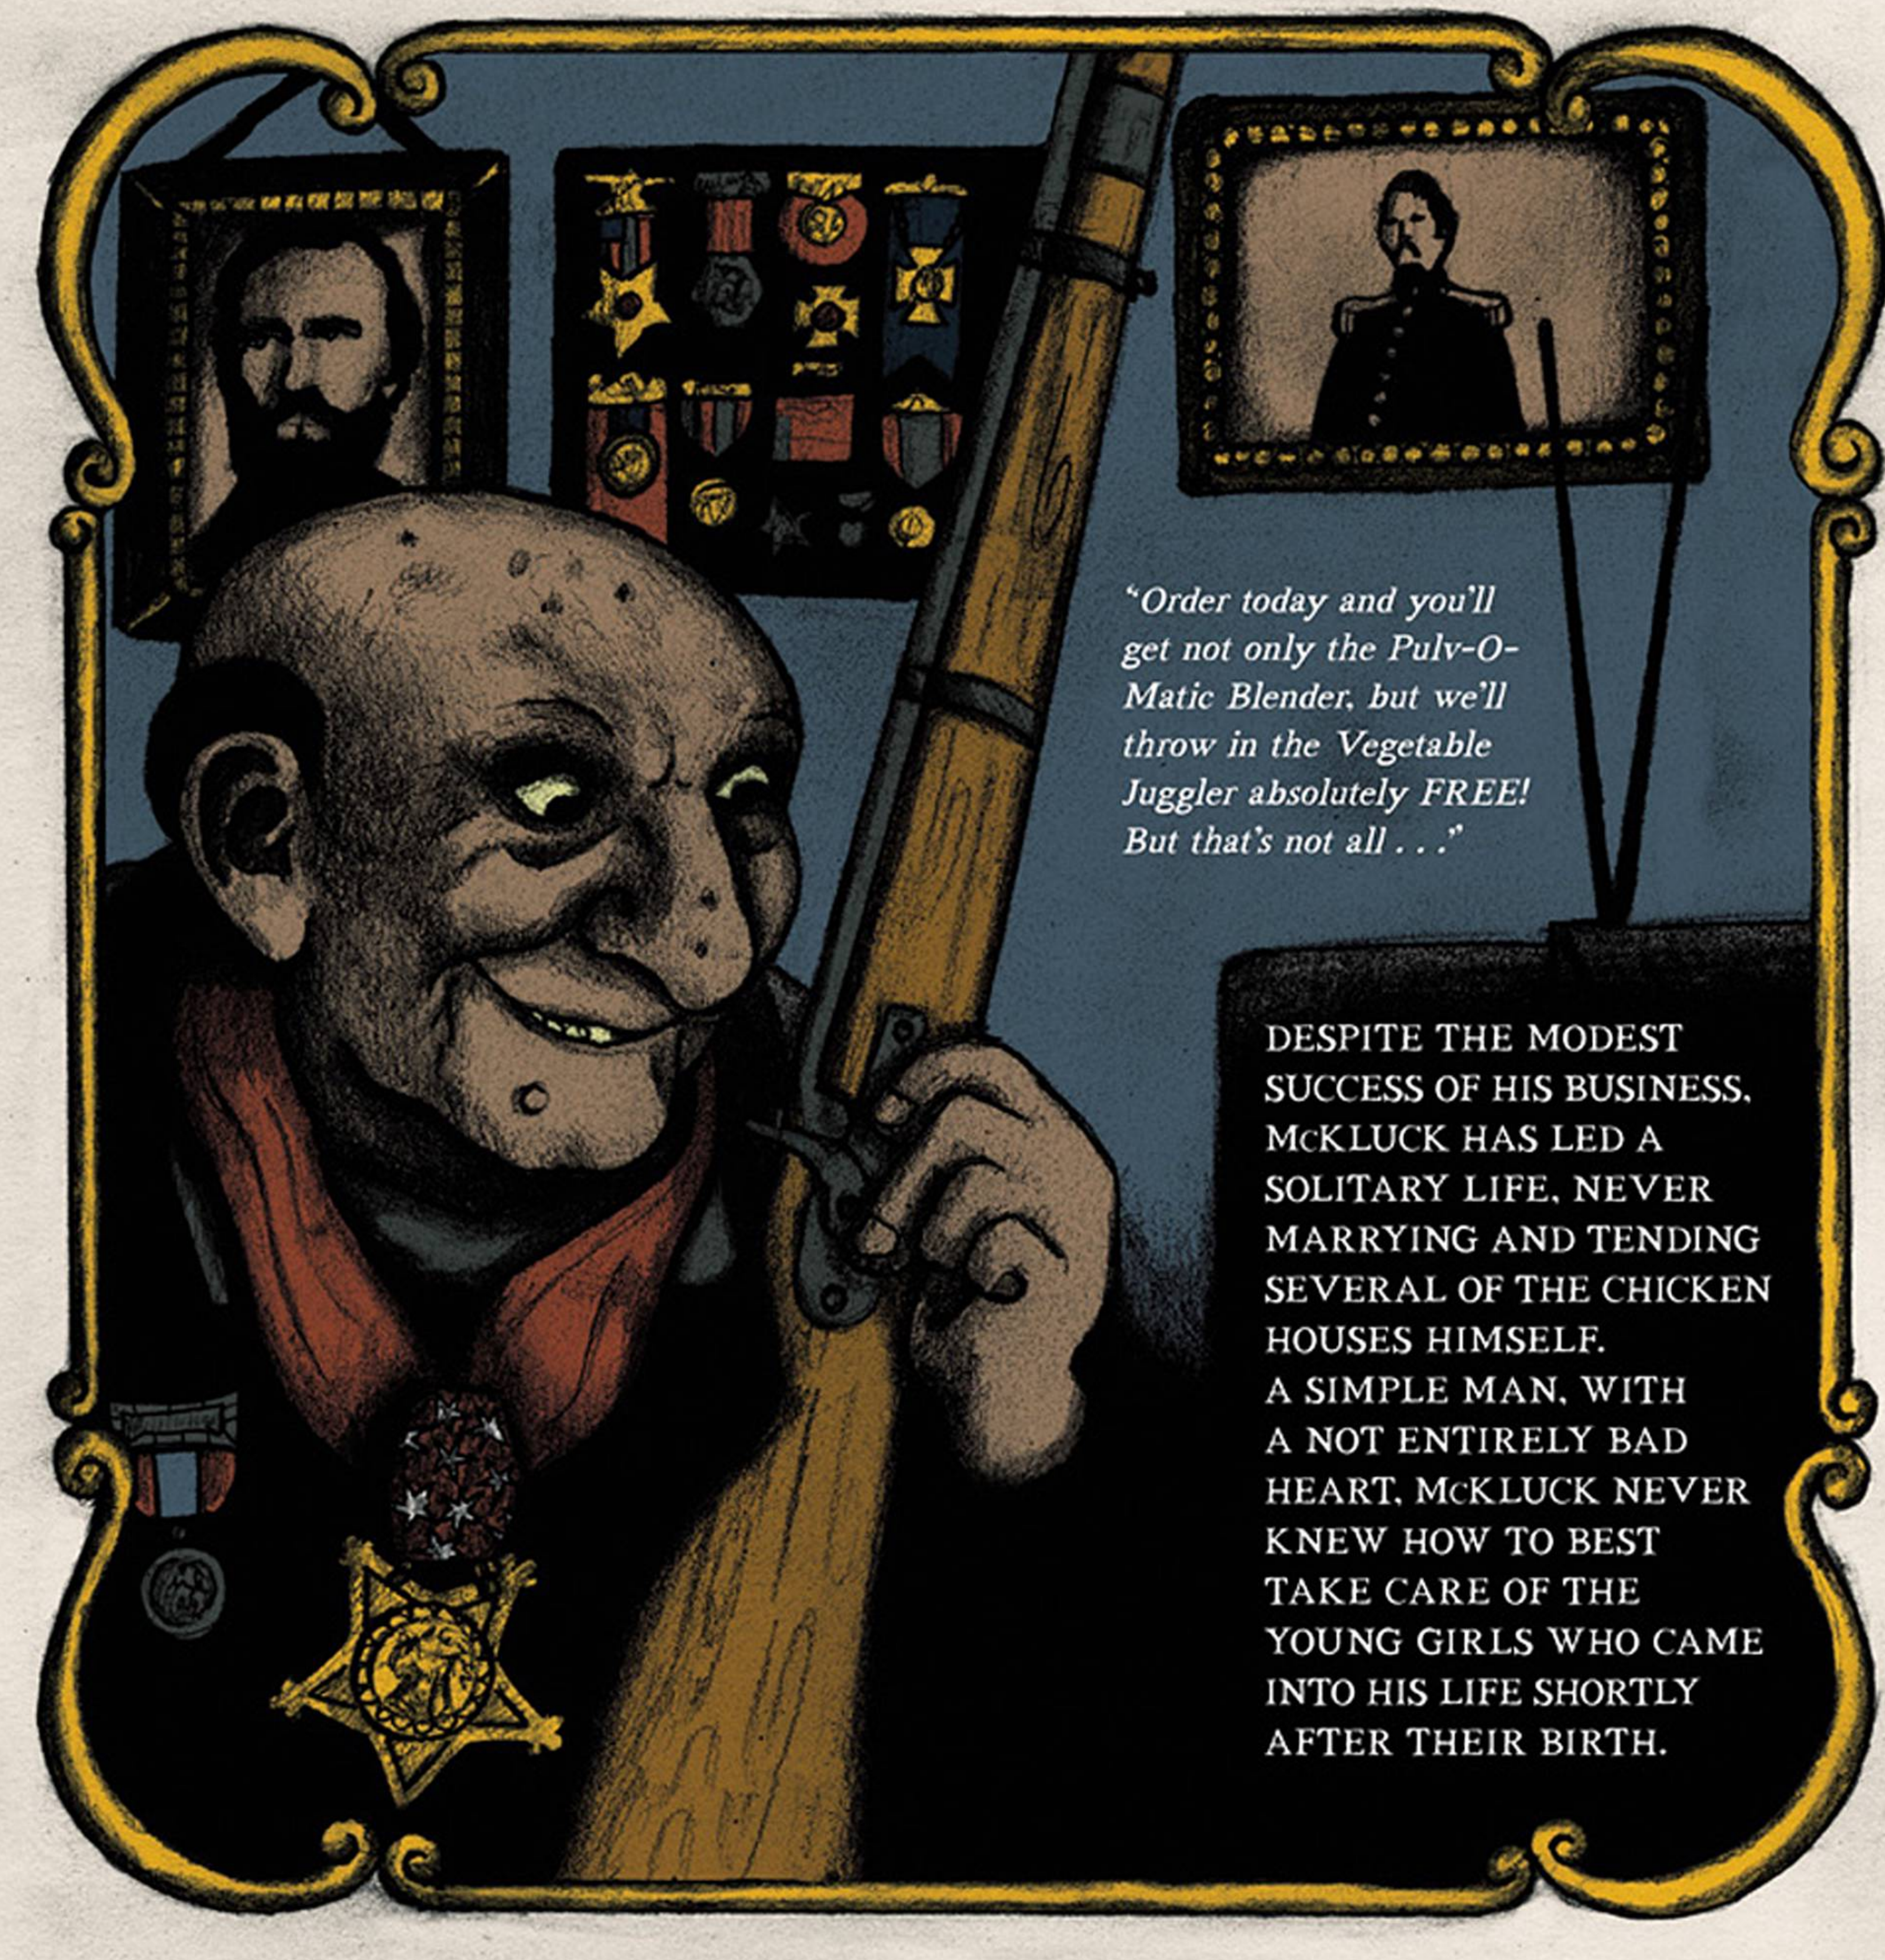
THE FARM IS OWNED AND OPERATED BY ALFRED McKLUCK, AN ECCENTRIC MAN WITH A FASCINATION WITH CIVIL WAR WEAPONRY.



ALFRED McKLUCK
McKLUCK'S CHICKEN

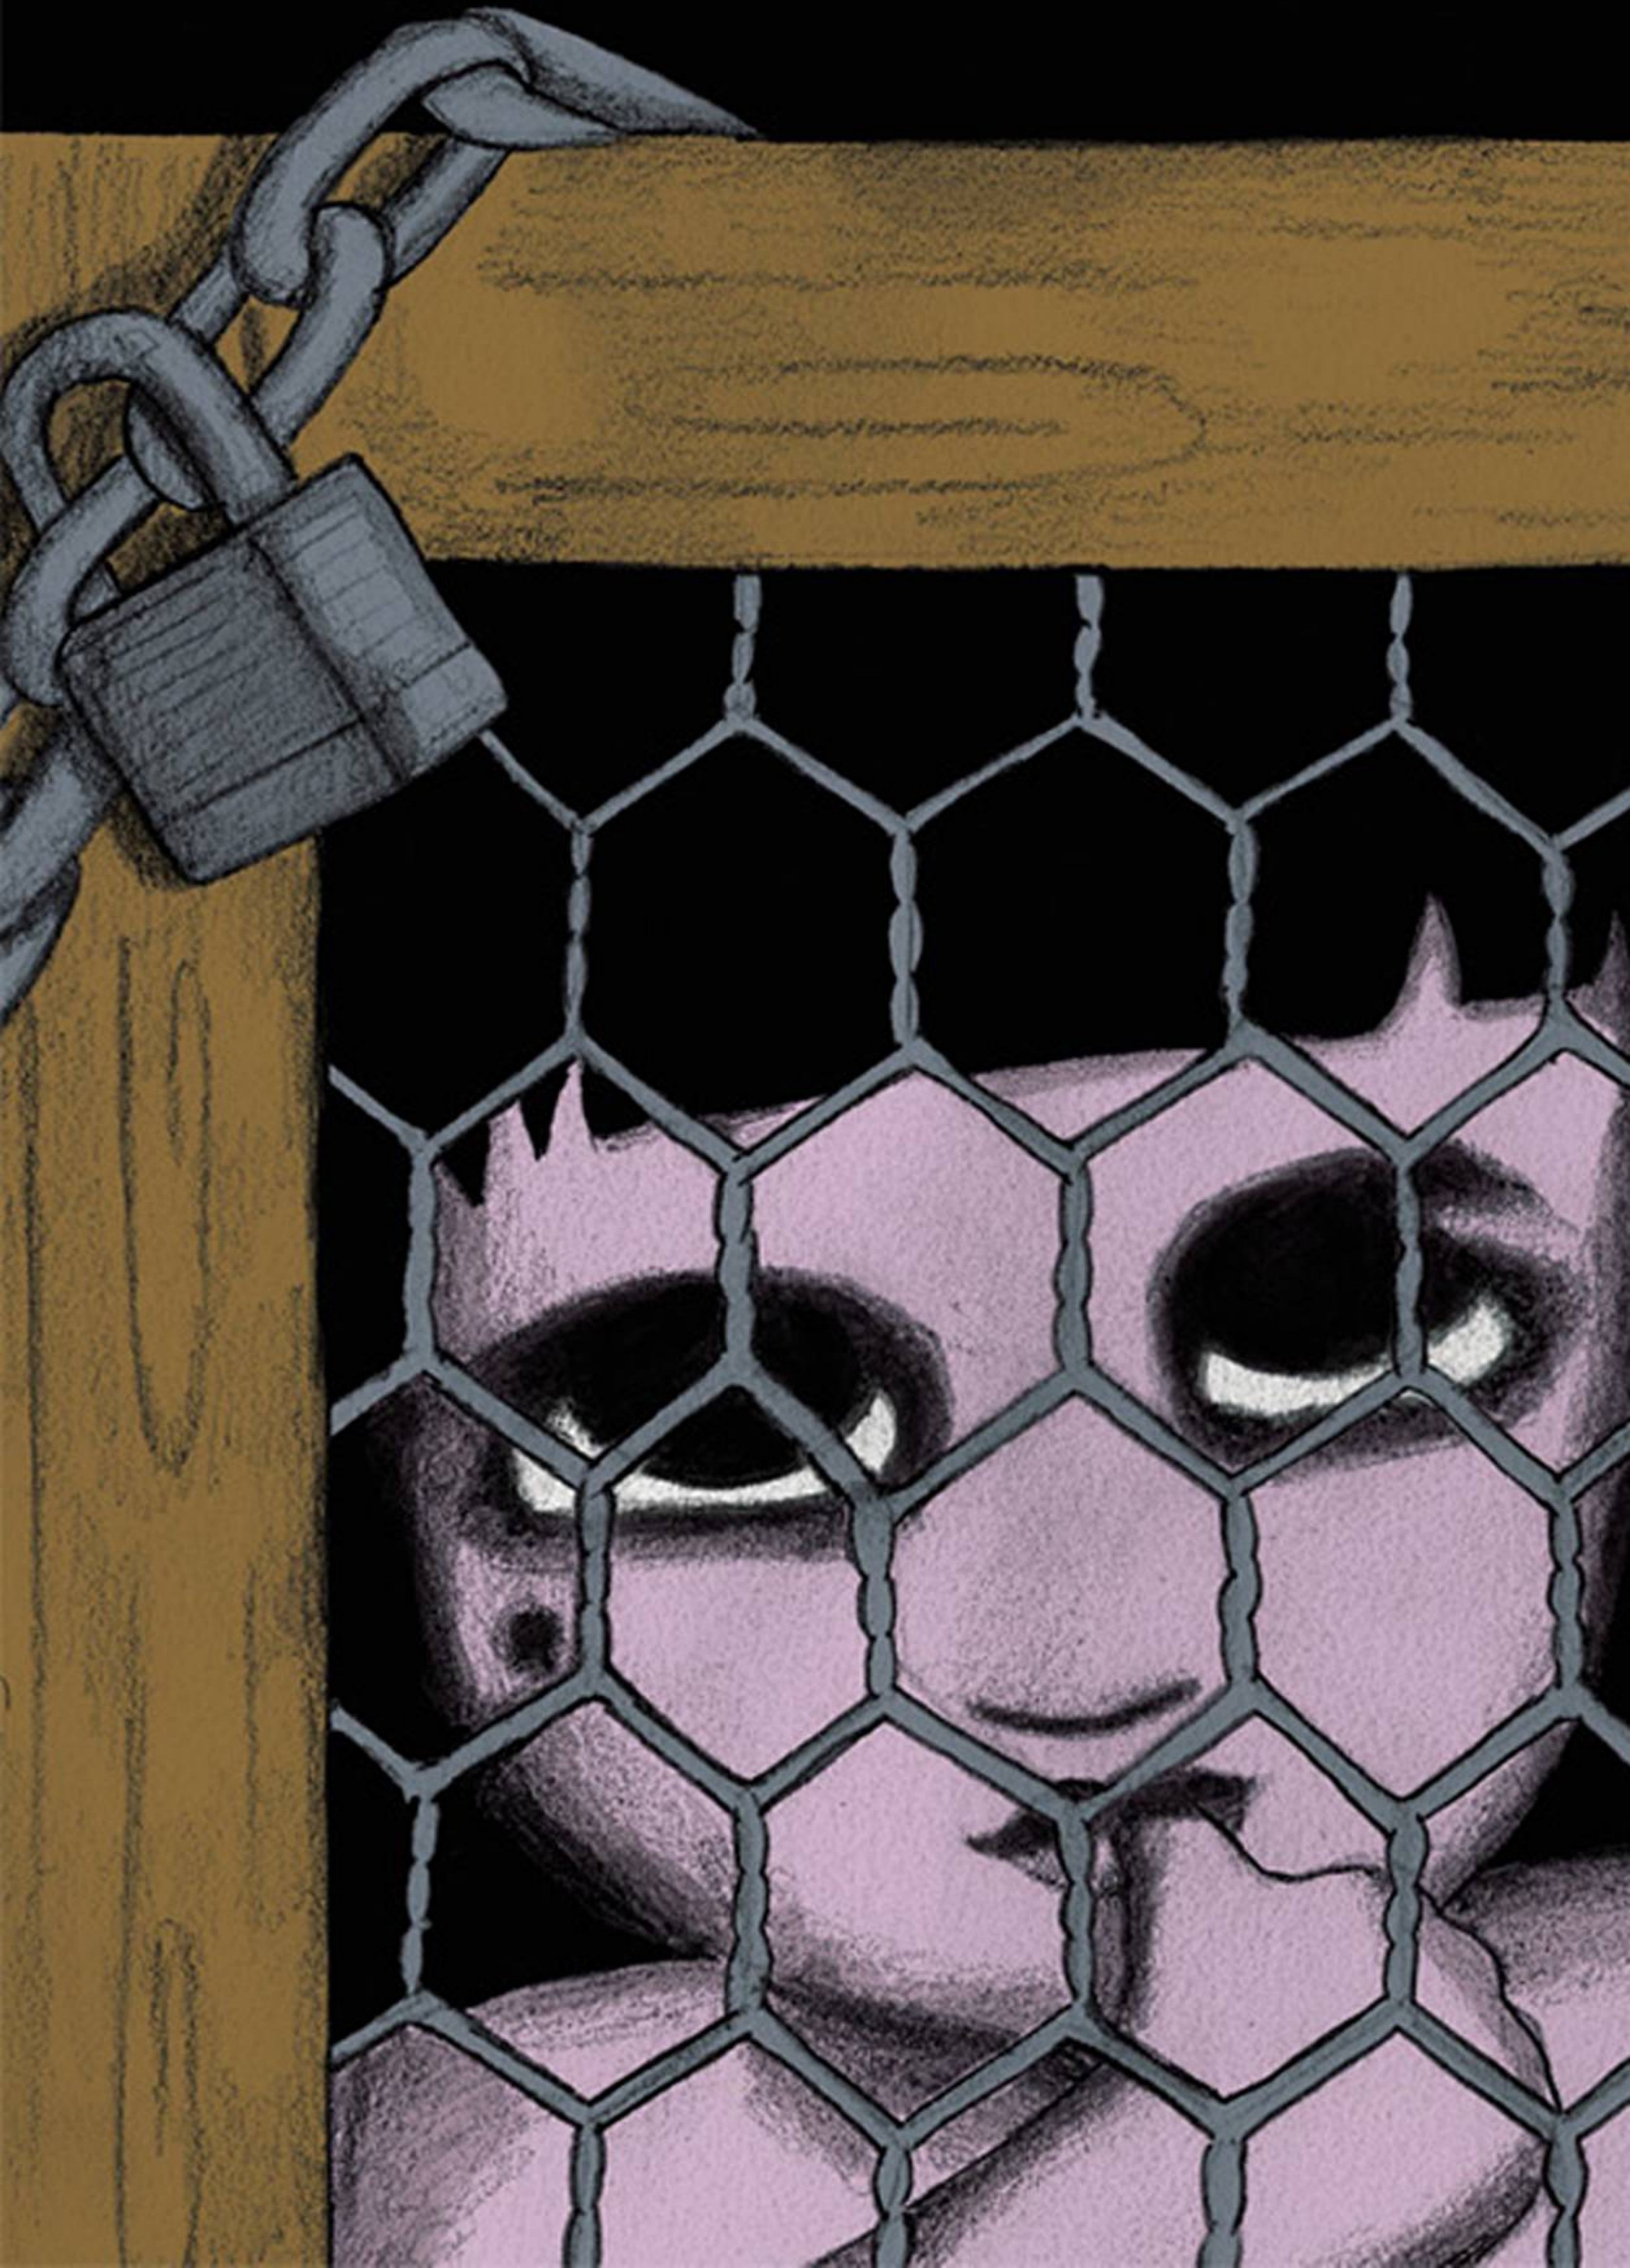
McKLUCK'S CHICKEN FARMS PRODUCES OVER 140,000 CHICKENS A YEAR AND SHIPS WINGS, THIGHS, AND LEGS ALL OVER THE CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES.

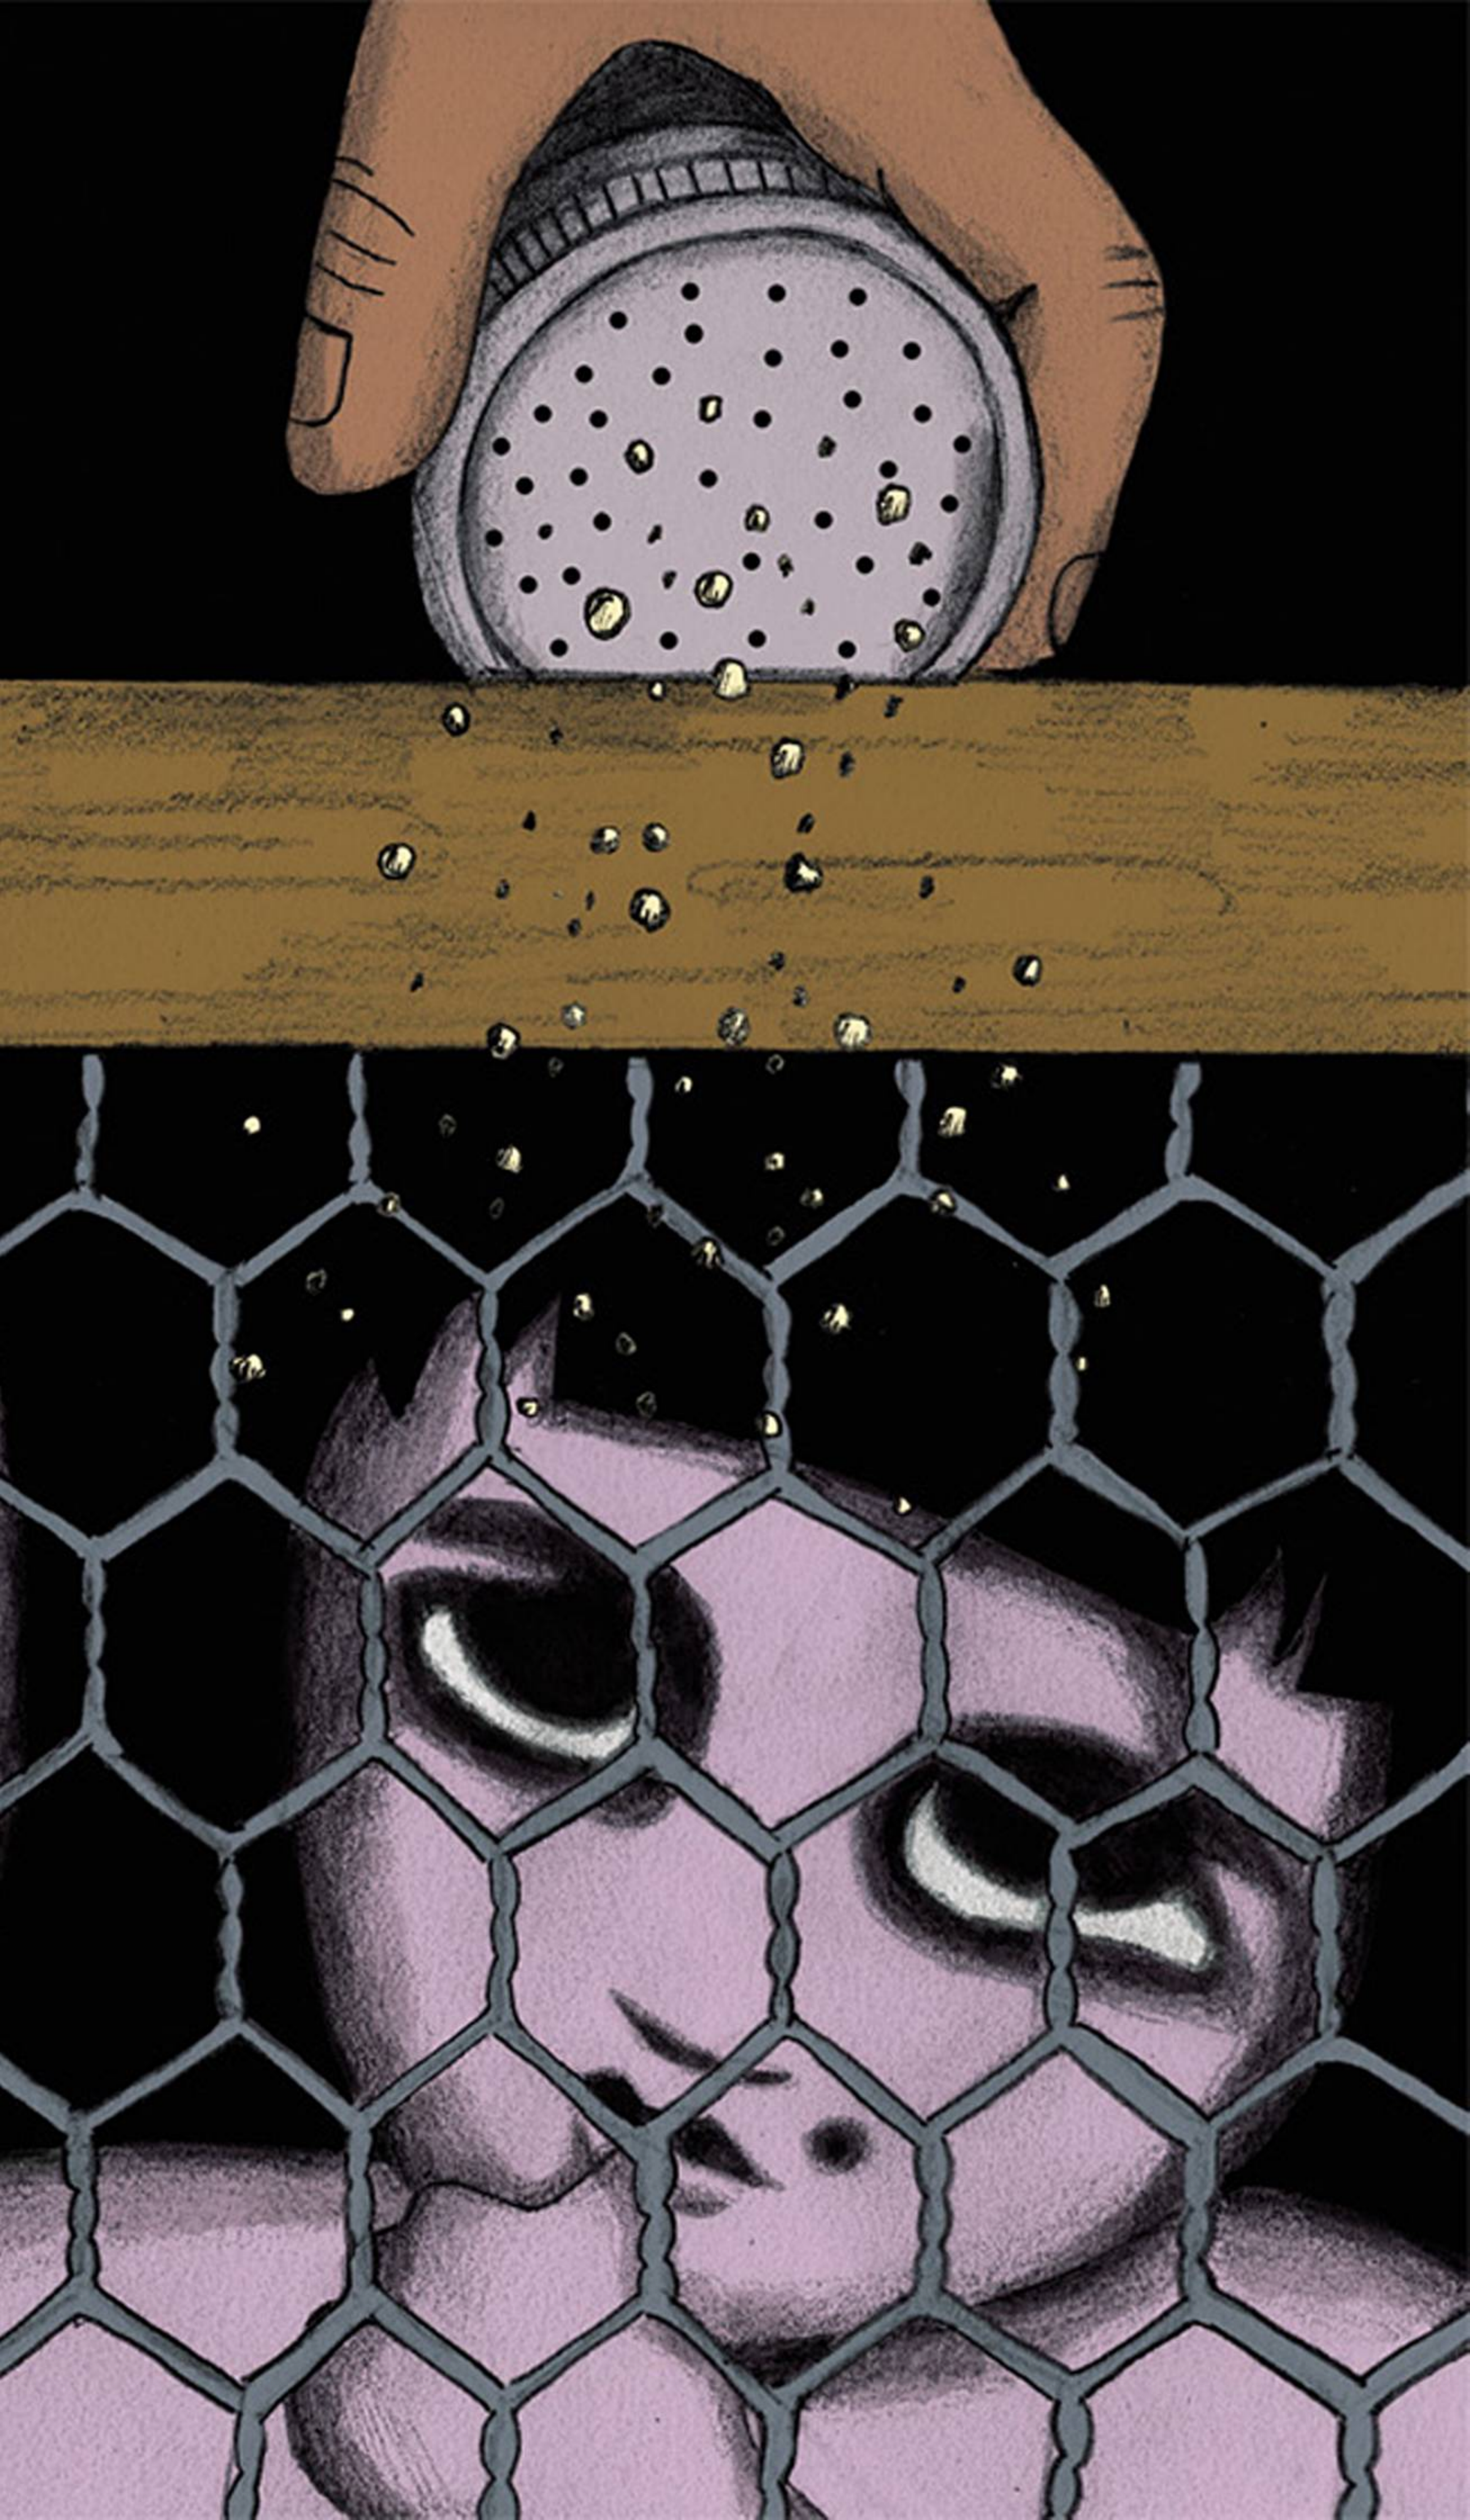


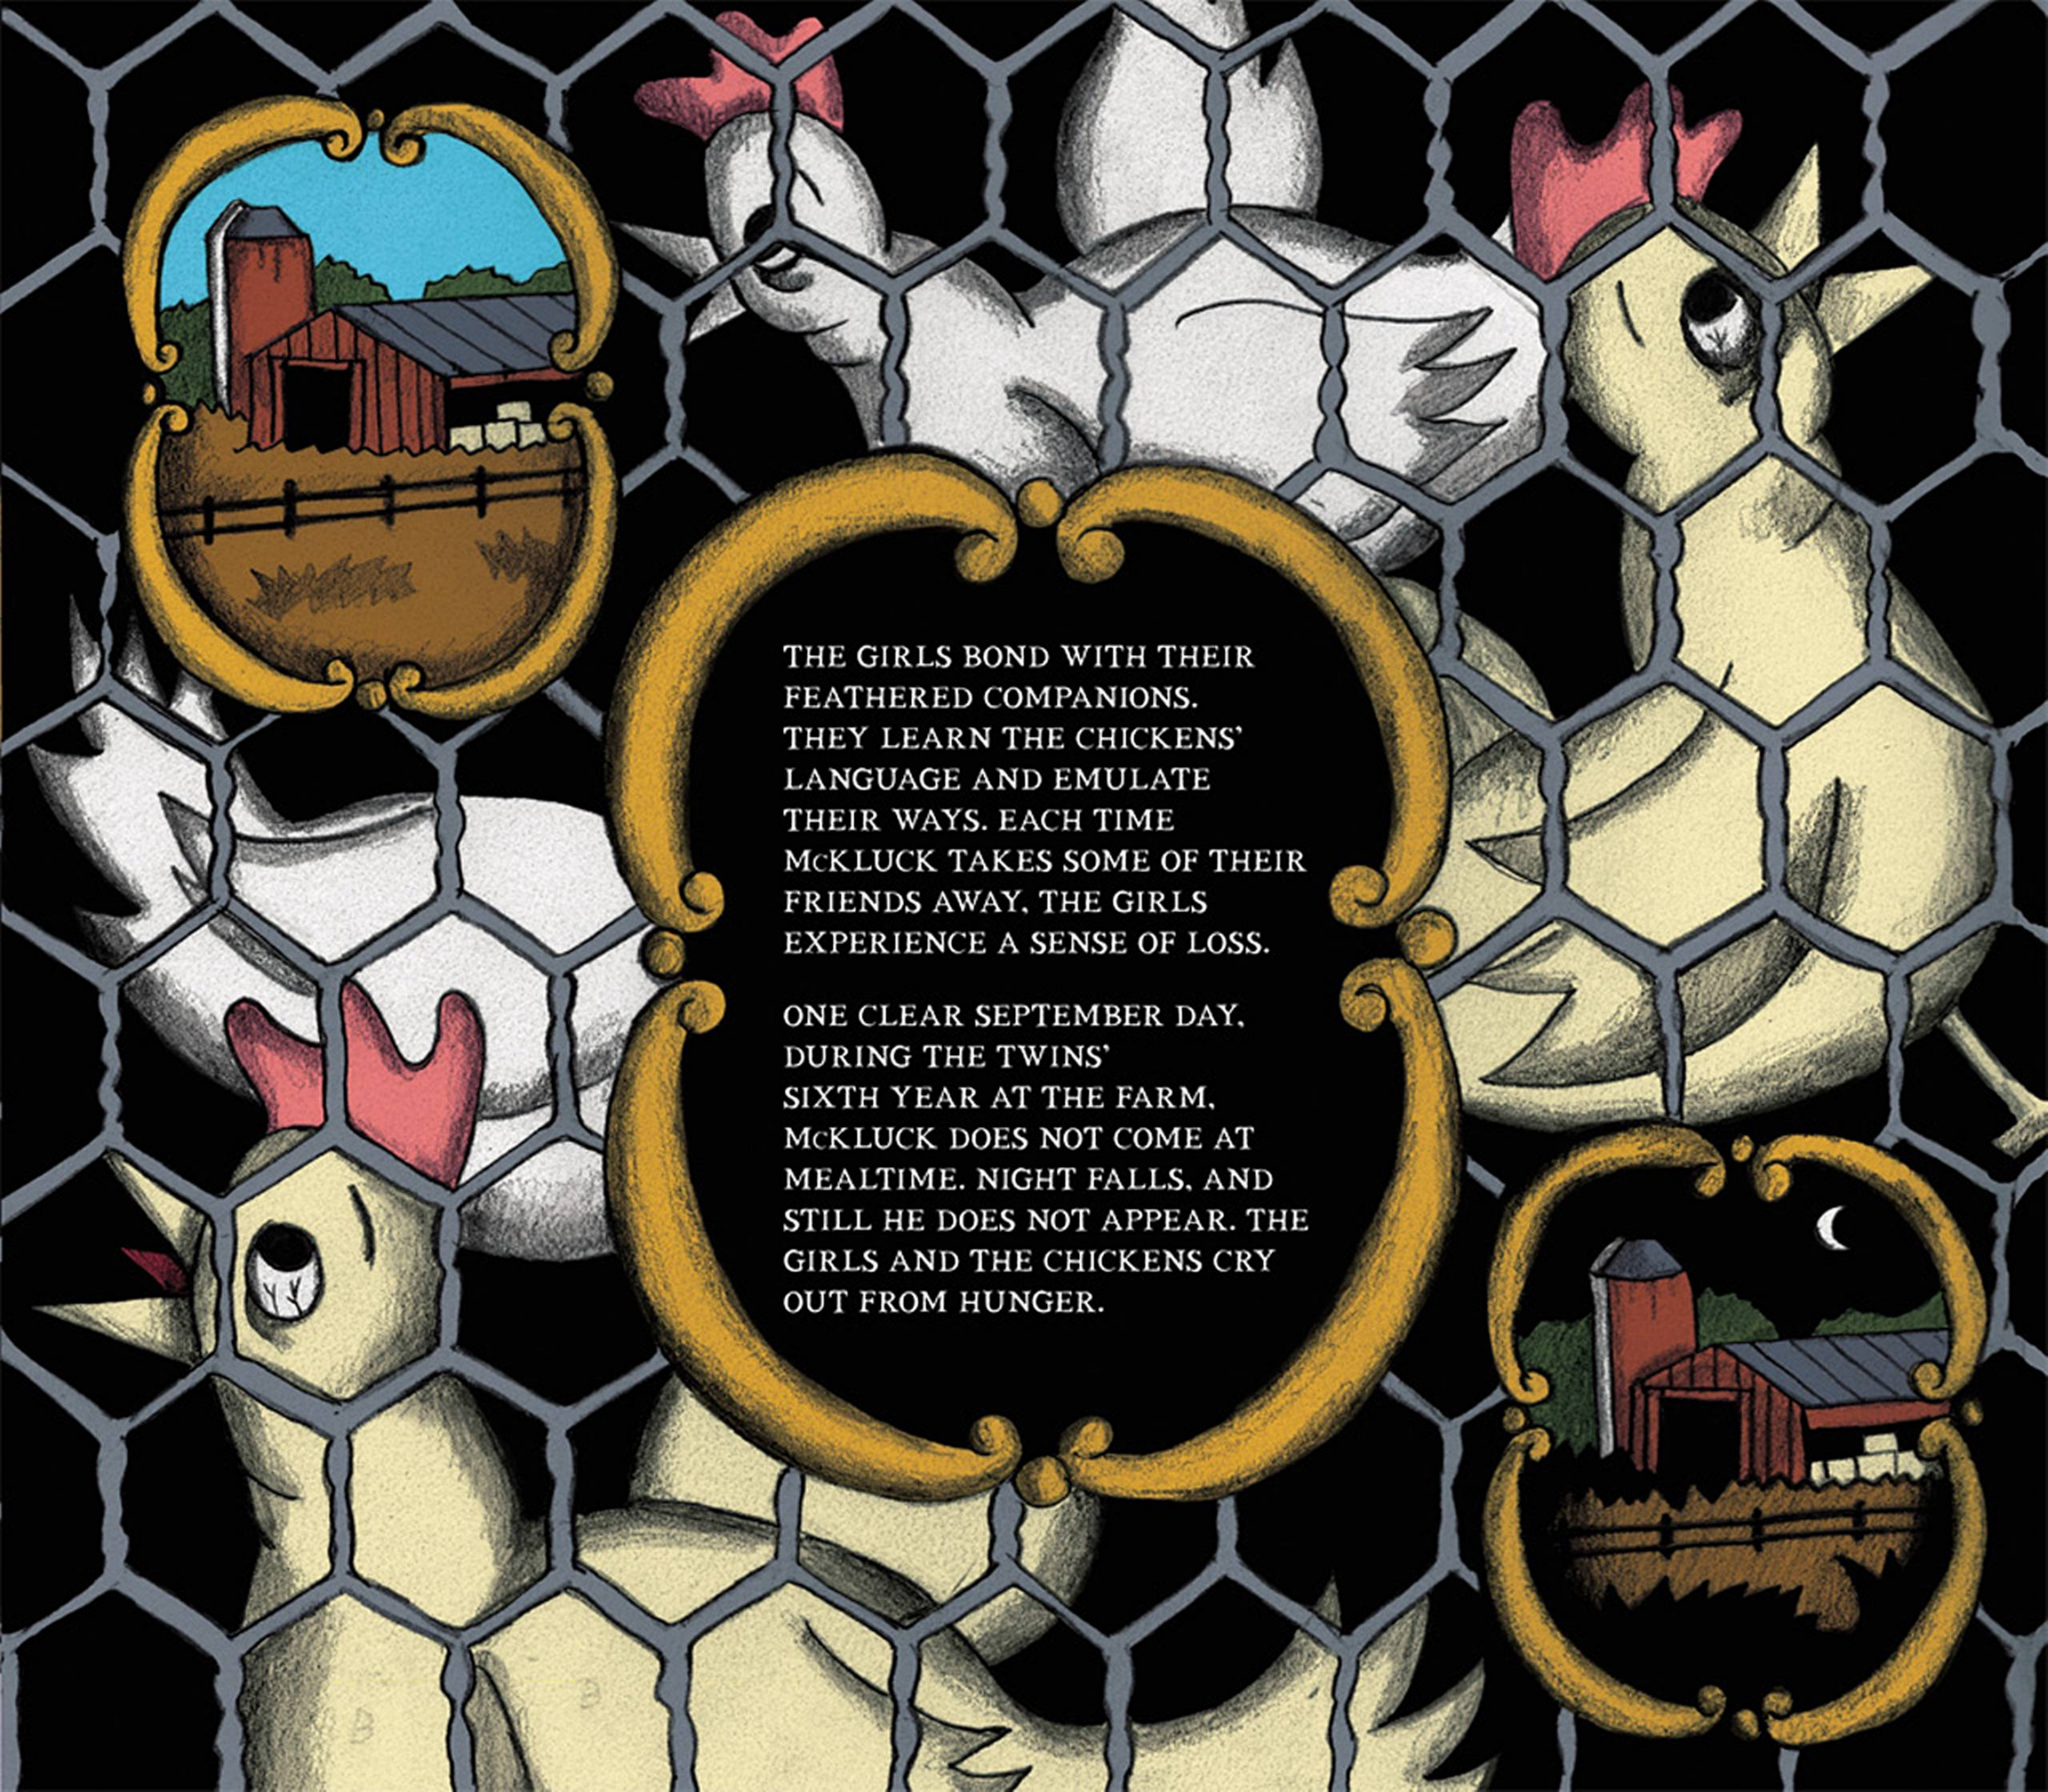
"Order today and you'll get not only the Pulv-O-Matic Blender, but we'll throw in the Vegetable Juggler absolutely FREE! But that's not all . . ."

DESPITE THE MODEST SUCCESS OF HIS BUSINESS, McKLUCK HAS LED A SOLITARY LIFE, NEVER MARRYING AND TENDING SEVERAL OF THE CHICKEN HOUSES HIMSELF. A SIMPLE MAN, WITH A NOT ENTIRELY BAD HEART, McKLUCK NEVER KNEW HOW TO BEST TAKE CARE OF THE YOUNG GIRLS WHO CAME INTO HIS LIFE SHORTLY AFTER THEIR BIRTH.

SO HE RAISED THEM THE ONLY WAY HE KNEW HOW—IN A TWO-FOOT-BY-TWO-FOOT WIRE-MESH CAGE, ON A DIET OF MASH, CRUMBLE, PELLETS, AND EGG BOOSTER.







THE GIRLS BOND WITH THEIR FEATHERED COMPANIONS. THEY LEARN THE CHICKENS' LANGUAGE AND EMULATE THEIR WAYS. EACH TIME McKLUCK TAKES SOME OF THEIR FRIENDS AWAY, THE GIRLS EXPERIENCE A SENSE OF LOSS.

ONE CLEAR SEPTEMBER DAY, DURING THE TWINS' SIXTH YEAR AT THE FARM, McKLUCK DOES NOT COME AT MEALTIME. NIGHT FALLS, AND STILL HE DOES NOT APPEAR. THE GIRLS AND THE CHICKENS CRY OUT FROM HUNGER.

DAYS PASS, AND THE CHICKENS IN NEIGHBORING CAGES BEGIN TO DIE. THE SMELL OF ROTTING POULTRY PERMEATES THE AIR OF THE HOT, HUMID BARN. FINALLY, DESPERATE TO FIND FOOD AND CONCERNED OVER THE WHEREABOUTS OF THEIR GUARDIAN, THE TWINS BREAK FREE FROM THEIR CAGE.

McKLUCK'S HOUSE IS LOCKED TIGHT,
BUT THE GIRLS FIND A GARDEN HOSE,

STILL HALF-DELIRIOUS WITH HUNGER,

LITTLE TIME PASSES BEFORE A DUSTY BLACK CADILLAC COUPE DEVILLE DRIVES BY AND PULLS OVER. A TALL, MUSTACHIOED MAN WITH A KINDLY FACE STEPS OUT OF THE VEHICLE.

HE SMILES AT THE GIRLS AND PRESENTS THEM WITH THE FIRST CANDY THEY HAVE EVER TASTED, A TWIX BAR, WHICH THEY SHARE IN SILENT, AWED DELIGHT.

IN THE FOLLOWING DAYS, THE GIRLS ARE TRANSFERRED INTO THE TRUNKS OF SEVERAL OTHER CARS BY MANY OTHER KINDLY, CANDY-BAR-OFFERING MEN, UNTIL THEY REACH THEIR FINAL DESTINATION AT A LAKESIDE LODGE IN MANITOBA.

HOWEVER, ONE GENTLE RESIDENT, A FEW YEARS THEIR SENIOR, BEFRIENDS THEM AND TAKES THEM UNDER HER WING.

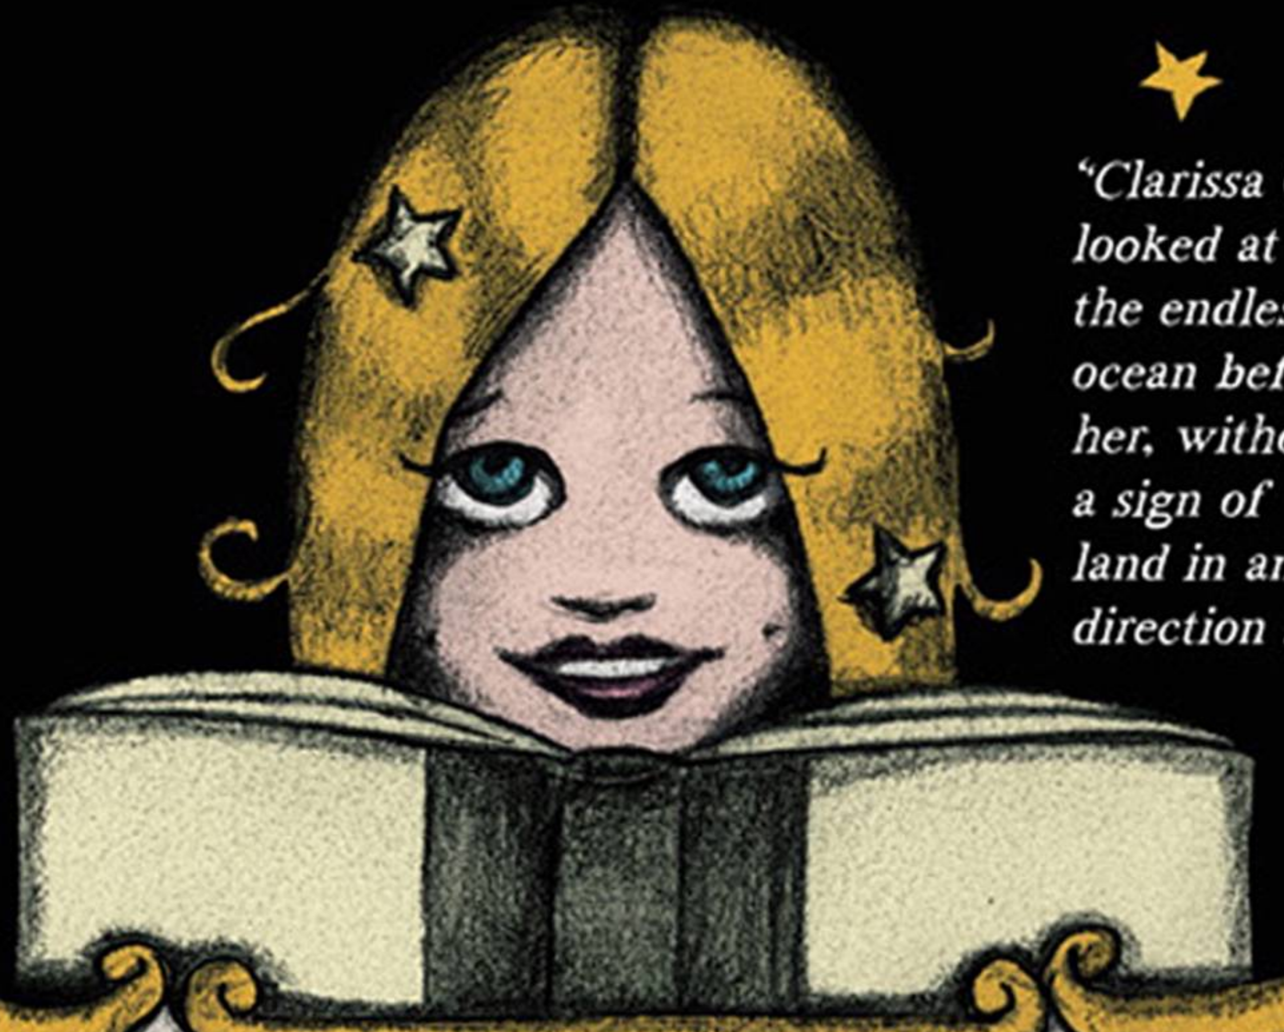
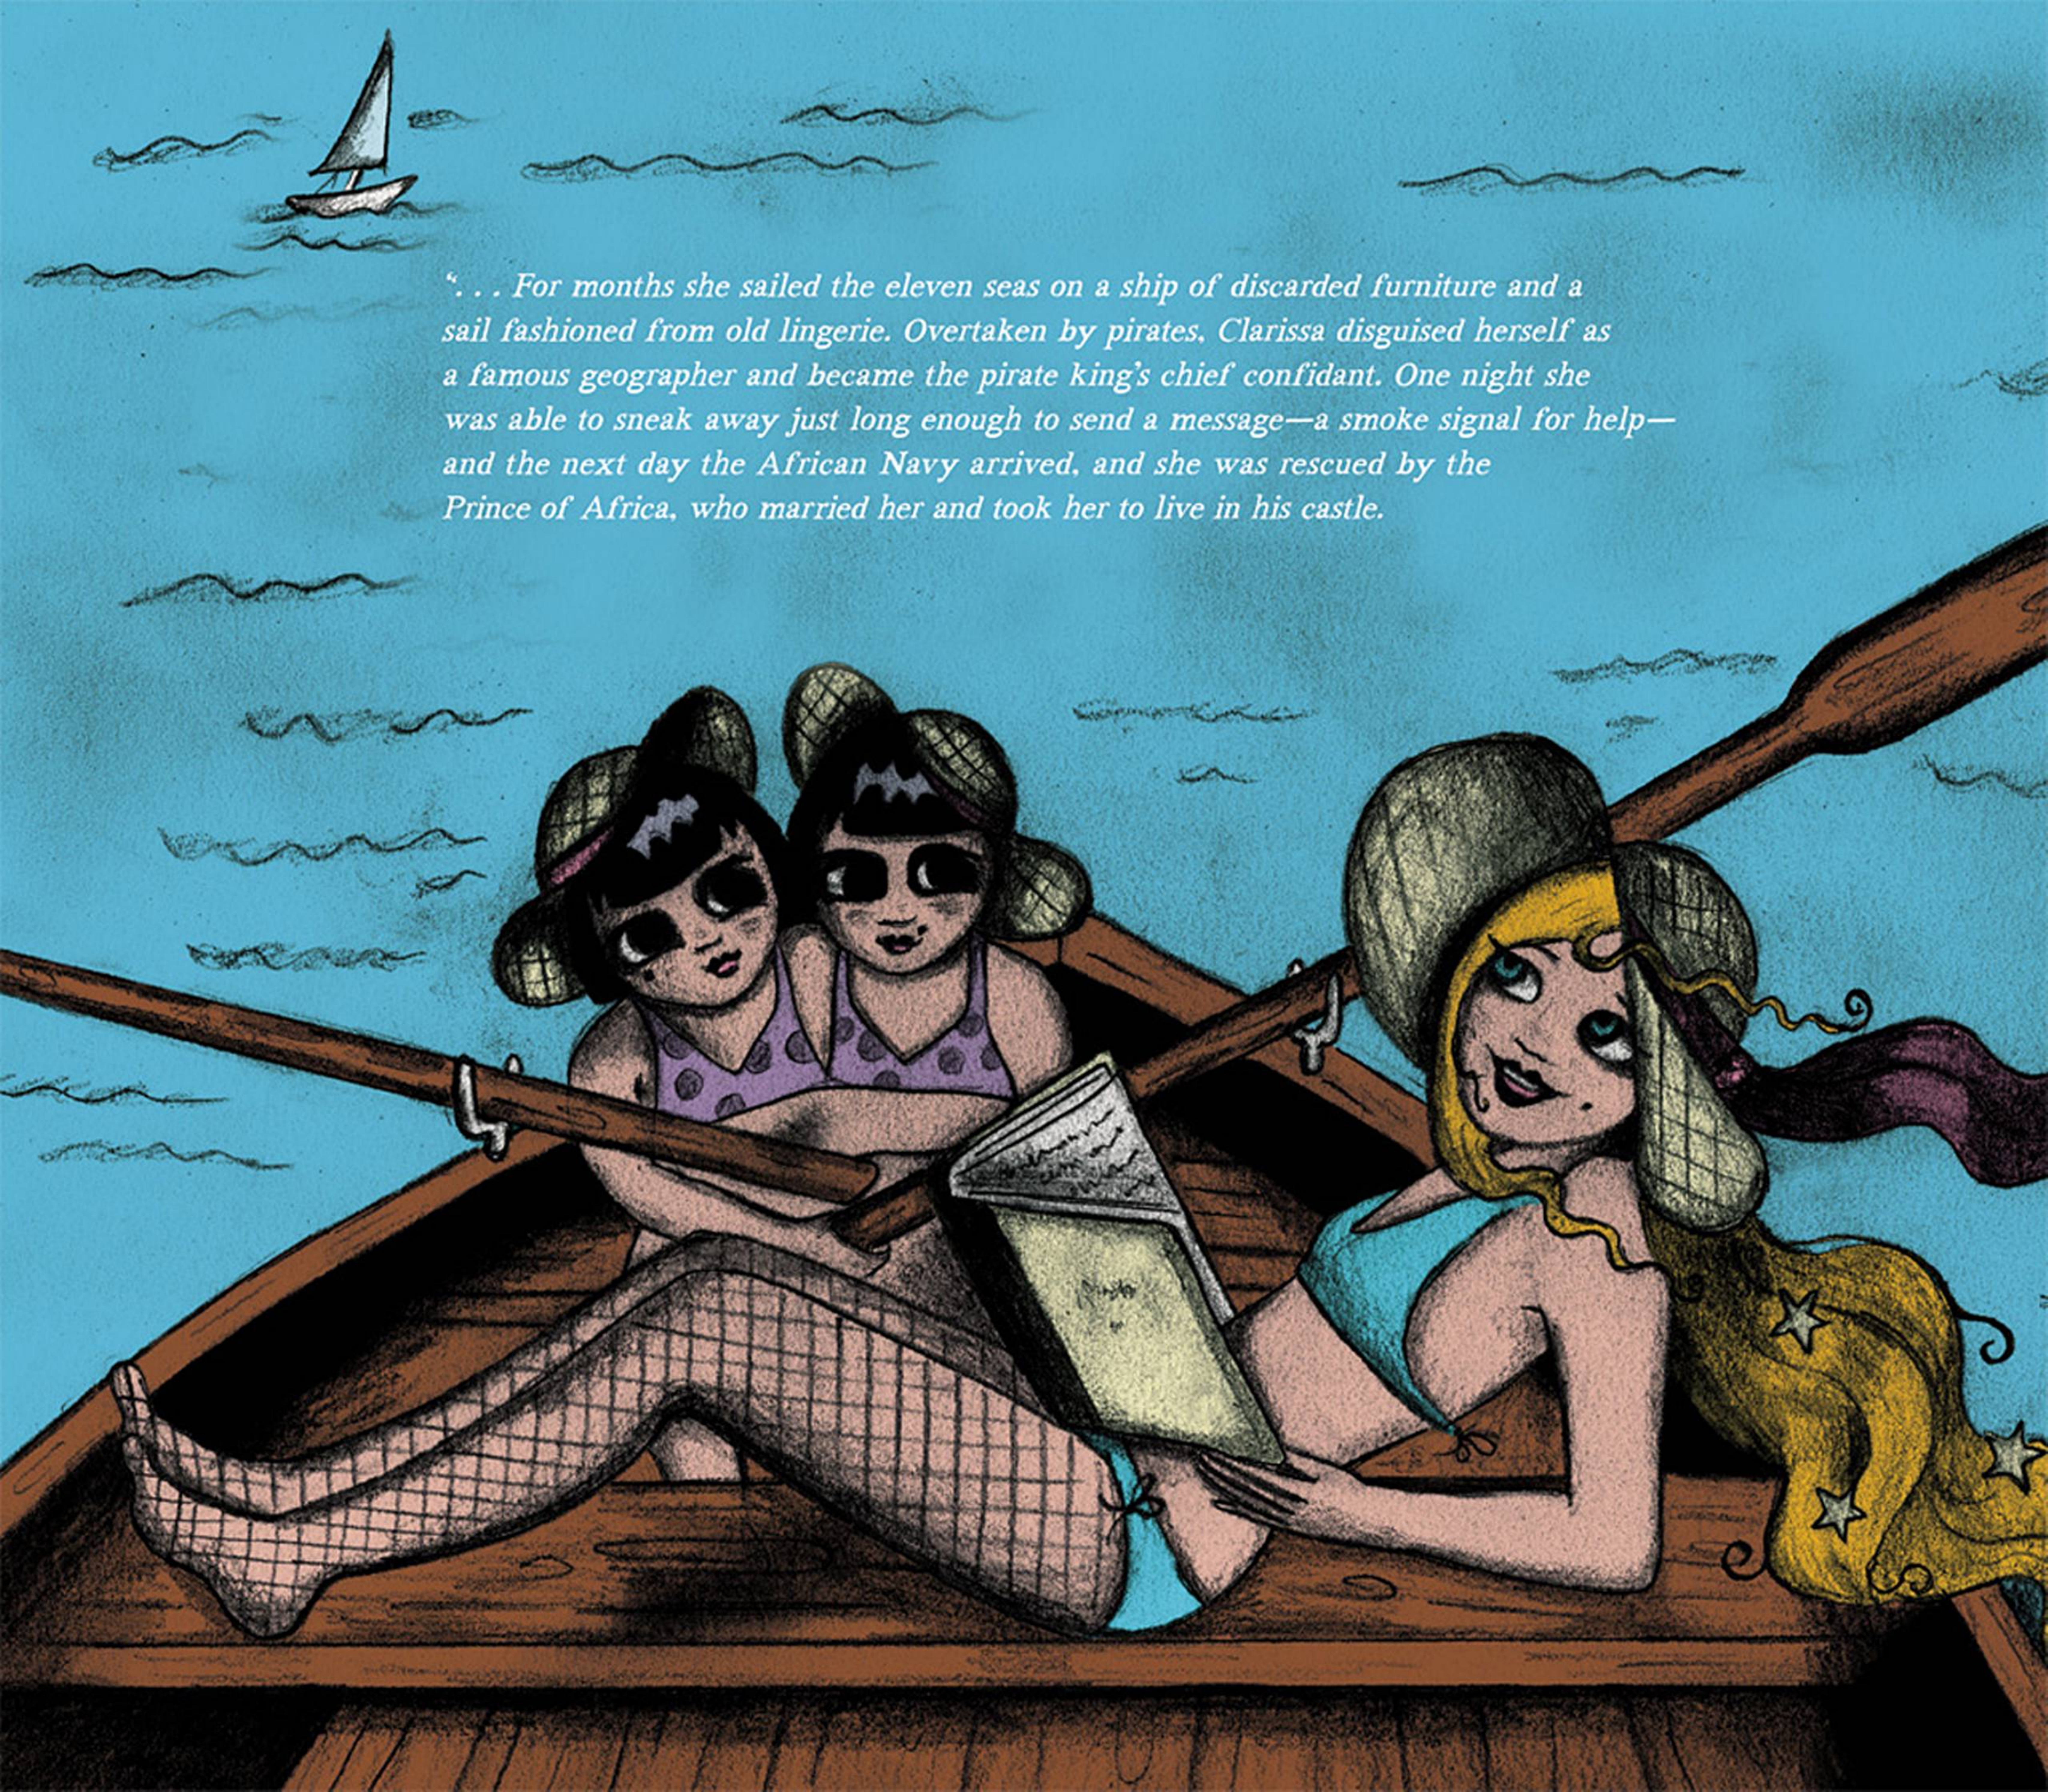
DRESSED DAILY BY MRS. BULGER IN HER TRADEMARK FISHNET STOCKINGS AND VINTAGE ATTIRE, SANDY IS BY FAR THE MOST POPULAR GIRL AT THE UNDERWOOD.

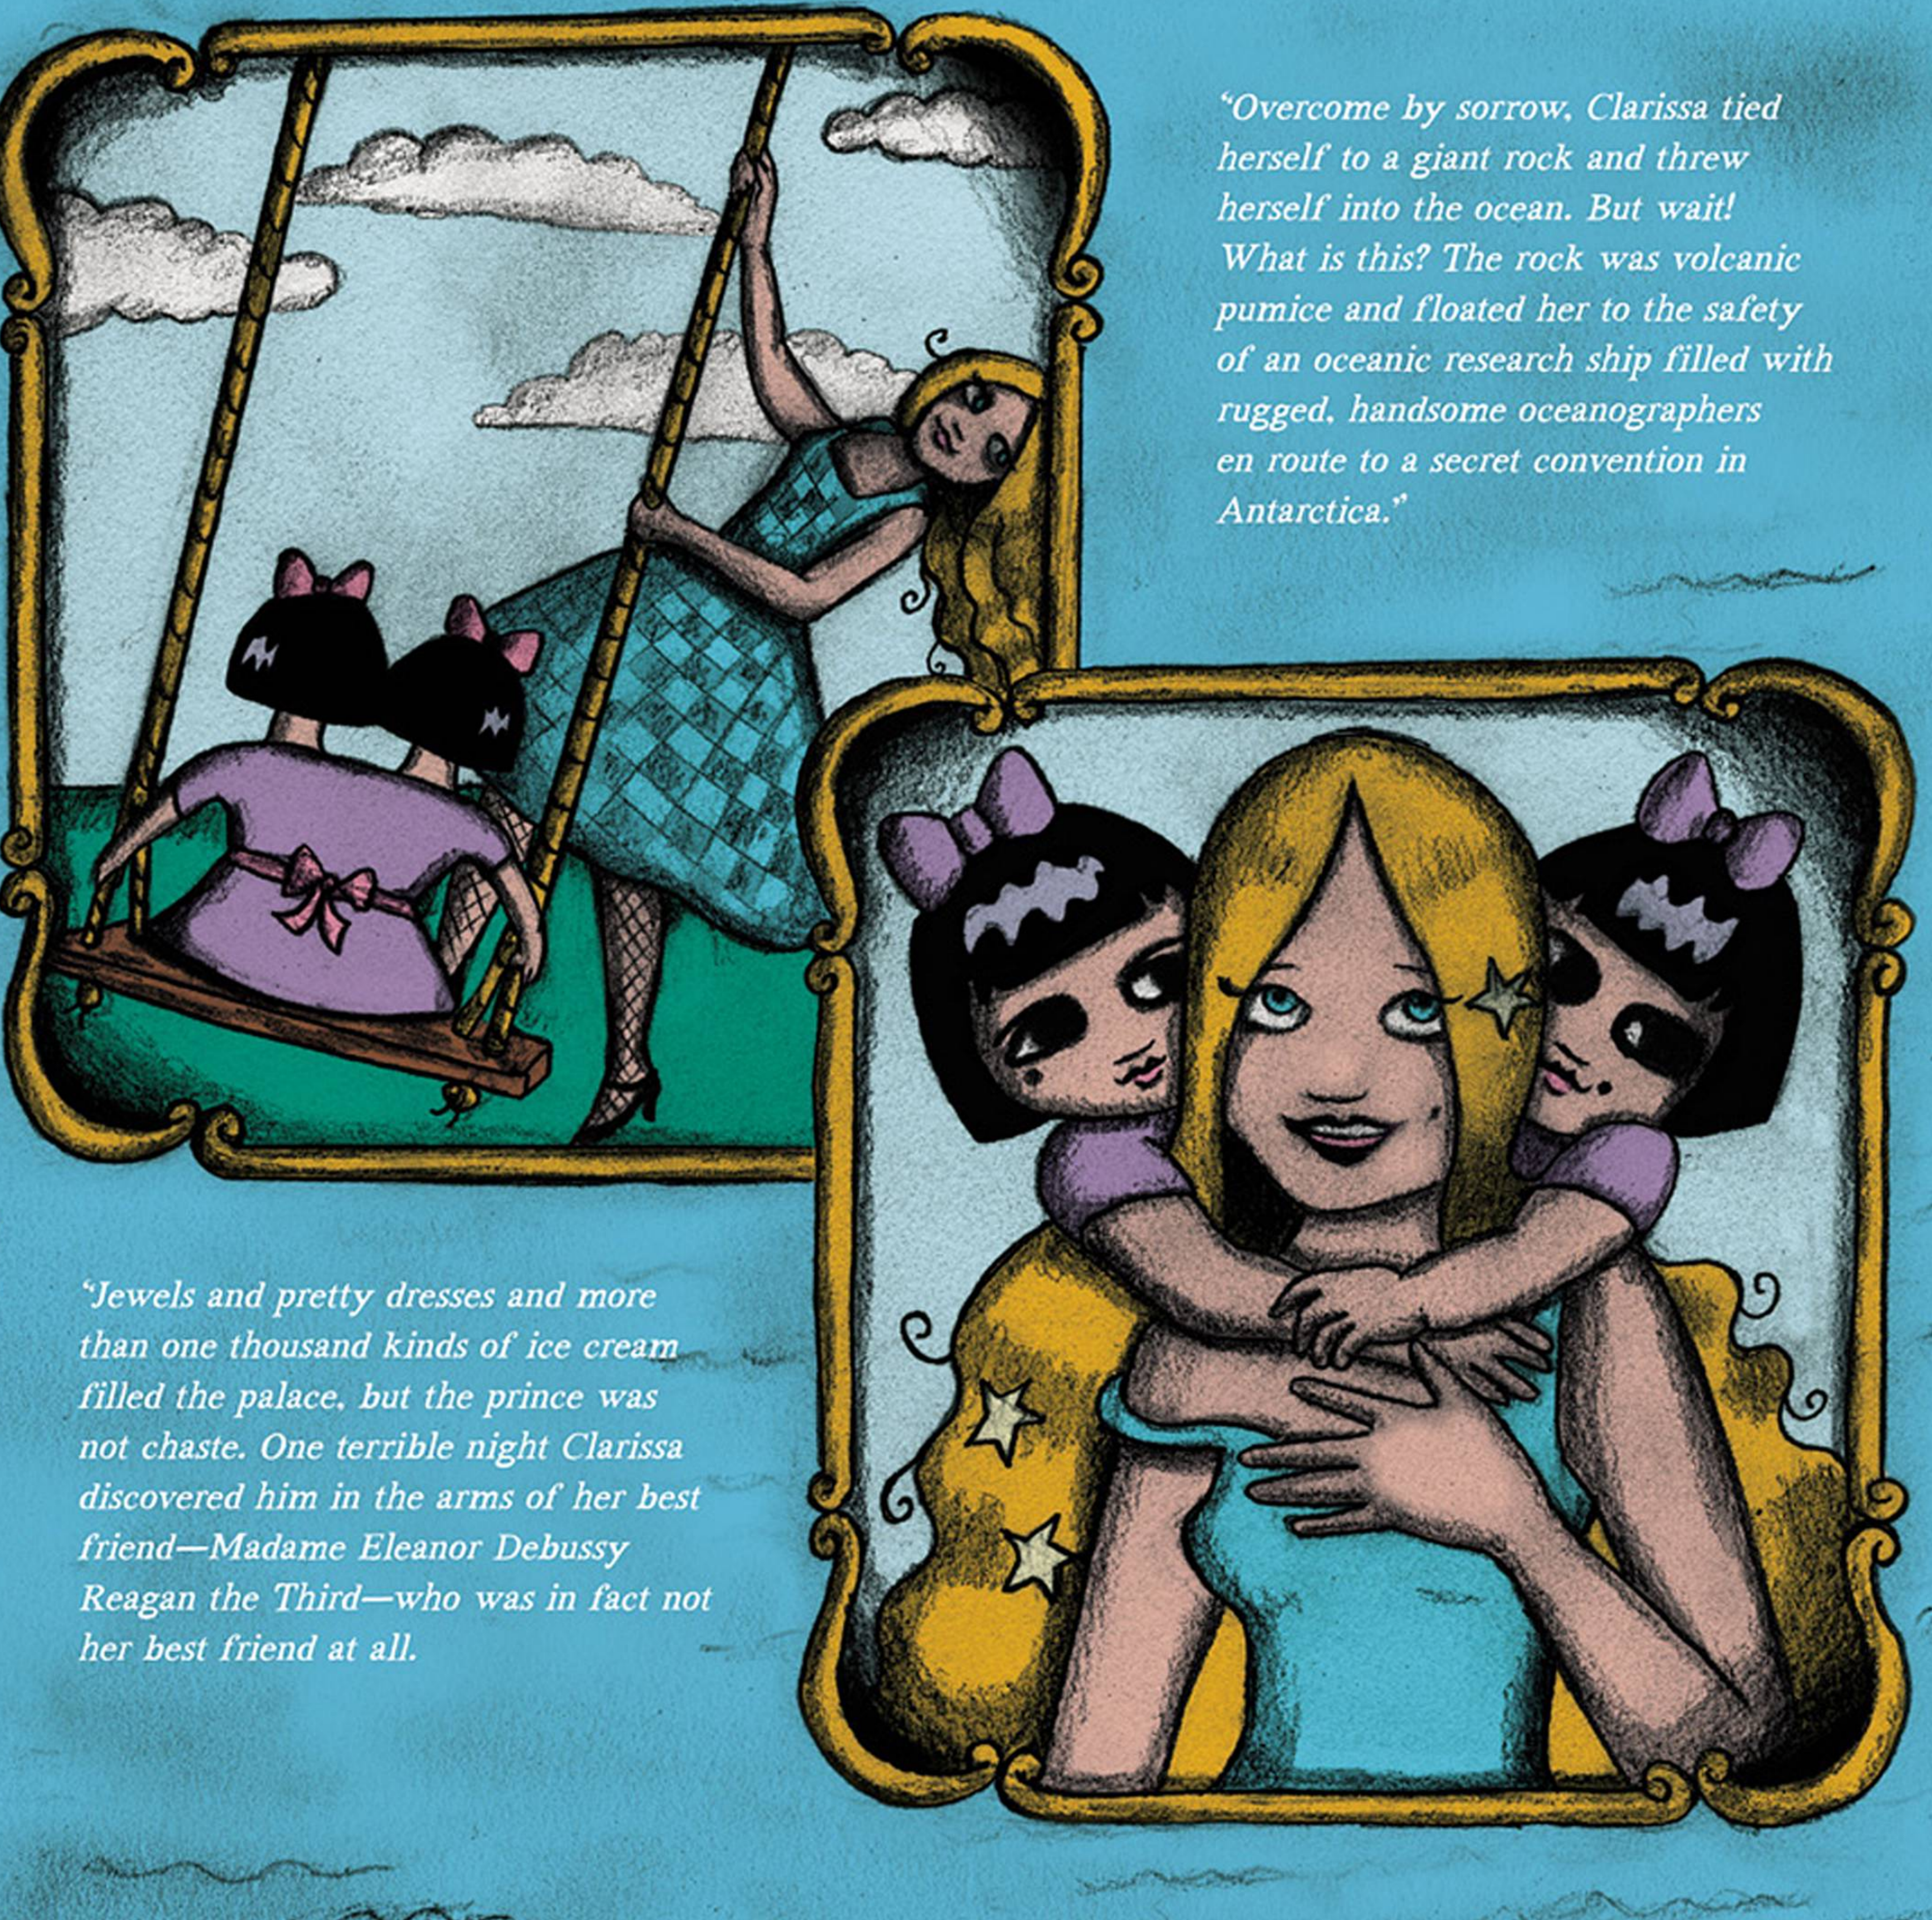
EVERY NIGHT AFTER DINNER AND CHORES, SANDY TUCKS THE YOUNG SISTERS INTO BED AND TELLS THEM FANTASTIC STORIES UNTIL THEY FALL PEACEFULLY TO SLEEP.



“Clarissa Coté looked at the endless ocean before her, without a sign of land in any direction . . .

“. . . For months she sailed the eleven seas on a ship of discarded furniture and a sail fashioned from old lingerie. Overtaken by pirates, Clarissa disguised herself as a famous geographer and became the pirate king’s chief confidant. One night she was able to sneak away just long enough to send a message—a smoke signal for help—and the next day the African Navy arrived, and she was rescued by the Prince of Africa, who married her and took her to live in his castle.





"Jewels and pretty dresses and more than one thousand kinds of ice cream filled the palace, but the prince was not chaste. One terrible night Clarissa discovered him in the arms of her best friend—Madame Eleanor Debussy Reagan the Third—who was in fact not her best friend at all.

"Overcome by sorrow, Clarissa tied herself to a giant rock and threw herself into the ocean. But wait! What is this? The rock was volcanic pumice and floated her to the safety of an oceanic research ship filled with rugged, handsome oceanographers en route to a secret convention in Antarctica."

THE TWINS BEGIN TO NOTICE A DISTURBING TENDENCY FOR GIRLS, MUCH LIKE THEIR DEAR FRIEND SANDY, TO QUIETLY DISAPPEAR FROM THE UNDERWOOD AROUND THEIR TWELFTH OR THIRTEENTH BIRTHDAYS.

THE SISTERS NEVER SPEAK OF THIS, BUT THEY BRACE THEMSELVES FOR SOMETHING TERRIBLE.

Local Farmer Marches to a Different Drumstick

by Sharon Bradford
Investigative Reporter

A lot of folks just don't realize how many unique things we've got going on right here in Evans County. Just drive a couple miles north on Hendrix Bridge Road to McKluck's Chicken Farms and you'll soon see what I mean!

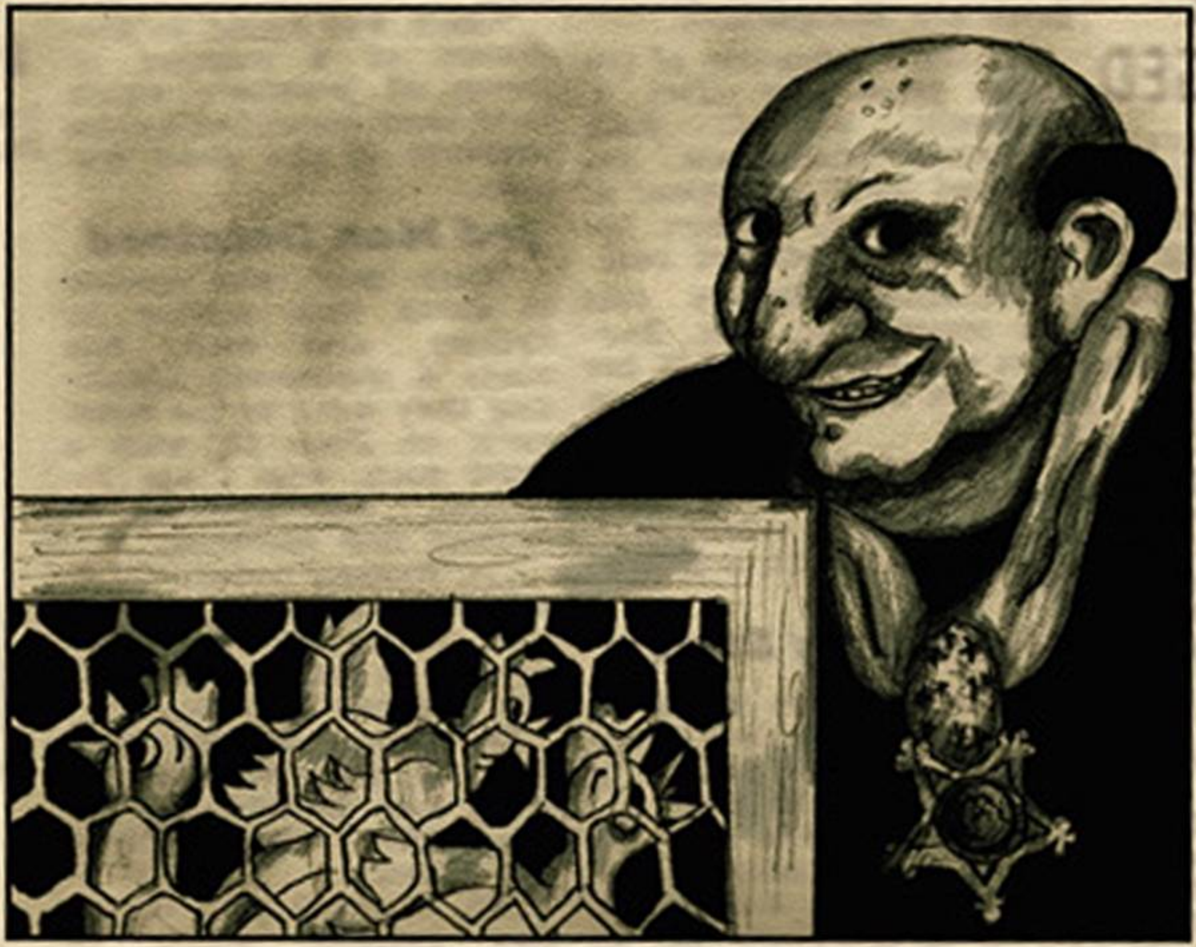
Do you ever wonder where your food comes from? Well, if your food is chicken, there's a good chance that it comes from right here in Claxton! McKluck's is one of the biggest farms in the state, shipping chickens all over the country, even as far as Wyoming! The farm has been operating since the early 1970s and currently produces over 100,000 chickens every year. Now, that's a lot of chicken!

Last Thursday, The Claxton Eye caught up with Mr. Alfred McKluck, owner of McKluck's Chicken Farms, for this exclusive interview.

What made you decide to be a chicken farmer?
Reckon just always done it. Daddy raised 'em and suppose just learned it from him.

When did you open this farm?
'68, I reckon?

What is the most challenging thing about running a chicken farm?
Reckon it ain't too hard. Daddy's chickens would done freeze come winter but ain't got that problem here in Georgia. (laughs)



Mr. McKluck hard at work feeding his chickens.

I imagine you must be proud, knowing people are eating your chickens as far away as Wyoming.
Reckon I am.

Do you see yourself ever doing some other kind of work?
No. Reckon been doing this most my life, don't reckon be stoppin' time soon.

Do you have a wife or family?
Nope.

Do you ever wish you did?
Nope. Got plenty mouths to feed already. (laughs)

Do you have any advice for people considering entering the chicken business?
Reckon they gonna need some chickens. (laughs)

Officer Coonan and myself knocked on the front door and were greeted by Mrs. Bulger. We presented our warrant, at which point she resisted arrest by repeatedly offering coffee, beer, and repeatedly attempting to hang up our jackets. With the assistance of Gagnon and Reimer, we were able to subdue and detain her. At approximately 9:50 am, agents Gagnon, Reimer and myself began a thorough search of the property. To the West of Bulger's home are a few small portable trailers, with indications that several more trailers had been recently present. These trailers were mostly empty, save one which contained a few small articles o

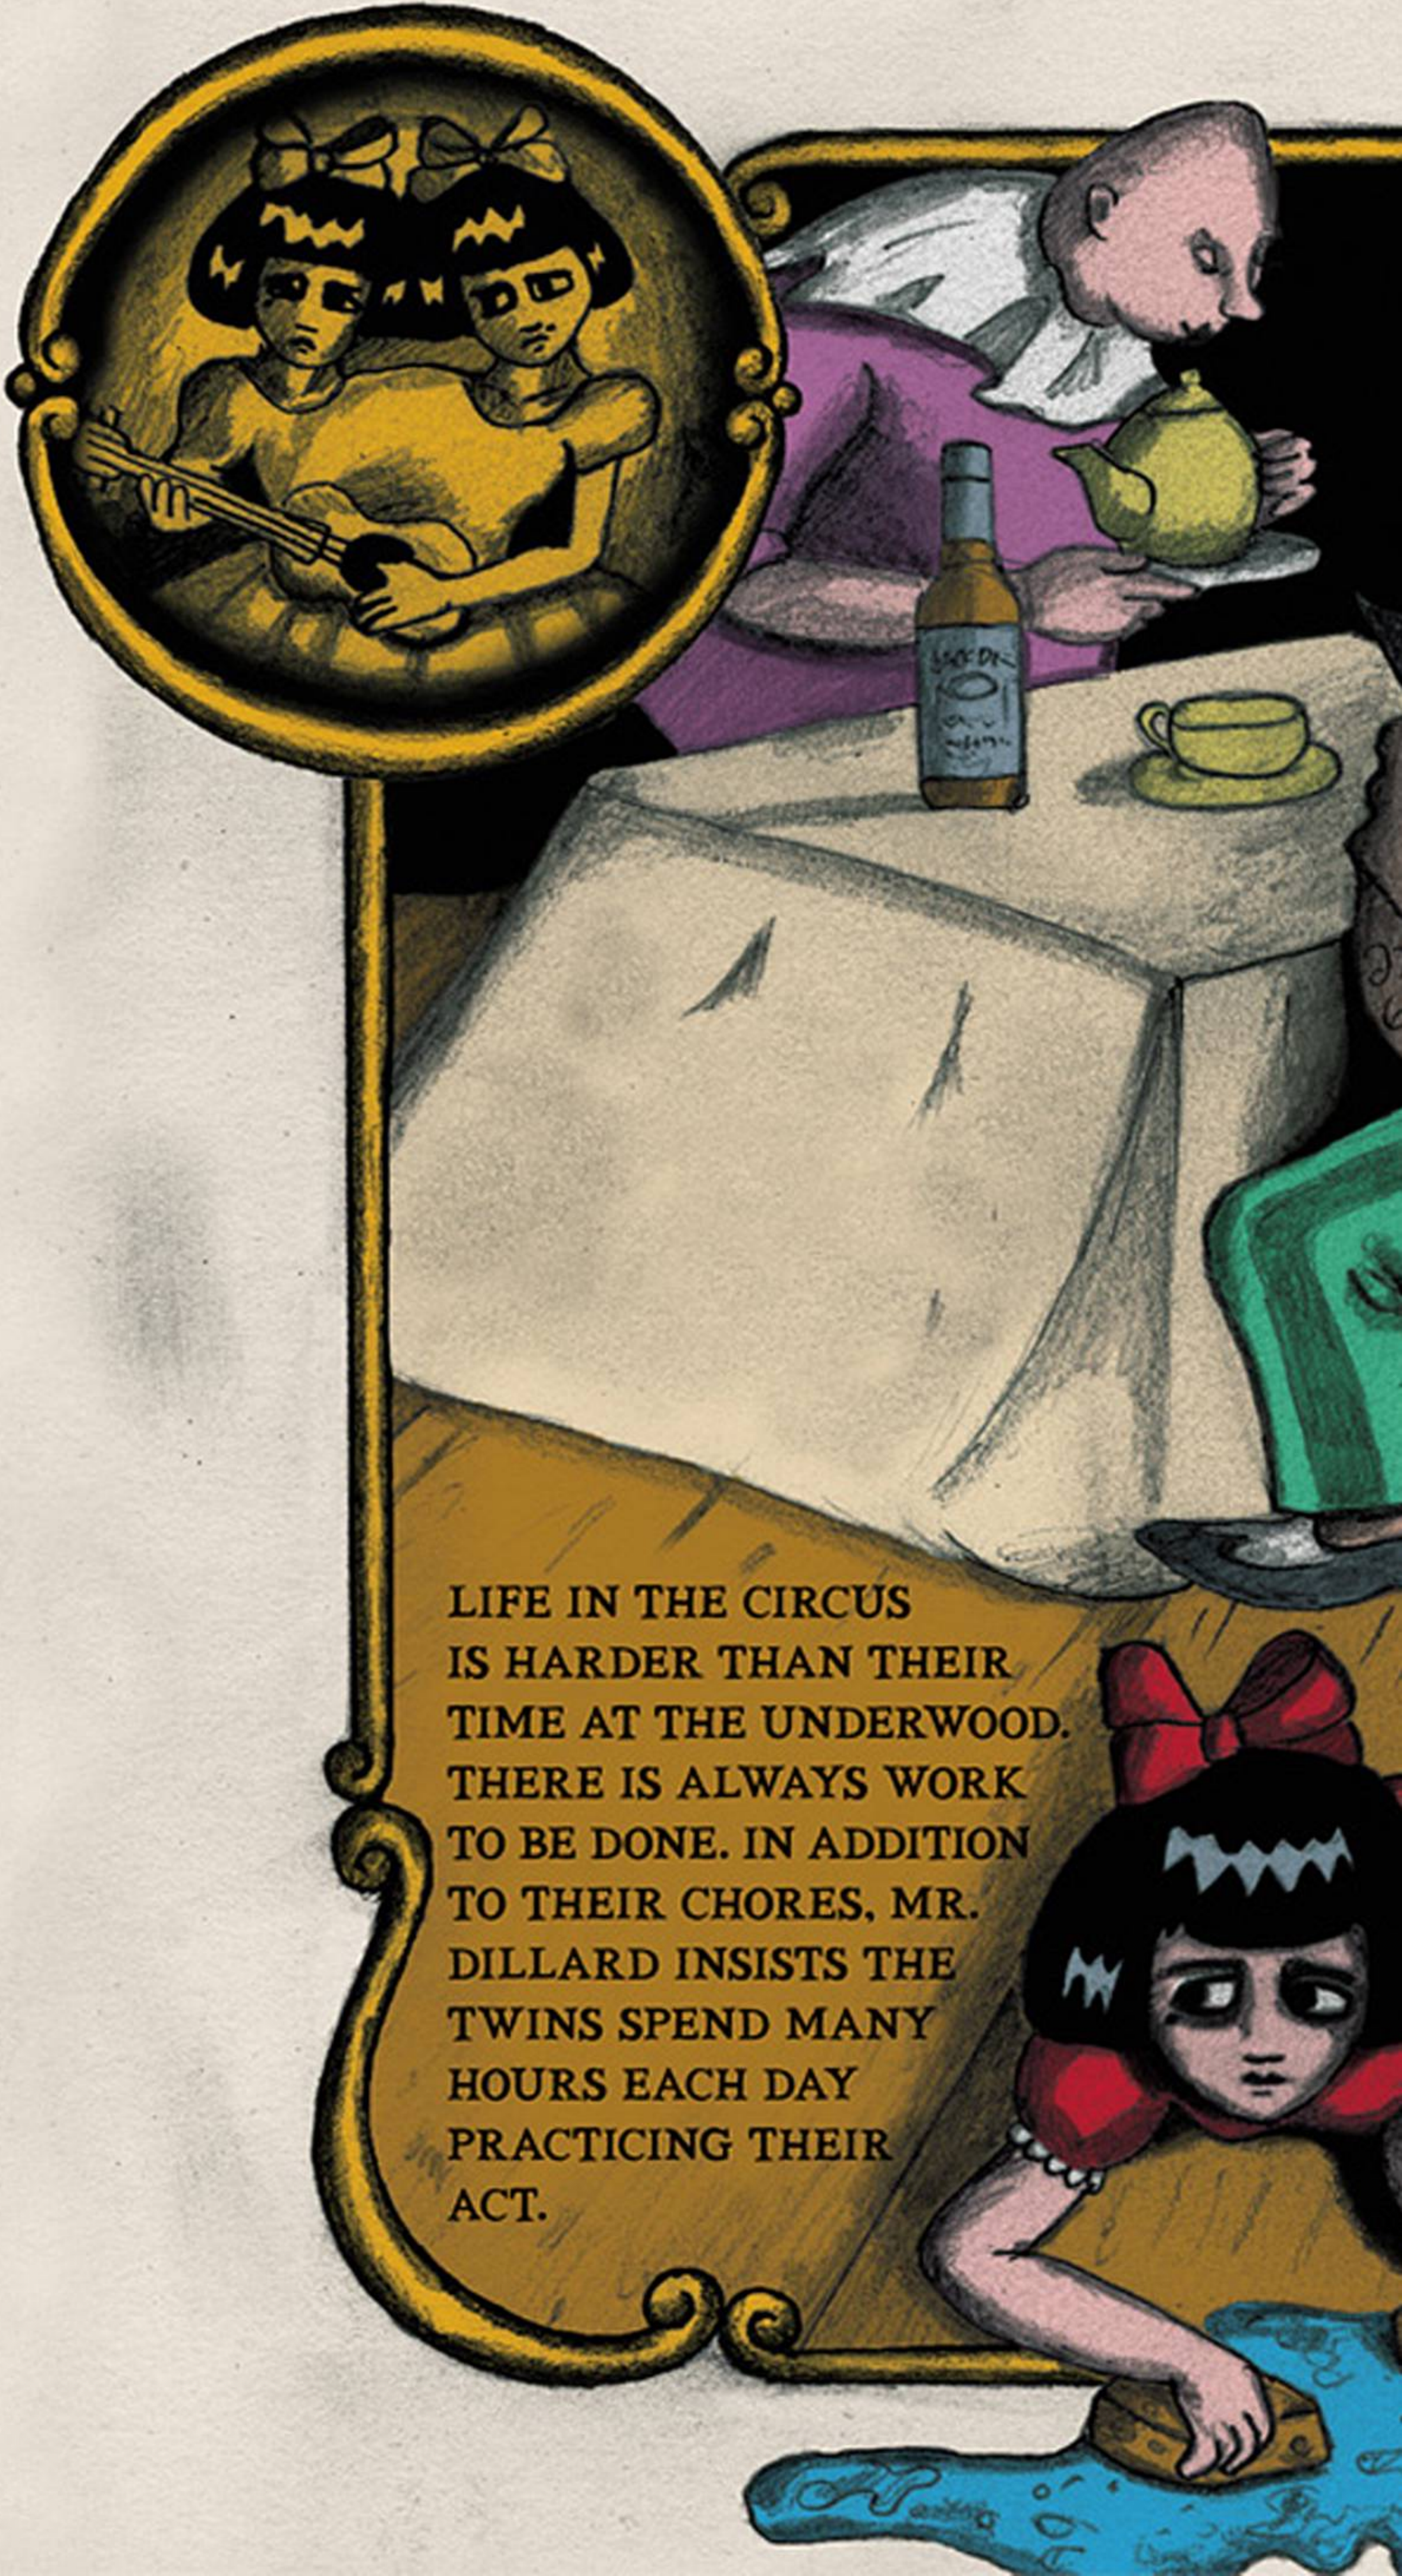
FORMER INSURANCE SALESMEN DILLARD AND FULLERTON DISTINGUISH THEIR ENTERPRISE BY PROCURING THE MOST SHOCKING SPECIMENS OF THE GROTESQUE AND UNUSUAL. THEIR SMALL ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF WORKS TIRELESSLY TO COMBAT LEGAL ACTIONS AND PUBLIC ALLEGATIONS OF ANIMAL CRUELTY AND HUMAN-SLAVE TRAFFICKING.



LIFE IN THE CIRCUS IS HARDER THAN THEIR TIME AT THE UNDERWOOD. THERE IS ALWAYS WORK TO BE DONE. IN ADDITION TO THEIR CHORES, MR. DILLARD INSISTS THE TWINS SPEND MANY HOURS EACH DAY PRACTICING THEIR ACT.

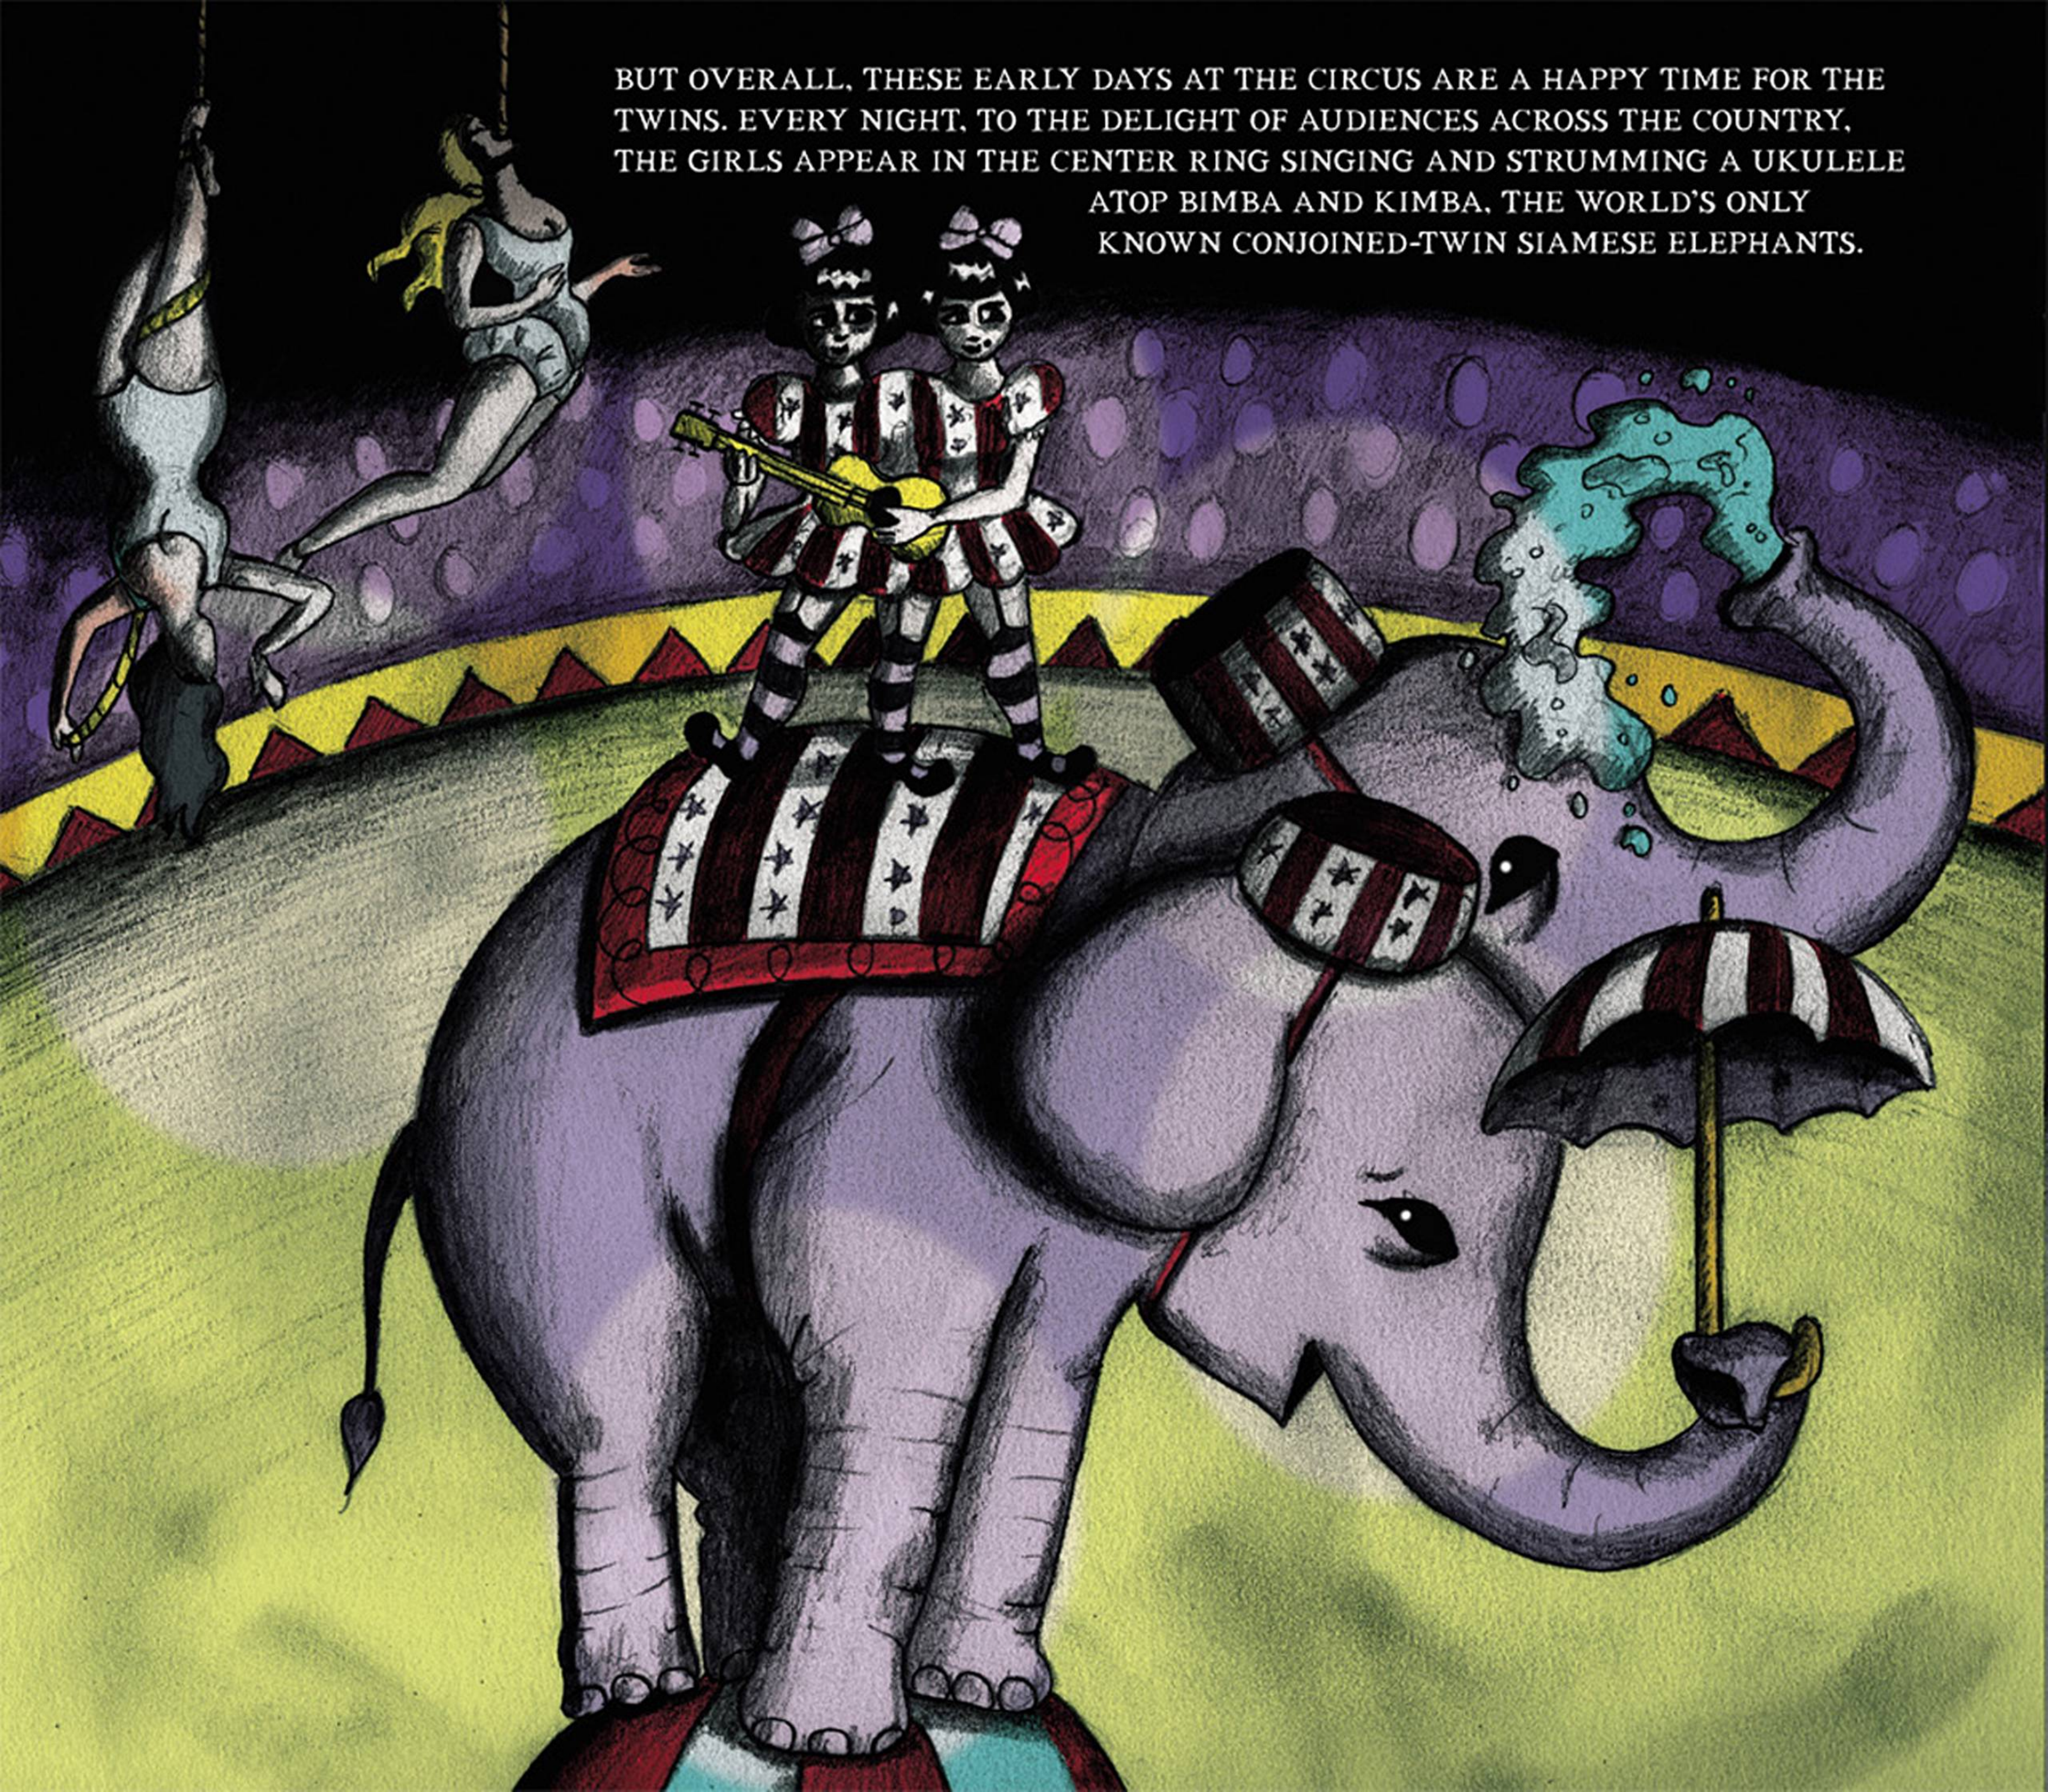
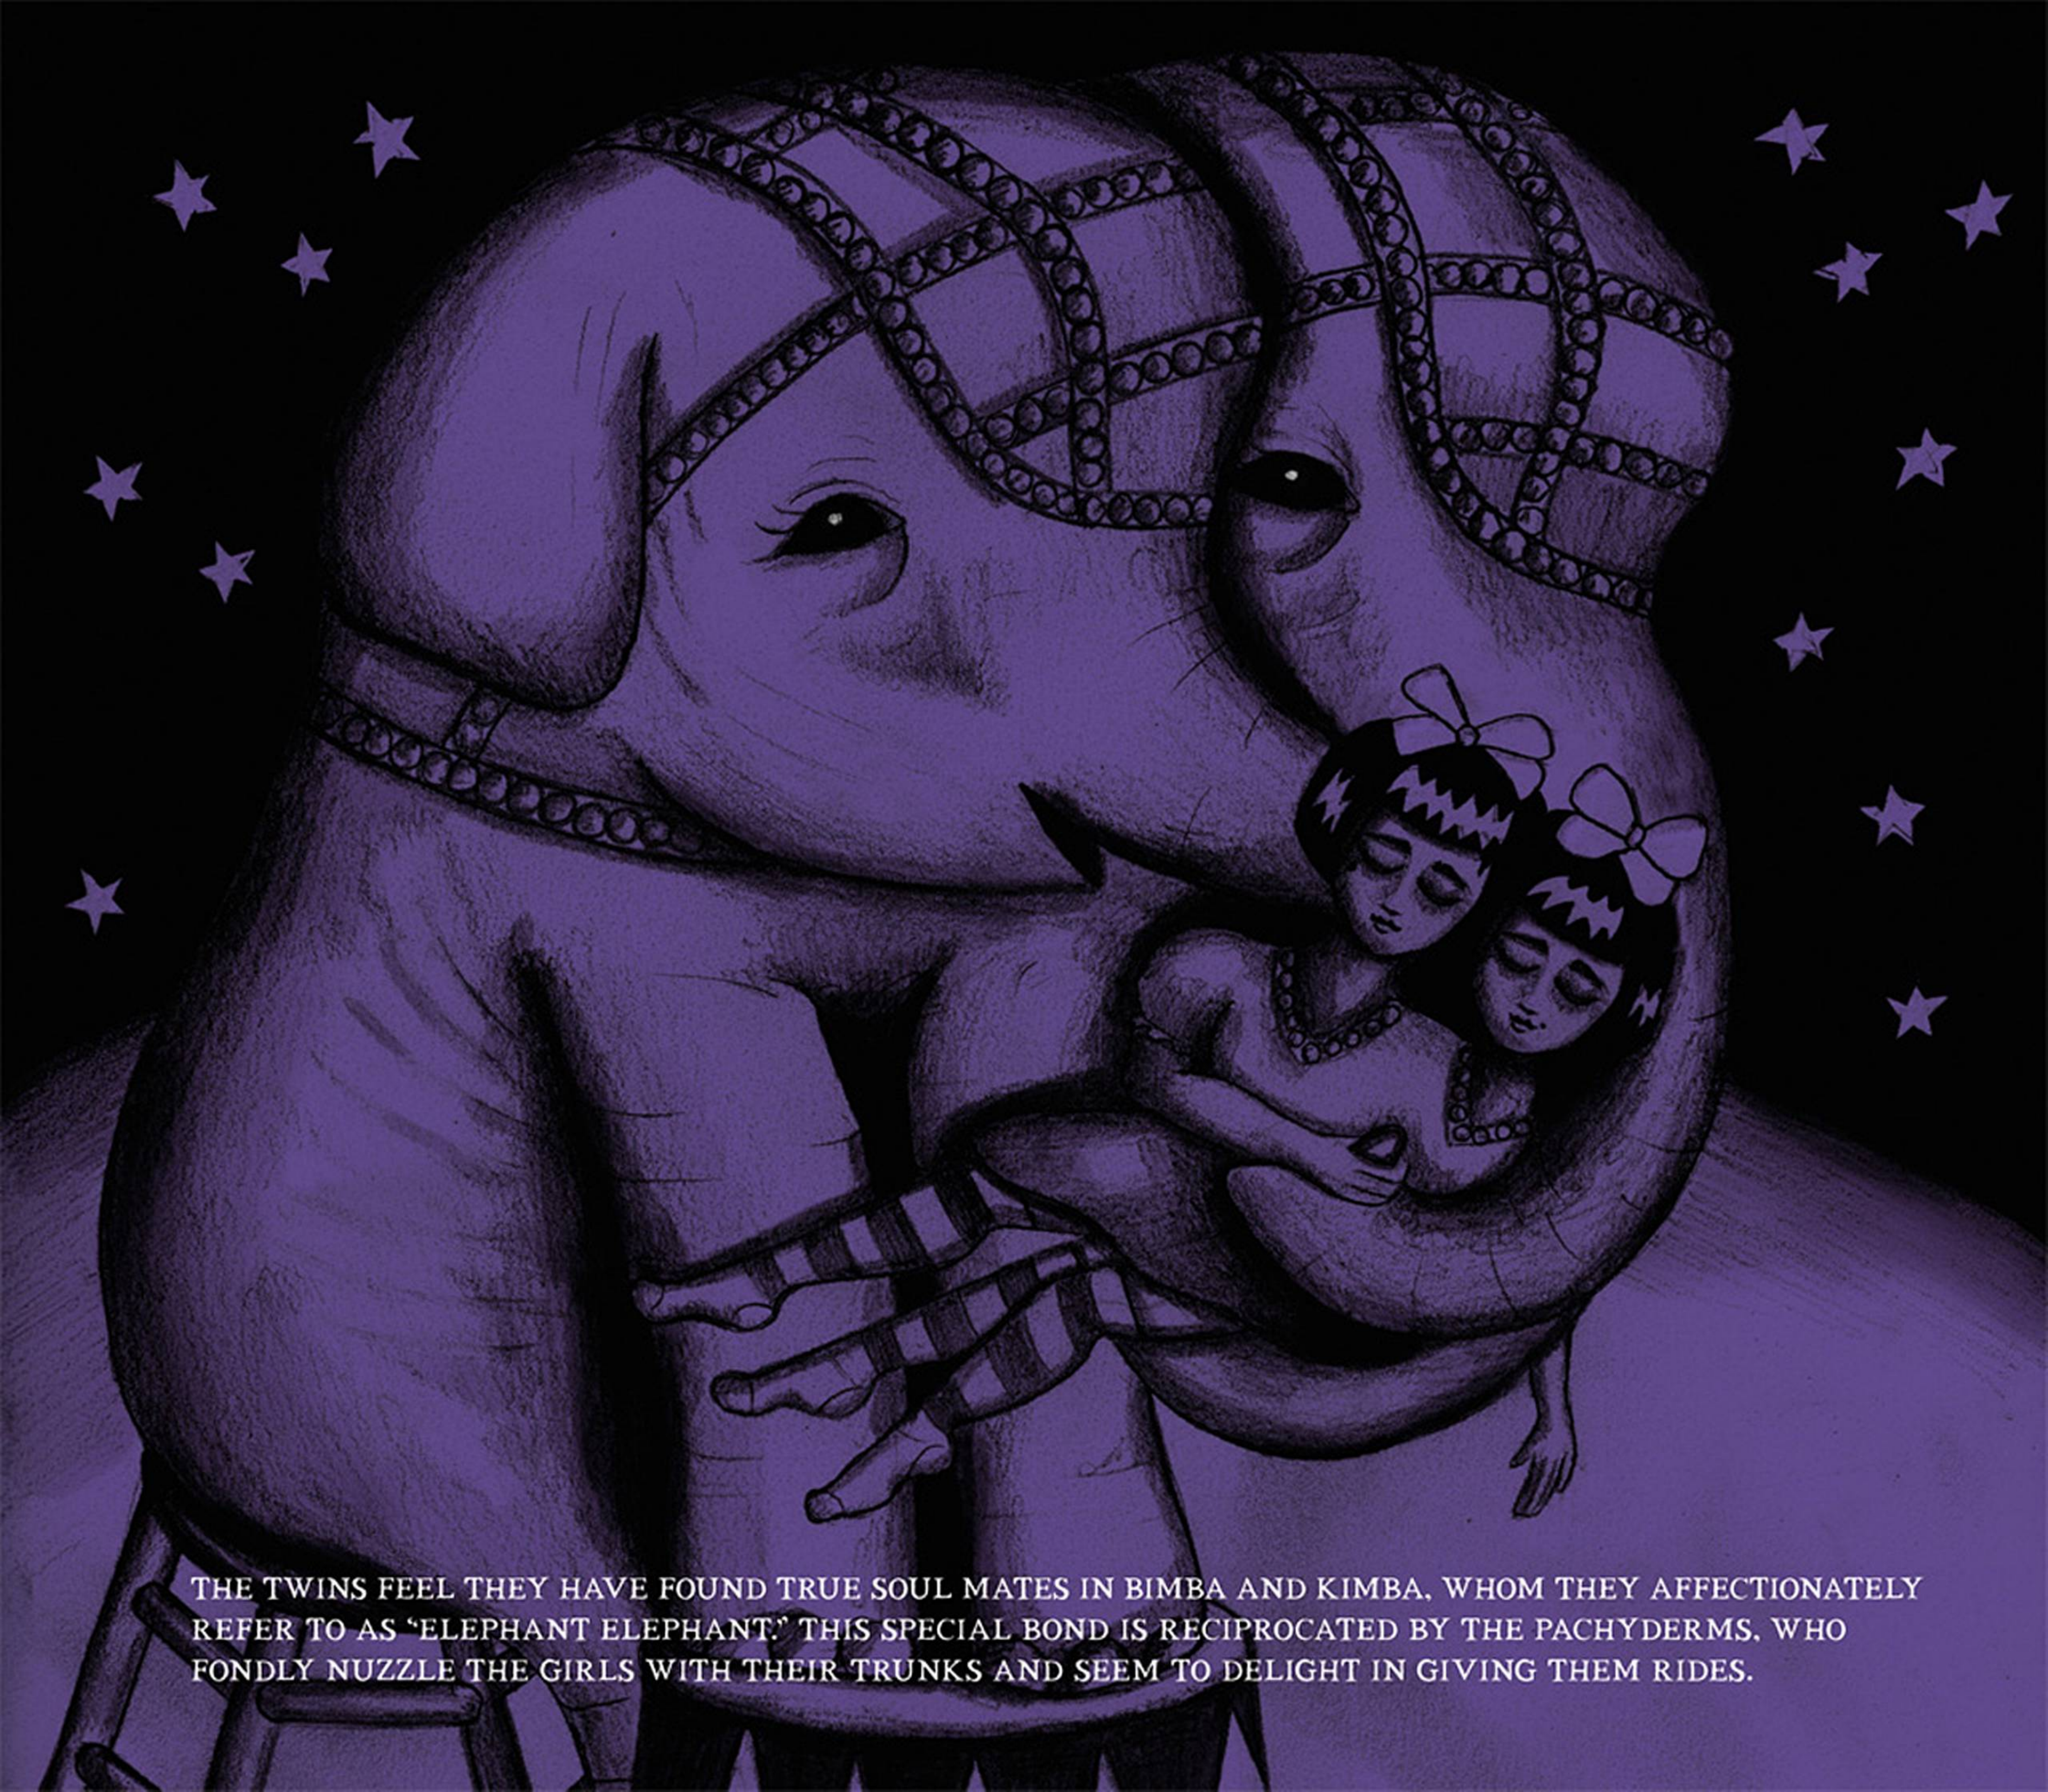
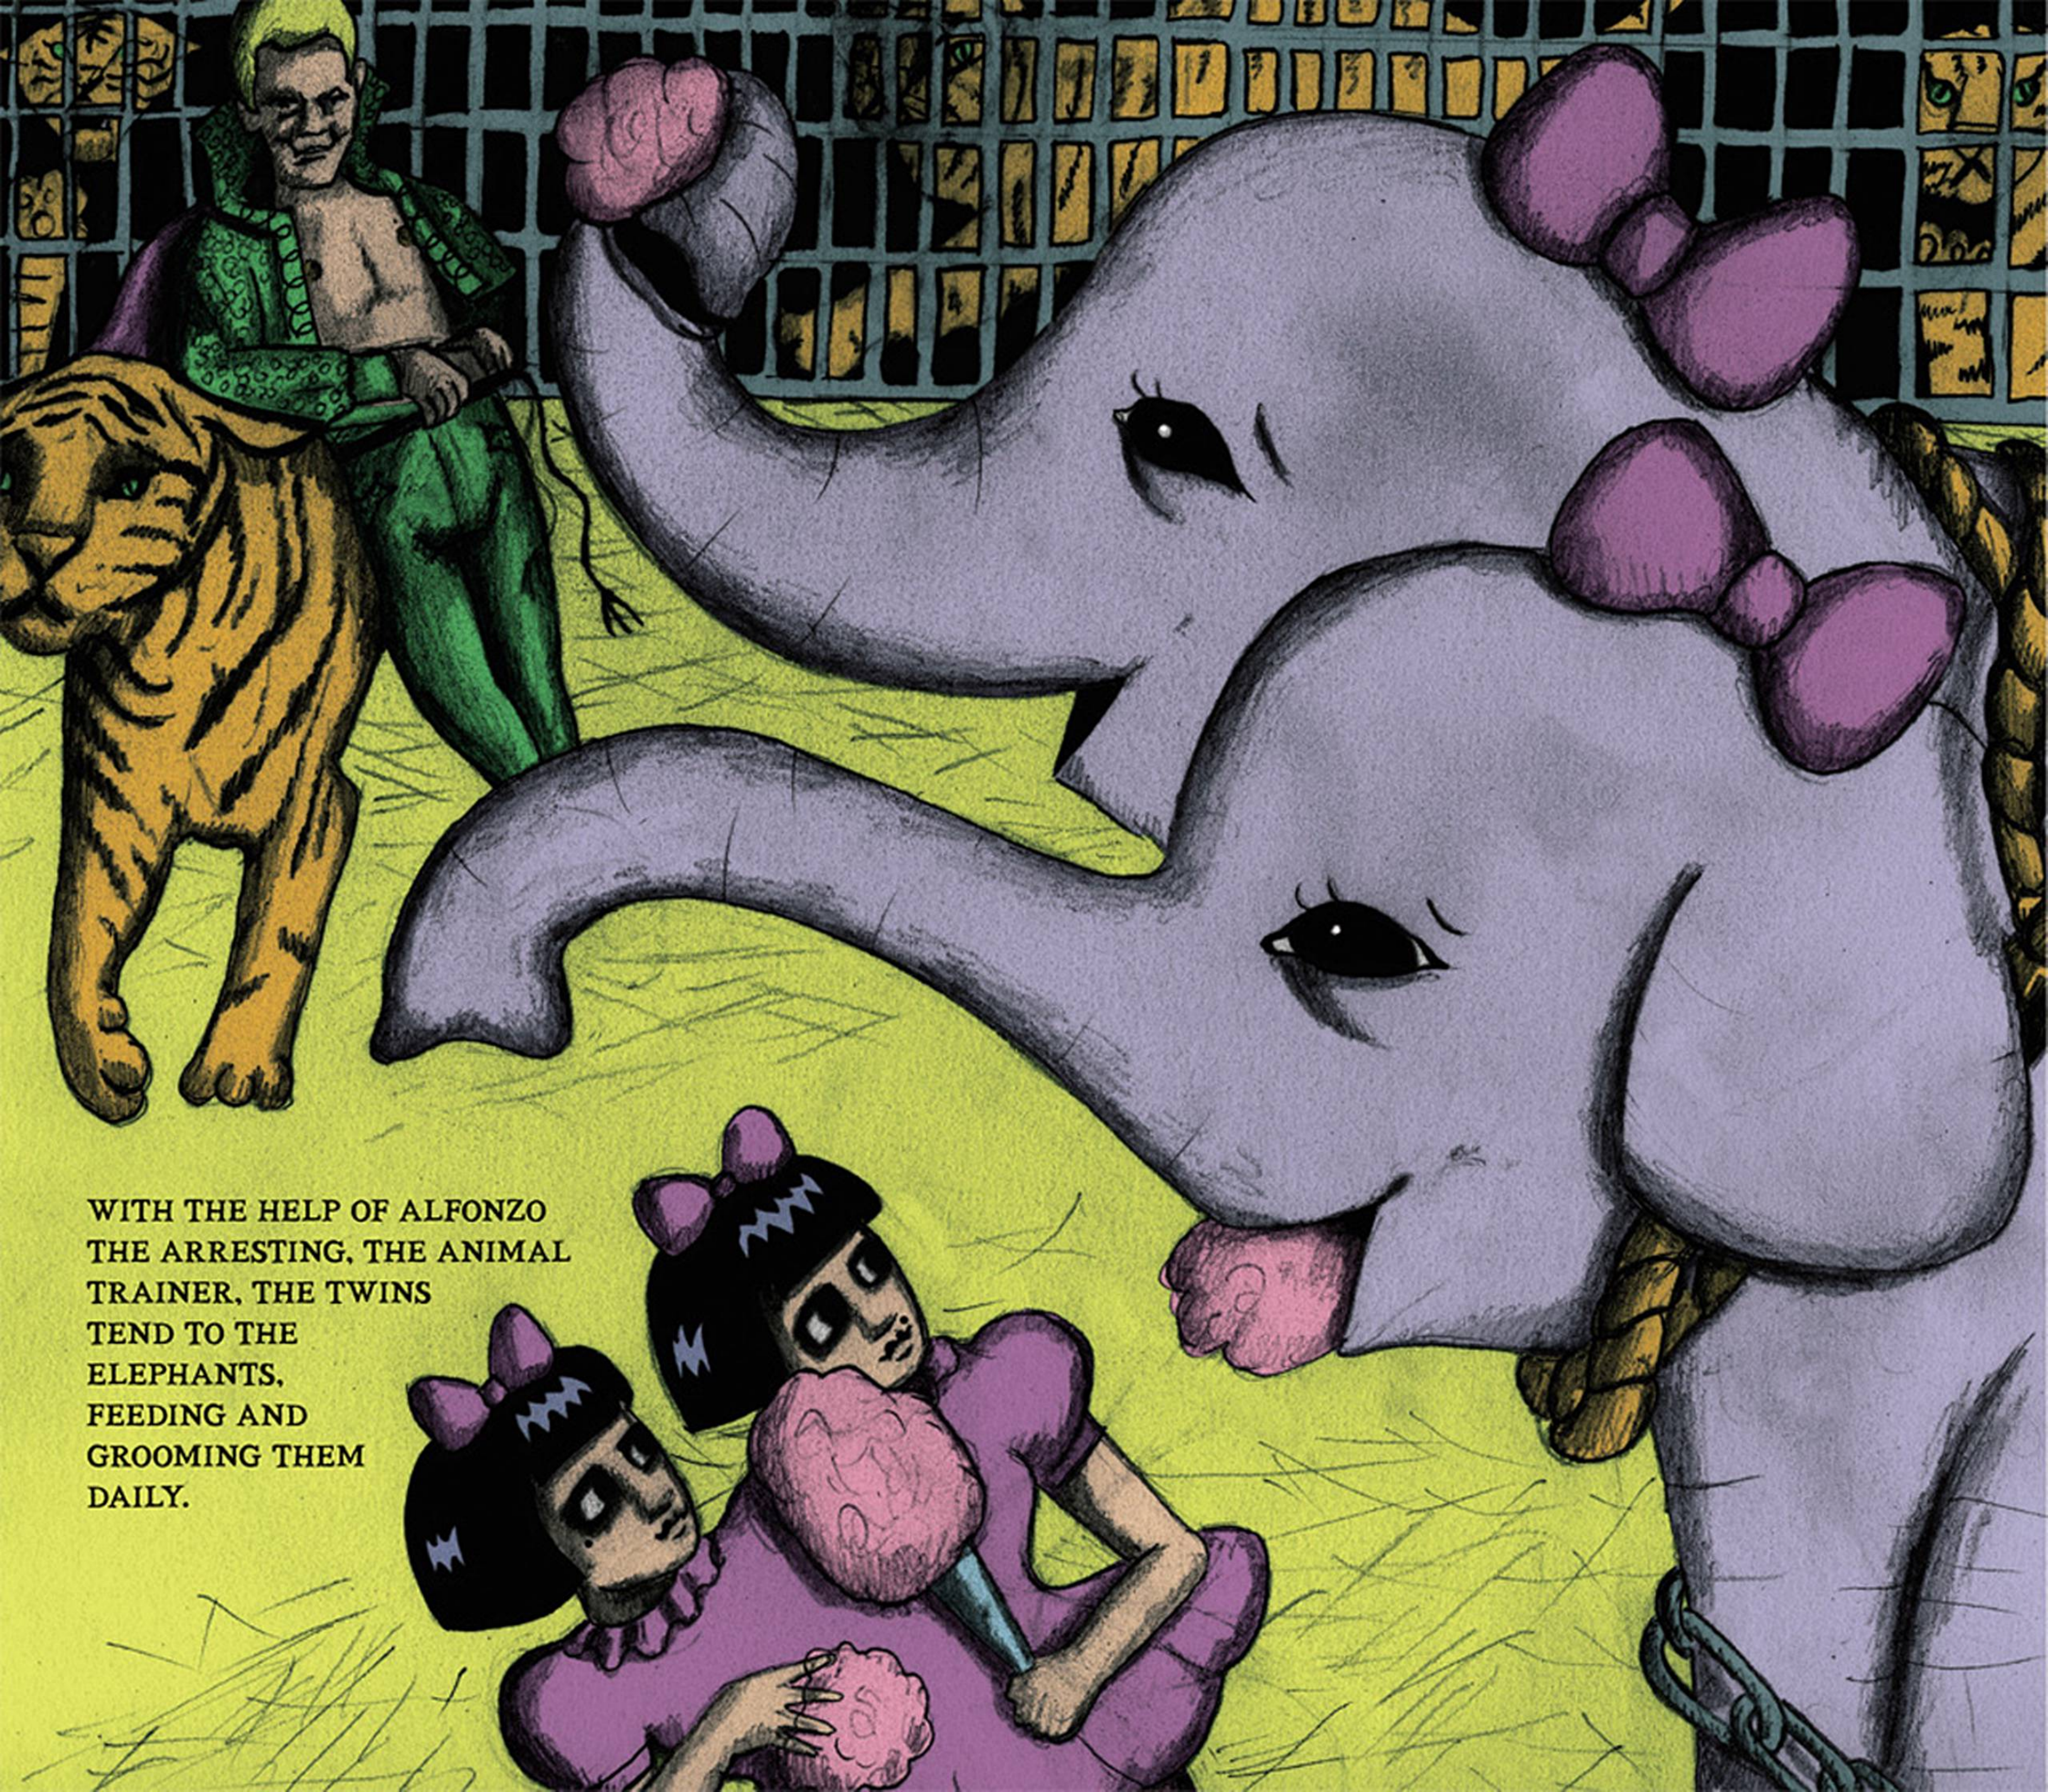
THE OTHER CIRCUS PERFORMERS RARELY INTERACT WITH THE SHY, QUIET SISTERS. THE TWINS ARE FRIGHTENED TO SPEAK TO ANYONE, AND ARE ESPECIALLY NERVOUS AROUND THE CLOWNS.

BUT OVERALL, THESE EARLY DAYS AT THE CIRCUS ARE A HAPPY TIME FOR THE TWINS. EVERY NIGHT, TO THE DELIGHT OF AUDIENCES ACROSS THE COUNTRY, THE GIRLS APPEAR IN THE CENTER RING SINGING AND STRUMMING A UKULELE ATOP BIMBA AND KIMBA, THE WORLD'S ONLY KNOWN CONJOINED-TWIN SIAMESE ELEPHANTS.





THE TWINS FEEL THEY HAVE FOUND TRUE SOUL MATES IN BIMBA AND KIMBA, WHOM THEY AFFECTIONATELY REFER TO AS "ELEPHANT ELEPHANT." THIS SPECIAL BOND IS RECIPROCATED BY THE PACHYDERMS, WHO FONDLY NUZZLE THE GIRLS WITH THEIR TRUNKS AND SEEM TO DELIGHT IN GIVING THEM RIDES.



WITH THE HELP OF ALFONZO THE ARRESTING, THE ANIMAL TRAINER, THE TWINS TEND TO THE ELEPHANTS, FEEDING AND GROOMING THEM DAILY.

FOR THE NEXT TWO WEEKS, THE TWINS CAN ONLY STAND BY HELPLESSLY AS THEIR COMPANIONS BECOME SICKER AND WEAKER AND BEGIN DISPLAYING OBVIOUS SIGNS OF MEMORY LOSS. THE LAST FEW DAYS ARE ALMOST UNBEARABLE, WITH BIMBA AND KIMBA'S CONFUSED, SAD EYES LOOKING UP AT THE GIRLS WITH GREAT ANGUISH, BUT NO HINT OF RECOGNITION.

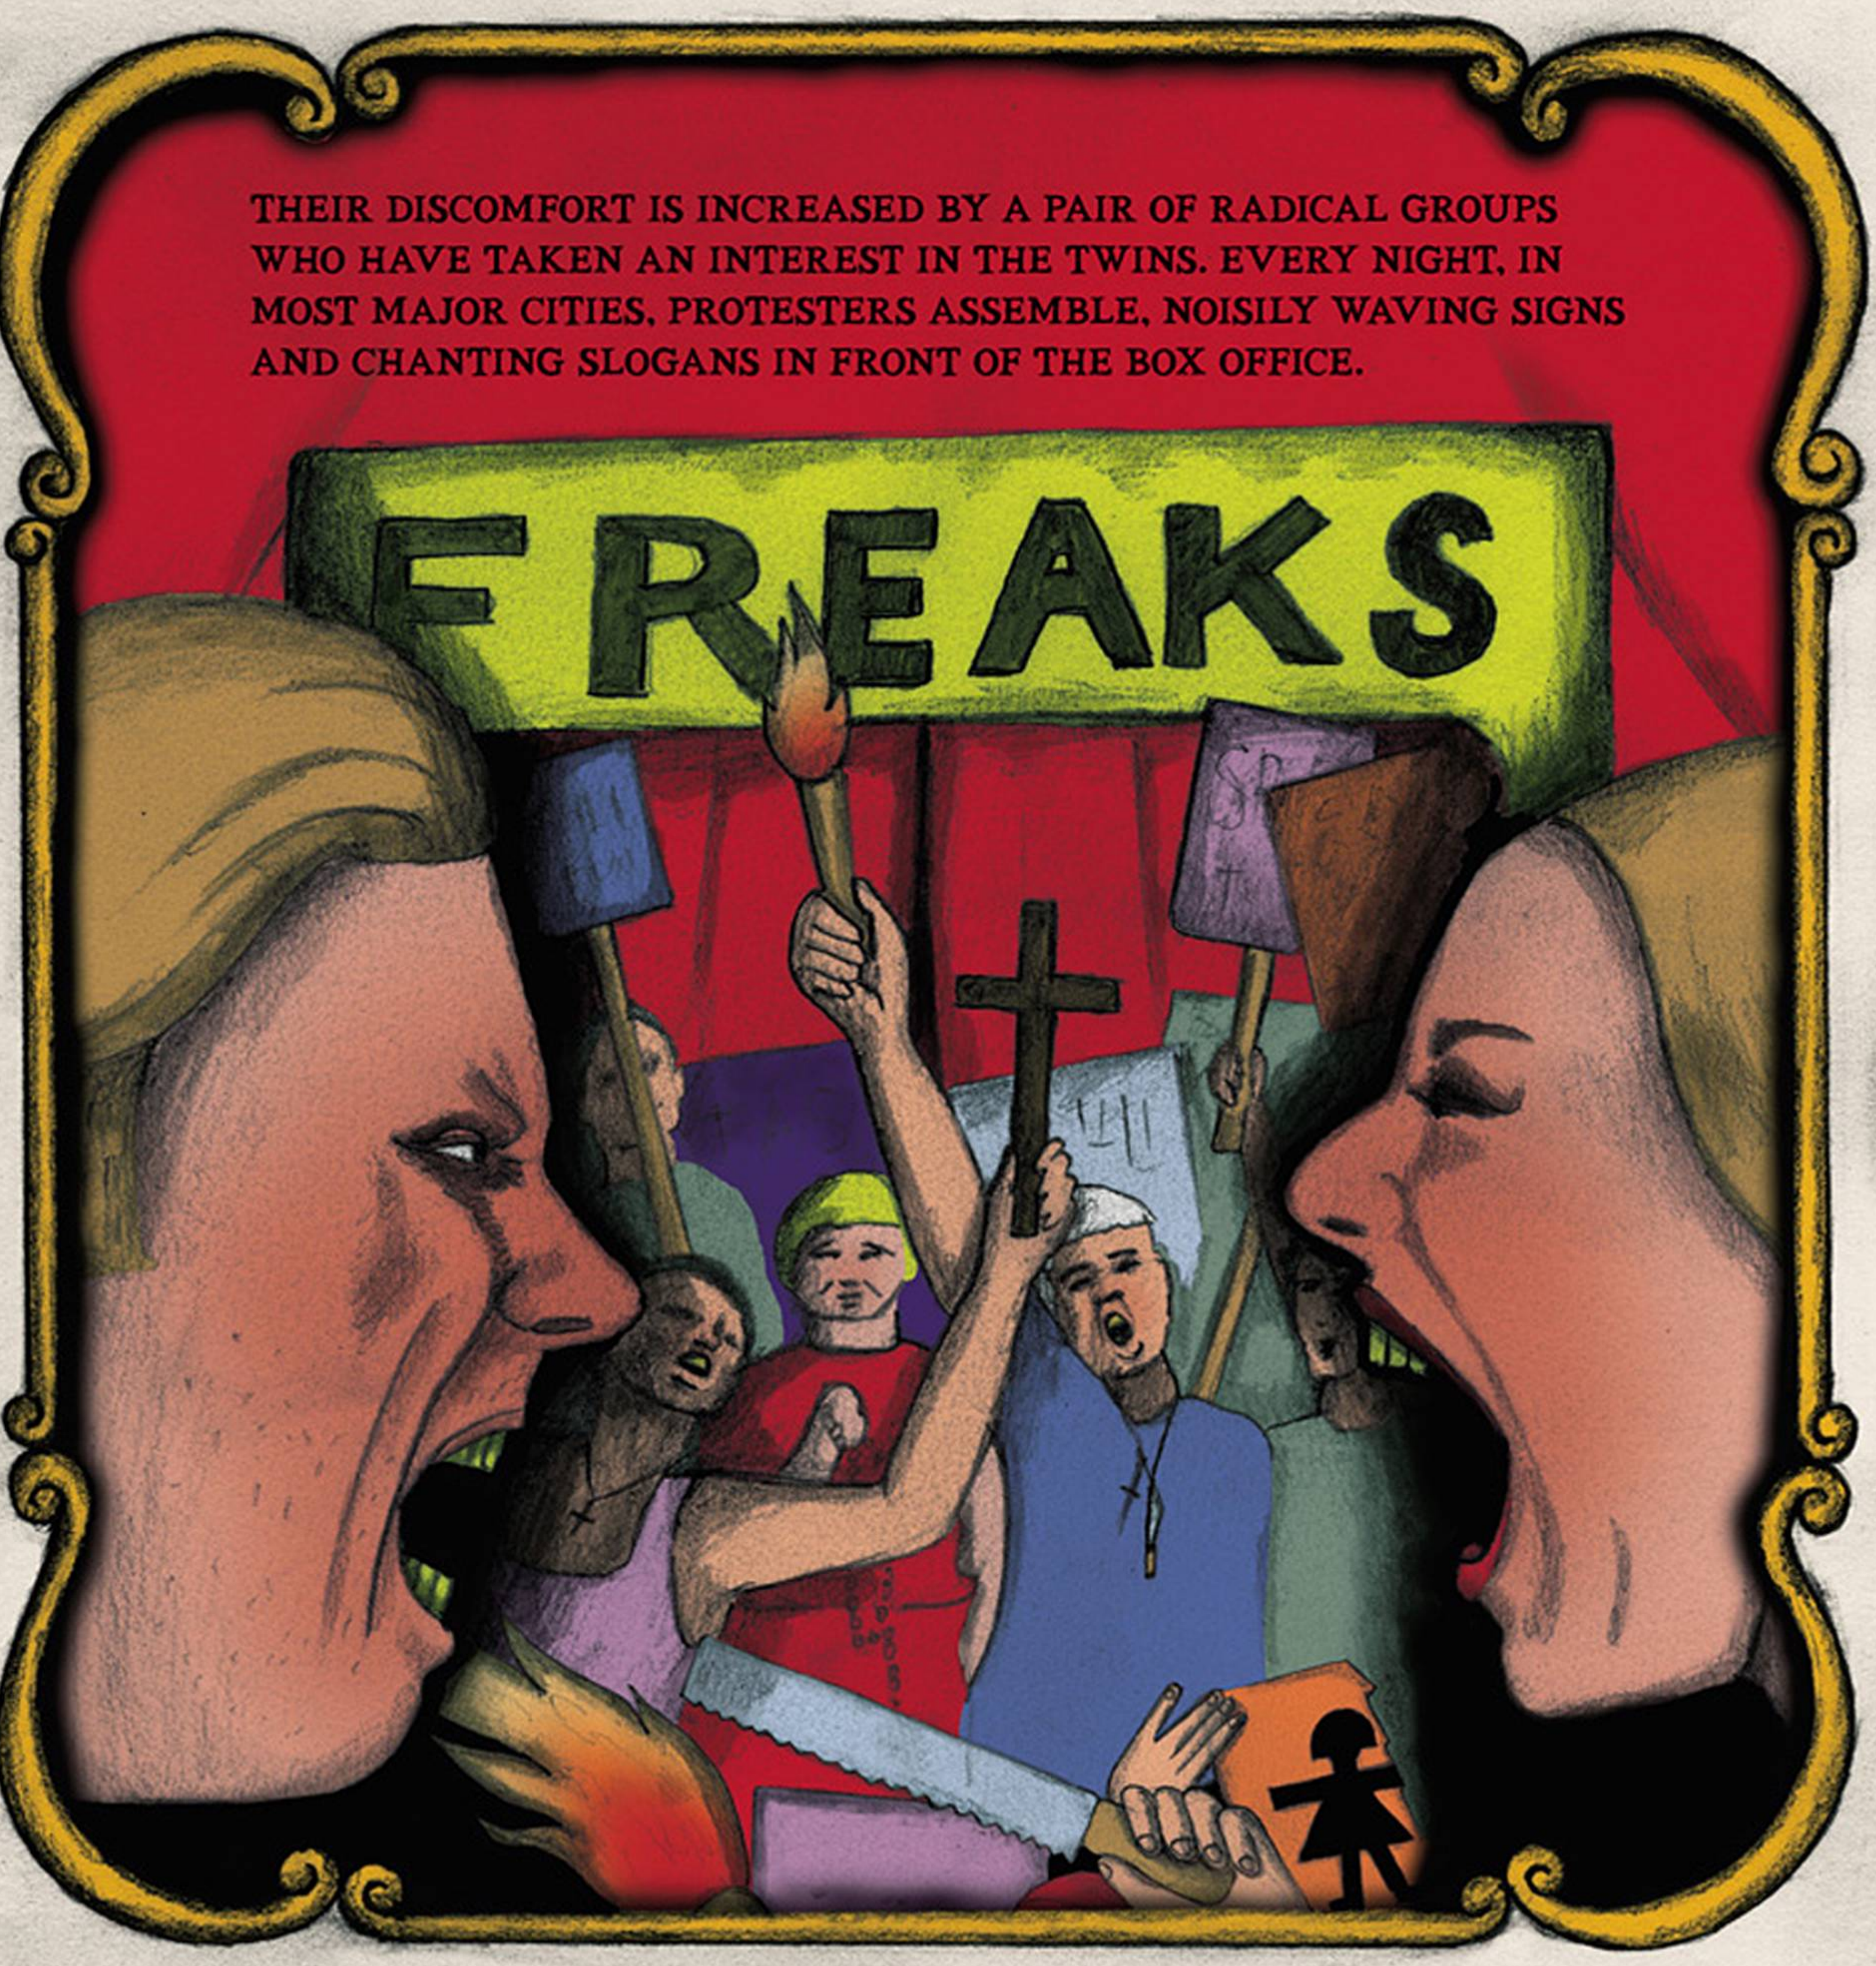
NO LONGER WILLING TO SING AND PLAY THEIR UKULELE. THE GIRLS ARE DRESSED IN AN UNFORTUNATE COSTUME AND FORCED TO BALANCE ON A GIANT BALL—AN IMPOSSIBLE TASK FOR THE CONJOINED SISTERS. THE AUDIENCE ROARS WITH LAUGHTER EACH TIME THEY AWKWARDLY FALL.

THEIR DISCOMFORT IS INCREASED BY A PAIR OF RADICAL GROUPS WHO HAVE TAKEN AN INTEREST IN THE TWINS. EVERY NIGHT, IN MOST MAJOR CITIES, PROTESTERS ASSEMBLE, NOISILY WAVING SIGNS AND CHANTING SLOGANS IN FRONT OF THE BOX OFFICE.



THE FIRST FACTION CLAIMS TO REPRESENT AN ORGANIZATION CALLED F.A.S.S.T.E.N.—THE FOUNDATION FOR ALWAYS SEPARATING SIAMESE TWINS EVERYWHERE NOW. CITING THE BIBLE, F.A.S.S.T.E.N. MEMBERS VEHEMENTLY BELIEVE THAT IT IS THE WILL OF THE LORD THAT ALL CONJOINED TWINS BE SEPARATED AND ALLOWED TO LEAD INDIVIDUAL LIVES. WIELDING SYMBOLIC SURGICAL SAWS AND BLUNT CARVING KNIVES, F.A.S.S.T.E.N. MEMBERS CHIDE THE TICKET BUYERS FOR SUPPORTING AN ABOMINATION OF GOD.

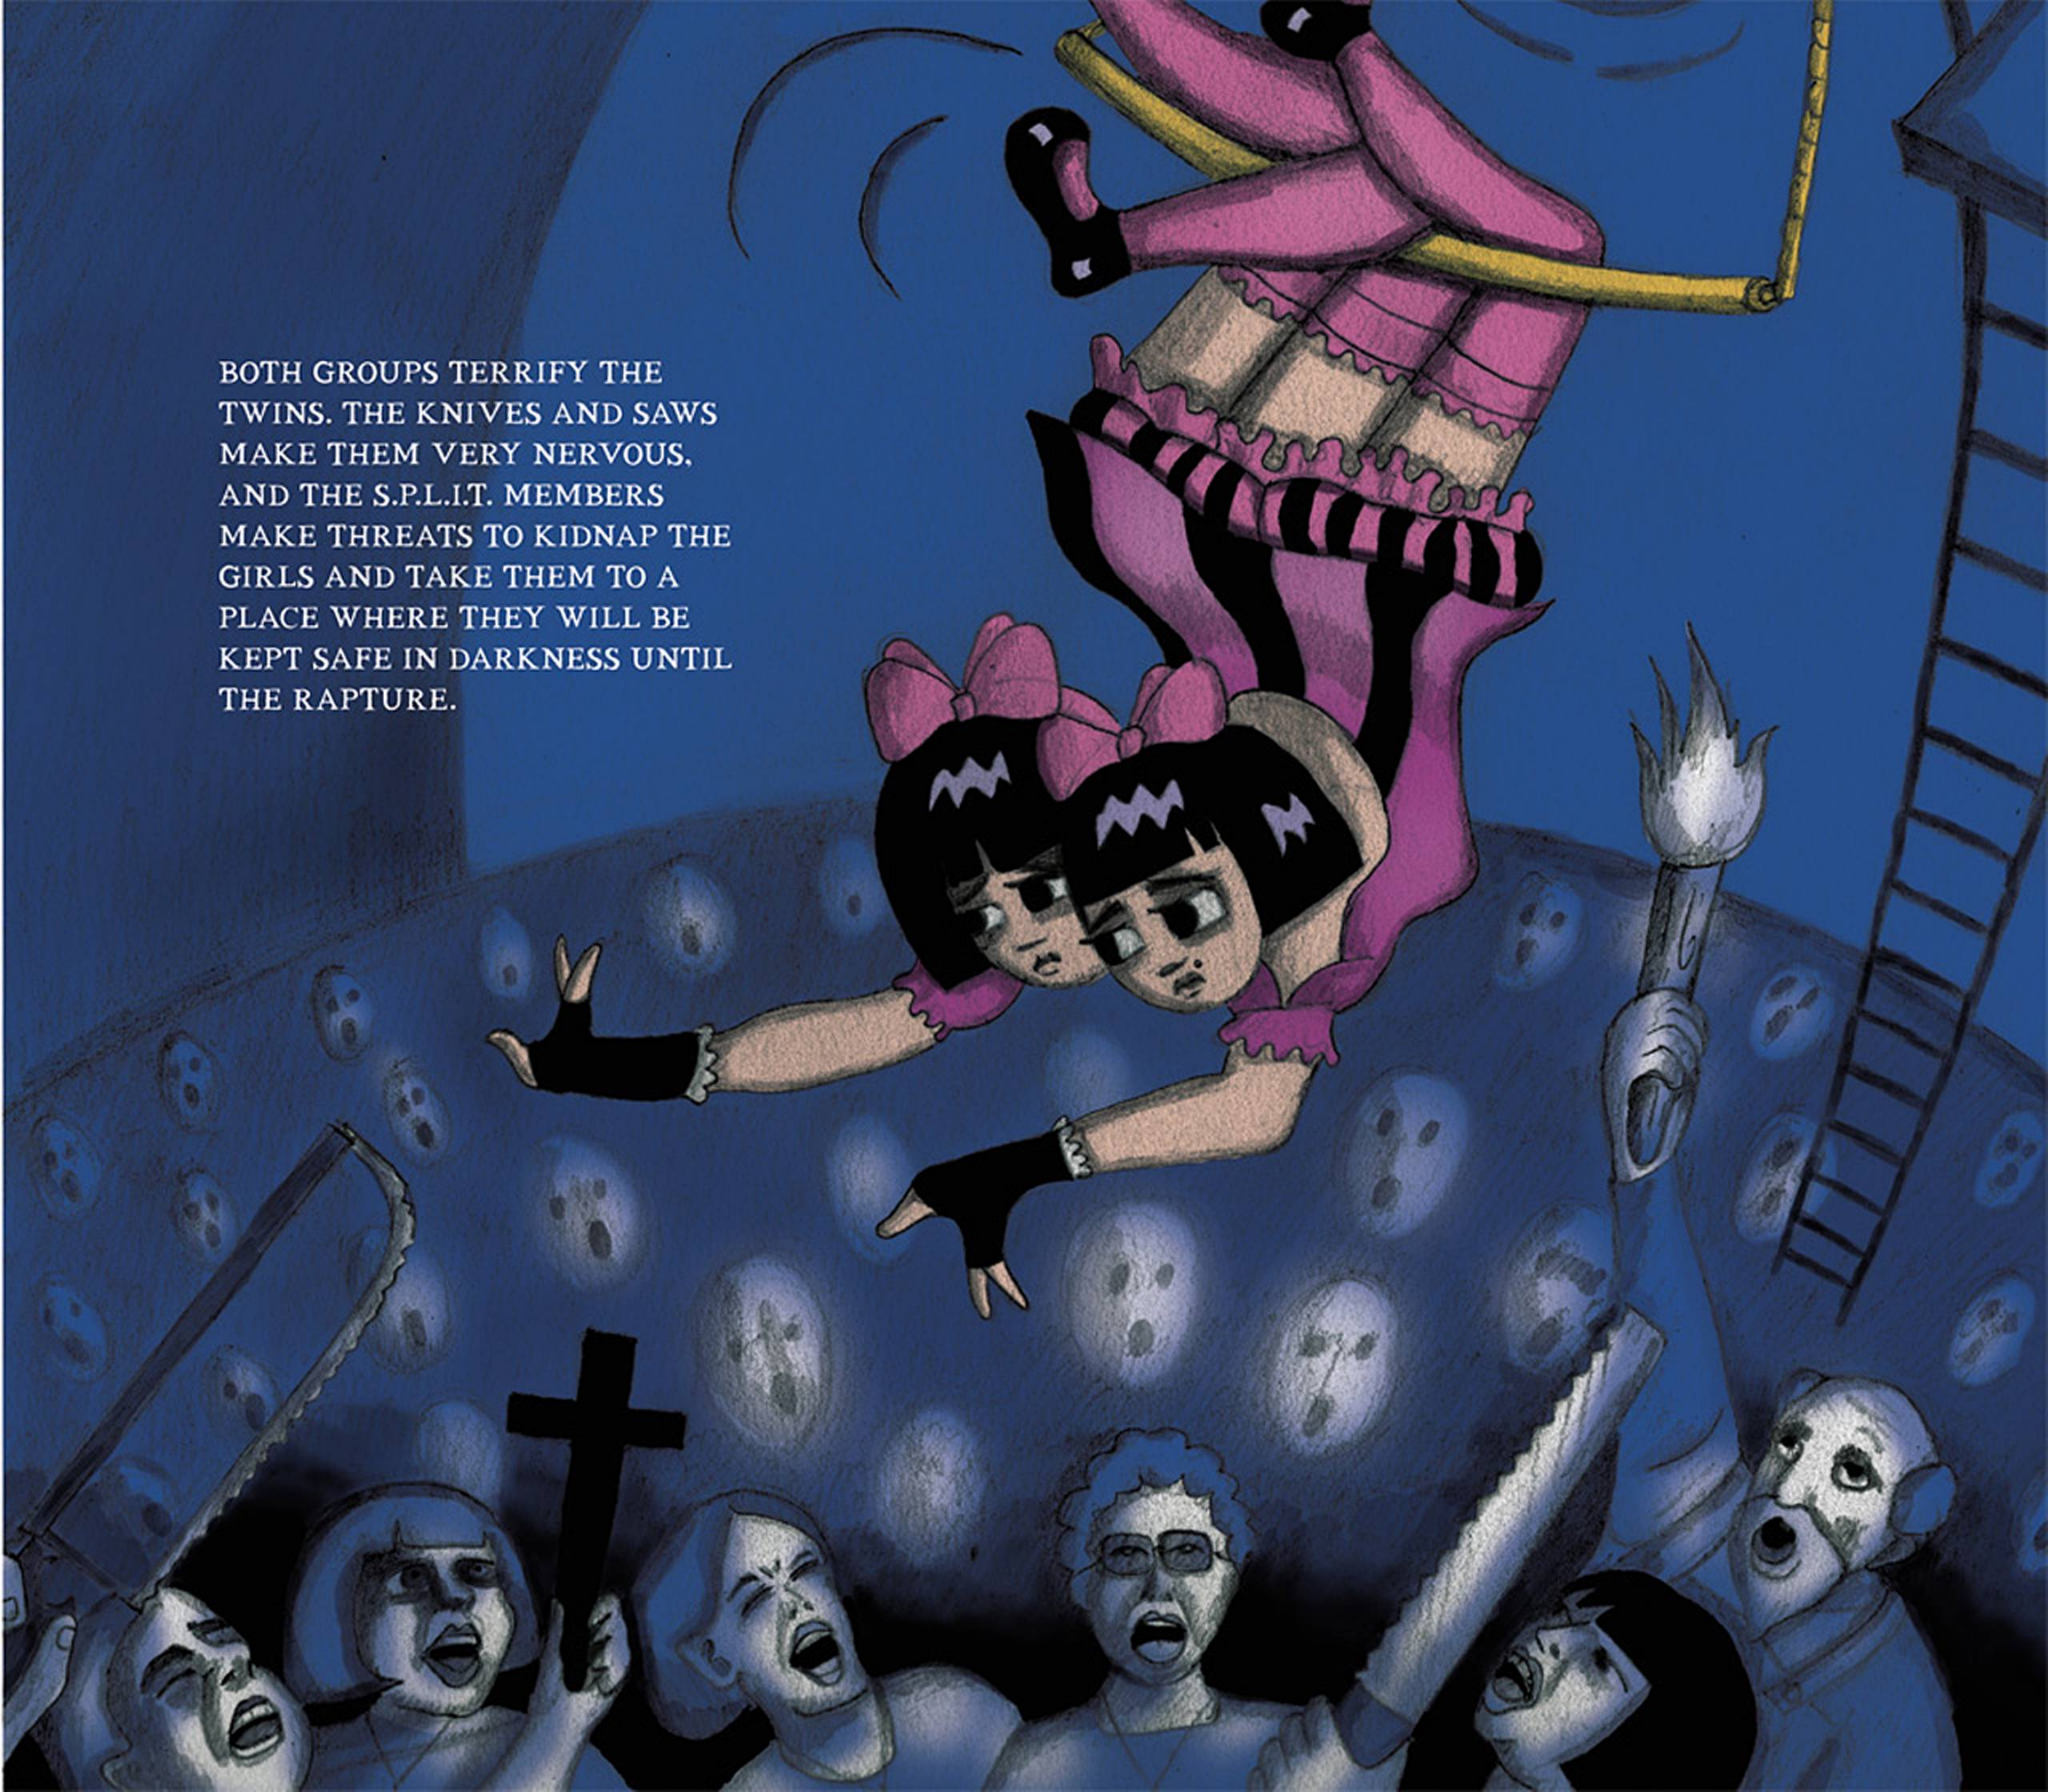
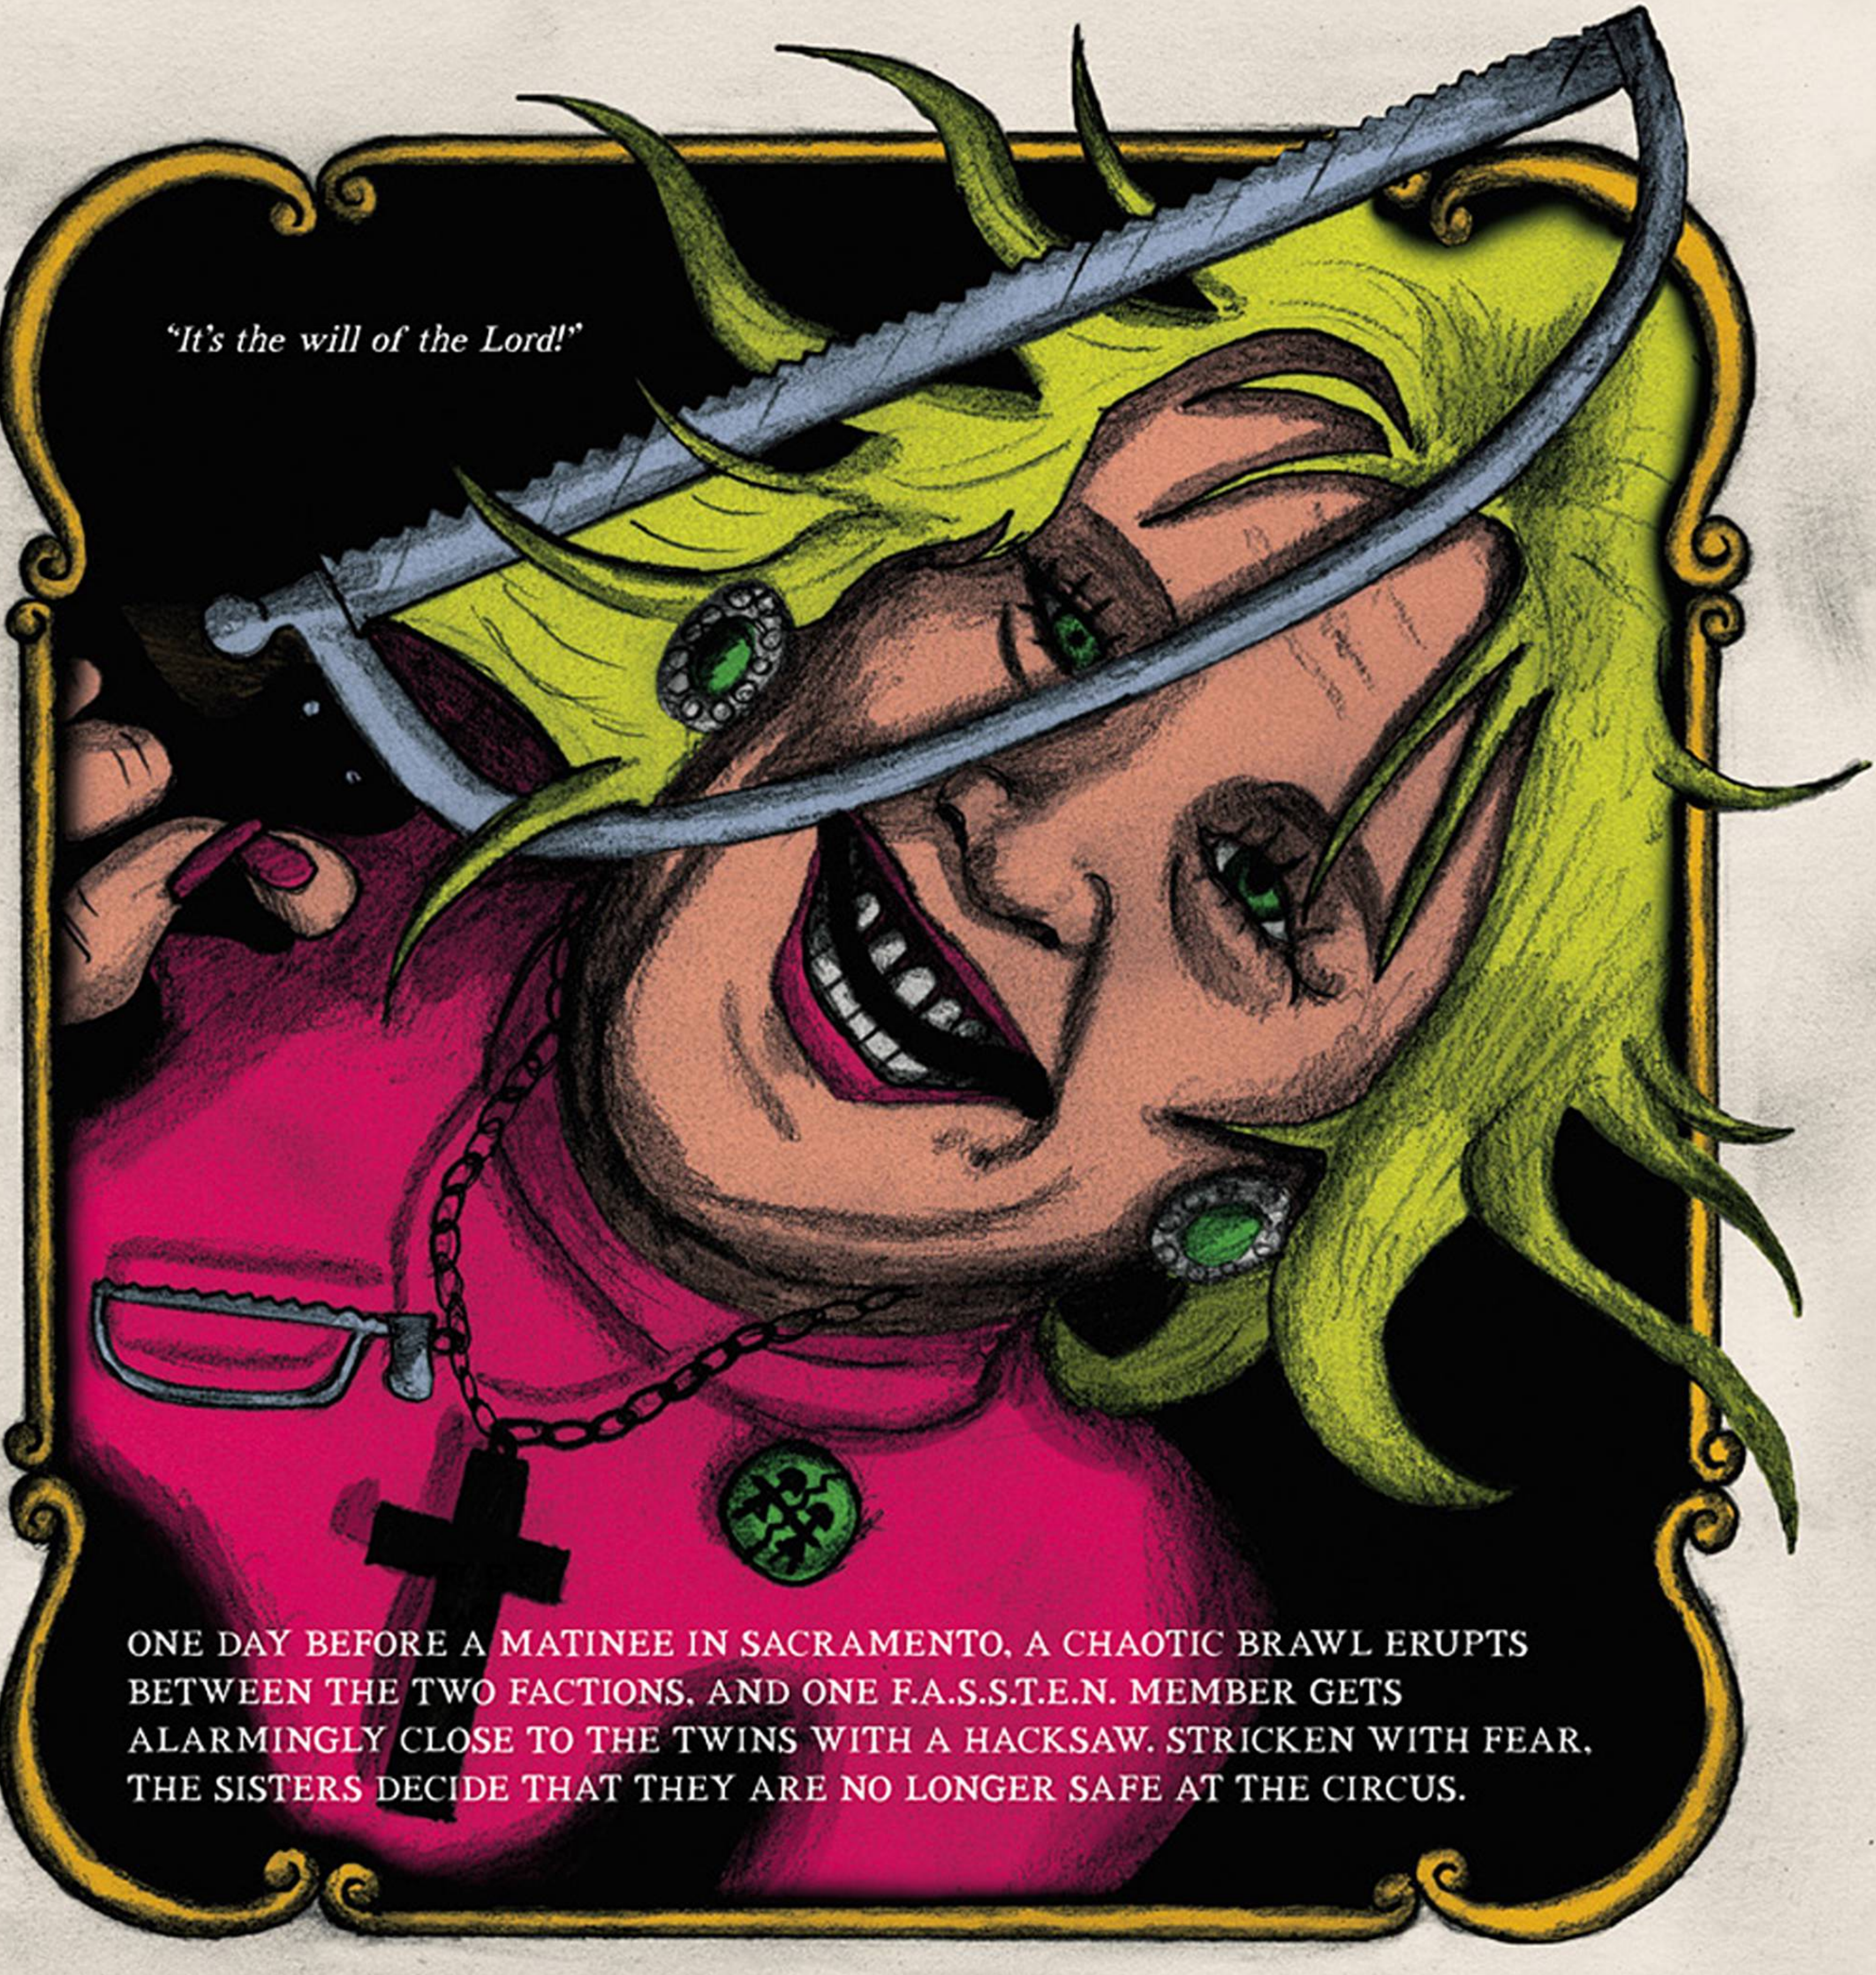
BOTH GROUPS TERRIFY THE TWINS. THE KNIVES AND SAWS MAKE THEM VERY NERVOUS, AND THE S.P.L.I.T. MEMBERS MAKE THREATS TO KIDNAP THE GIRLS AND TAKE THEM TO A PLACE WHERE THEY WILL BE KEPT SAFE IN DARKNESS UNTIL THE RAPTURE.

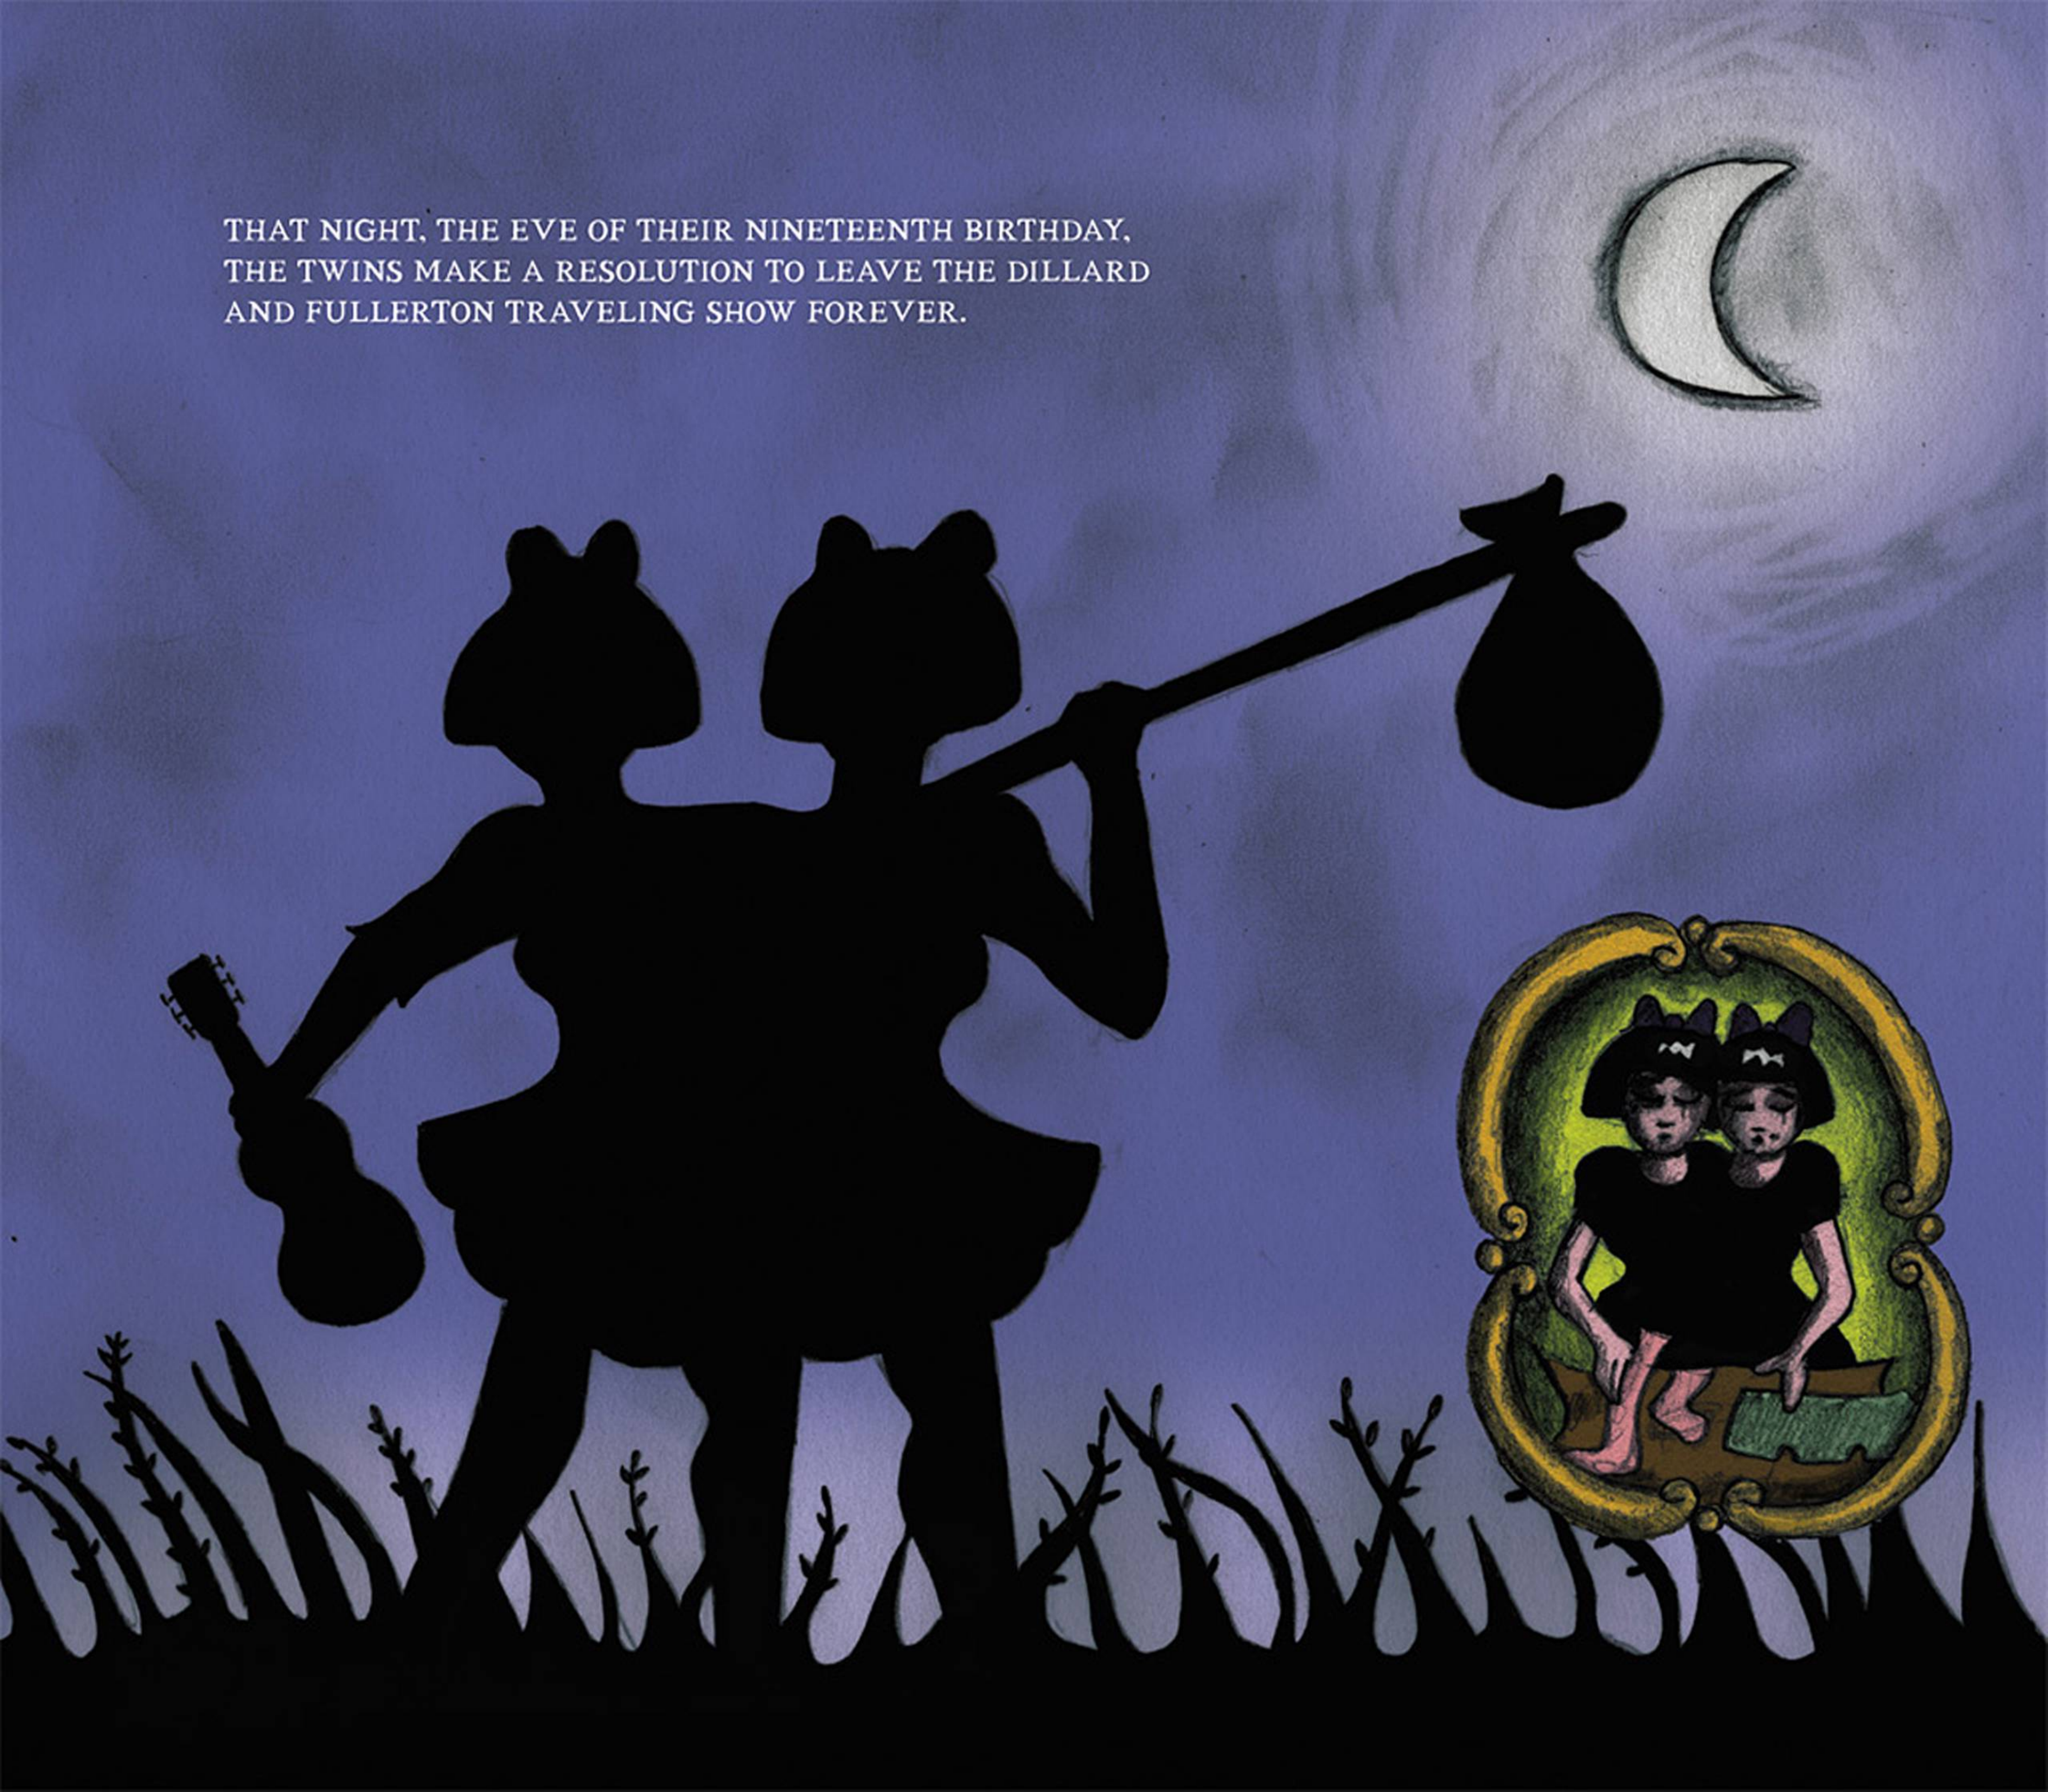




"It's the will of the Lord!"

ONE DAY BEFORE A MATINEE IN SACRAMENTO, A CHAOTIC BRAWL ERUPTS BETWEEN THE TWO FACTIONS, AND ONE F.A.S.S.T.E.N. MEMBER GETS ALARMINGLY CLOSE TO THE TWINS WITH A HACKSAW. STRICKEN WITH FEAR, THE SISTERS DECIDE THAT THEY ARE NO LONGER SAFE AT THE CIRCUS.

THAT NIGHT, THE EVE OF THEIR NINETEENTH BIRTHDAY, THE TWINS MAKE A RESOLUTION TO LEAVE THE DILLARD AND FULLERTON TRAVELING SHOW FOREVER.



The Des Moines Tribune - Sept. 12, 2001

Towering Twins Fall

FORT DODGE—Tragedy struck Tuesday morning when twin circus elephants died in transit to a scheduled appearance in Sioux City. The first animal fell at 9:59 a.m. Central Time, and the second elephant collapsed shortly after at 10:28 a.m.

Bimba and Kimba, the world's only known conjoined pachyderms, were born on August 5, 1966, in Mae Sot, Thailand. The "Siamese" elephants spent much of their lives traveling and performing with various circuses, to the delight, amazement, and sometimes fear of audiences across Asia, Europe, and North America. For the past seven years, Bimba and Kimba were the principal attraction in Dillard and Fullerton's Traveling Circus.

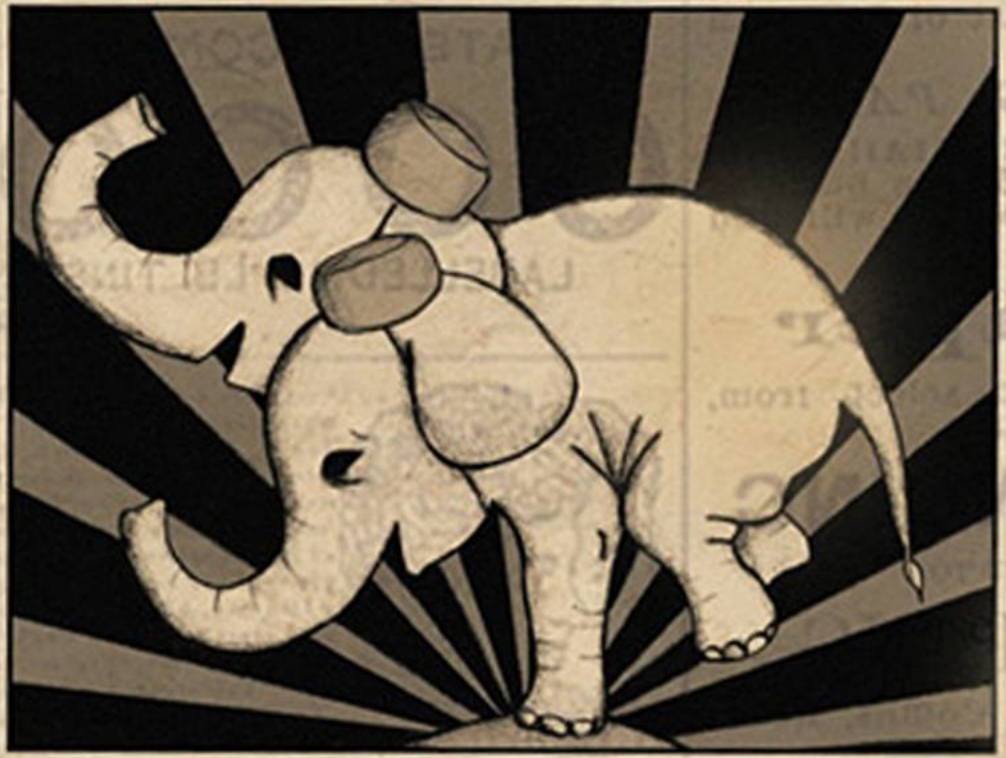
The exact cause of death is unknown at the time of writing; however, sources indicate that the animals had been in poor health.

Circus co-owner Lorenzo Fullerton made this comment: "Of course, this is very, very unfortunate, and we are all deeply, deeply grieved. These animals, they were like a brother to us."

Katy Dolan, age six, of Sioux City, was disappointed to learn that Bimba and Kimba would not be on display. "It's not fair," she said. "I want to see the stuck-together elephants."

Conjoined twins are identical twins whose bodies become joined in utero. A rare phenomenon, the occurrence only happens in 1 in 100,000 human births, with a survival rate of only 25 percent. In elephants this condition is even rarer. In fact, there are no other recorded cases of conjoined elephants surviving into adulthood.

The term "Siamese twins" is generally frowned upon and viewed as politically incorrect. However, in the case of Bimba and Kimba, who are actually from Siam (Thailand), the term is accurate. The phrase originated with conjoined twins Chang and Eng Bunker, also from Thailand, who were exhibited as a curiosity in the 1800s.



Publicity image of Bimba and Kimba performing to the delight of their audience.

Dillard and Fullerton's Traveling Circus will not be canceling any of its performances and will begin its weeklong residency in Sioux City on schedule.

"We mustn't focus on the sad things in life," explains Fullerton. "Elephants come and elephants go. Life must go on, and the show must go on!"

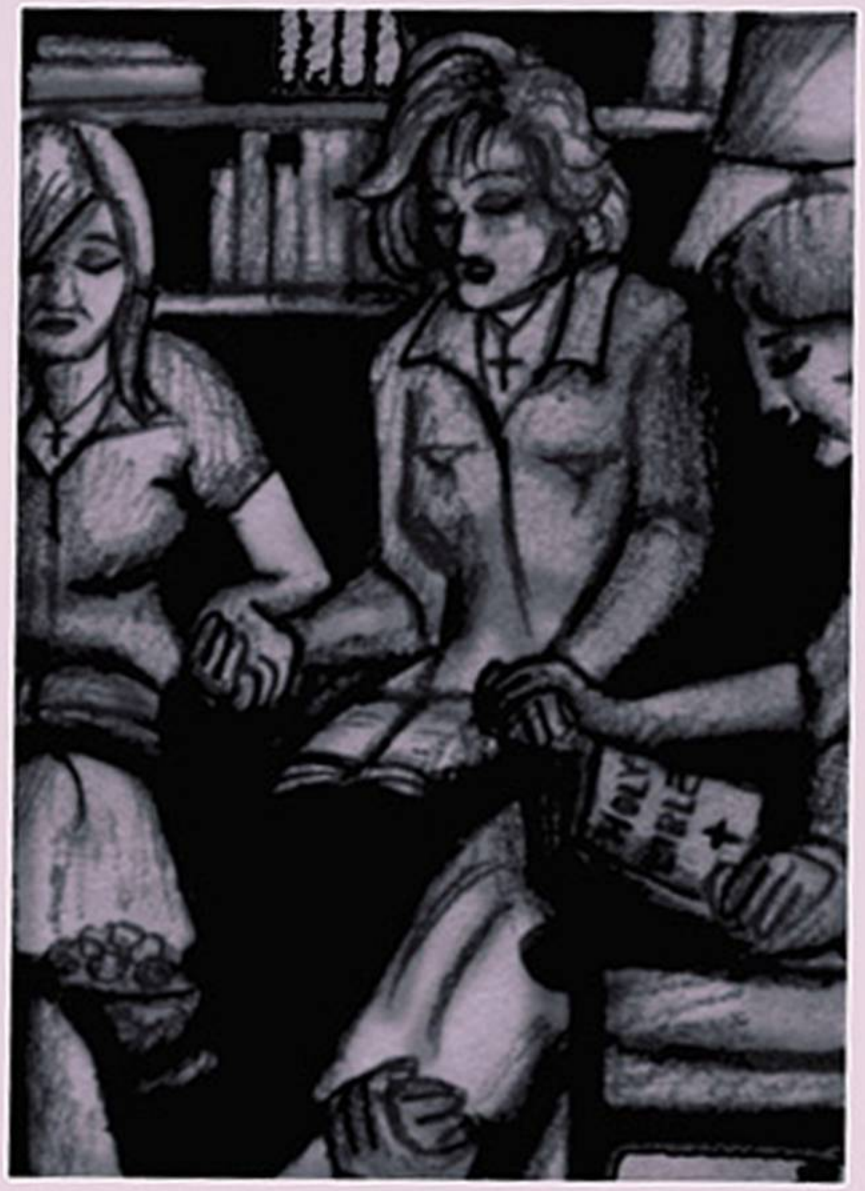
Minister Janet Fisher, S.P.L.I.T. President

Blessed Brothers and Sisters, at last month's Unity Gathering, Father Webb made a very interesting observationwhich I have been contemplating ever since and feel compelled to relate to you here. So much of our discussion has always naturally centered around the glorious days which will soon be before us, when Christ will return and deliver this beautiful, yet afflicted world to the state of Unity and Symmetry prophesied by the Precious Holy Twins we have vowed to worship and protect. However, it is important to remember - it is not only in the time of rapture that these principles are of importance! From the dawn of creation to the days of Christ and perhaps more than ever in these difficult days we are living in now, the virtues of Unity and Symmetry are the bright painted lines on the side of the road, keeping us from veering headlong into sin as we navigate the difficult highways of life.



It is through Unity that we are each able to approach perfection within ourselves, within our community and with God. In Ephesians 4:16 we read "From Him the whole body, JOINED and HELD TOGETHER by every supporting ligament, grows and builds itself up in LOVE, as each part does its work." Indeed, love is the glue that holds this world together, and every part of our sinful bodies can only be saved through a perfect Union - a Union with the whole of ourselves, a Union with our church and our community, and finally a perfect Union with Christ. Ultimately, it is this bond which becomes stronger than our very flesh. As Father Webb so eloquently put it, "a strong man might rip my arm from my body, but even an army of giants cannot tear me from my saviour."

When Job tells us: "they are joined fast to one another; they cling together and

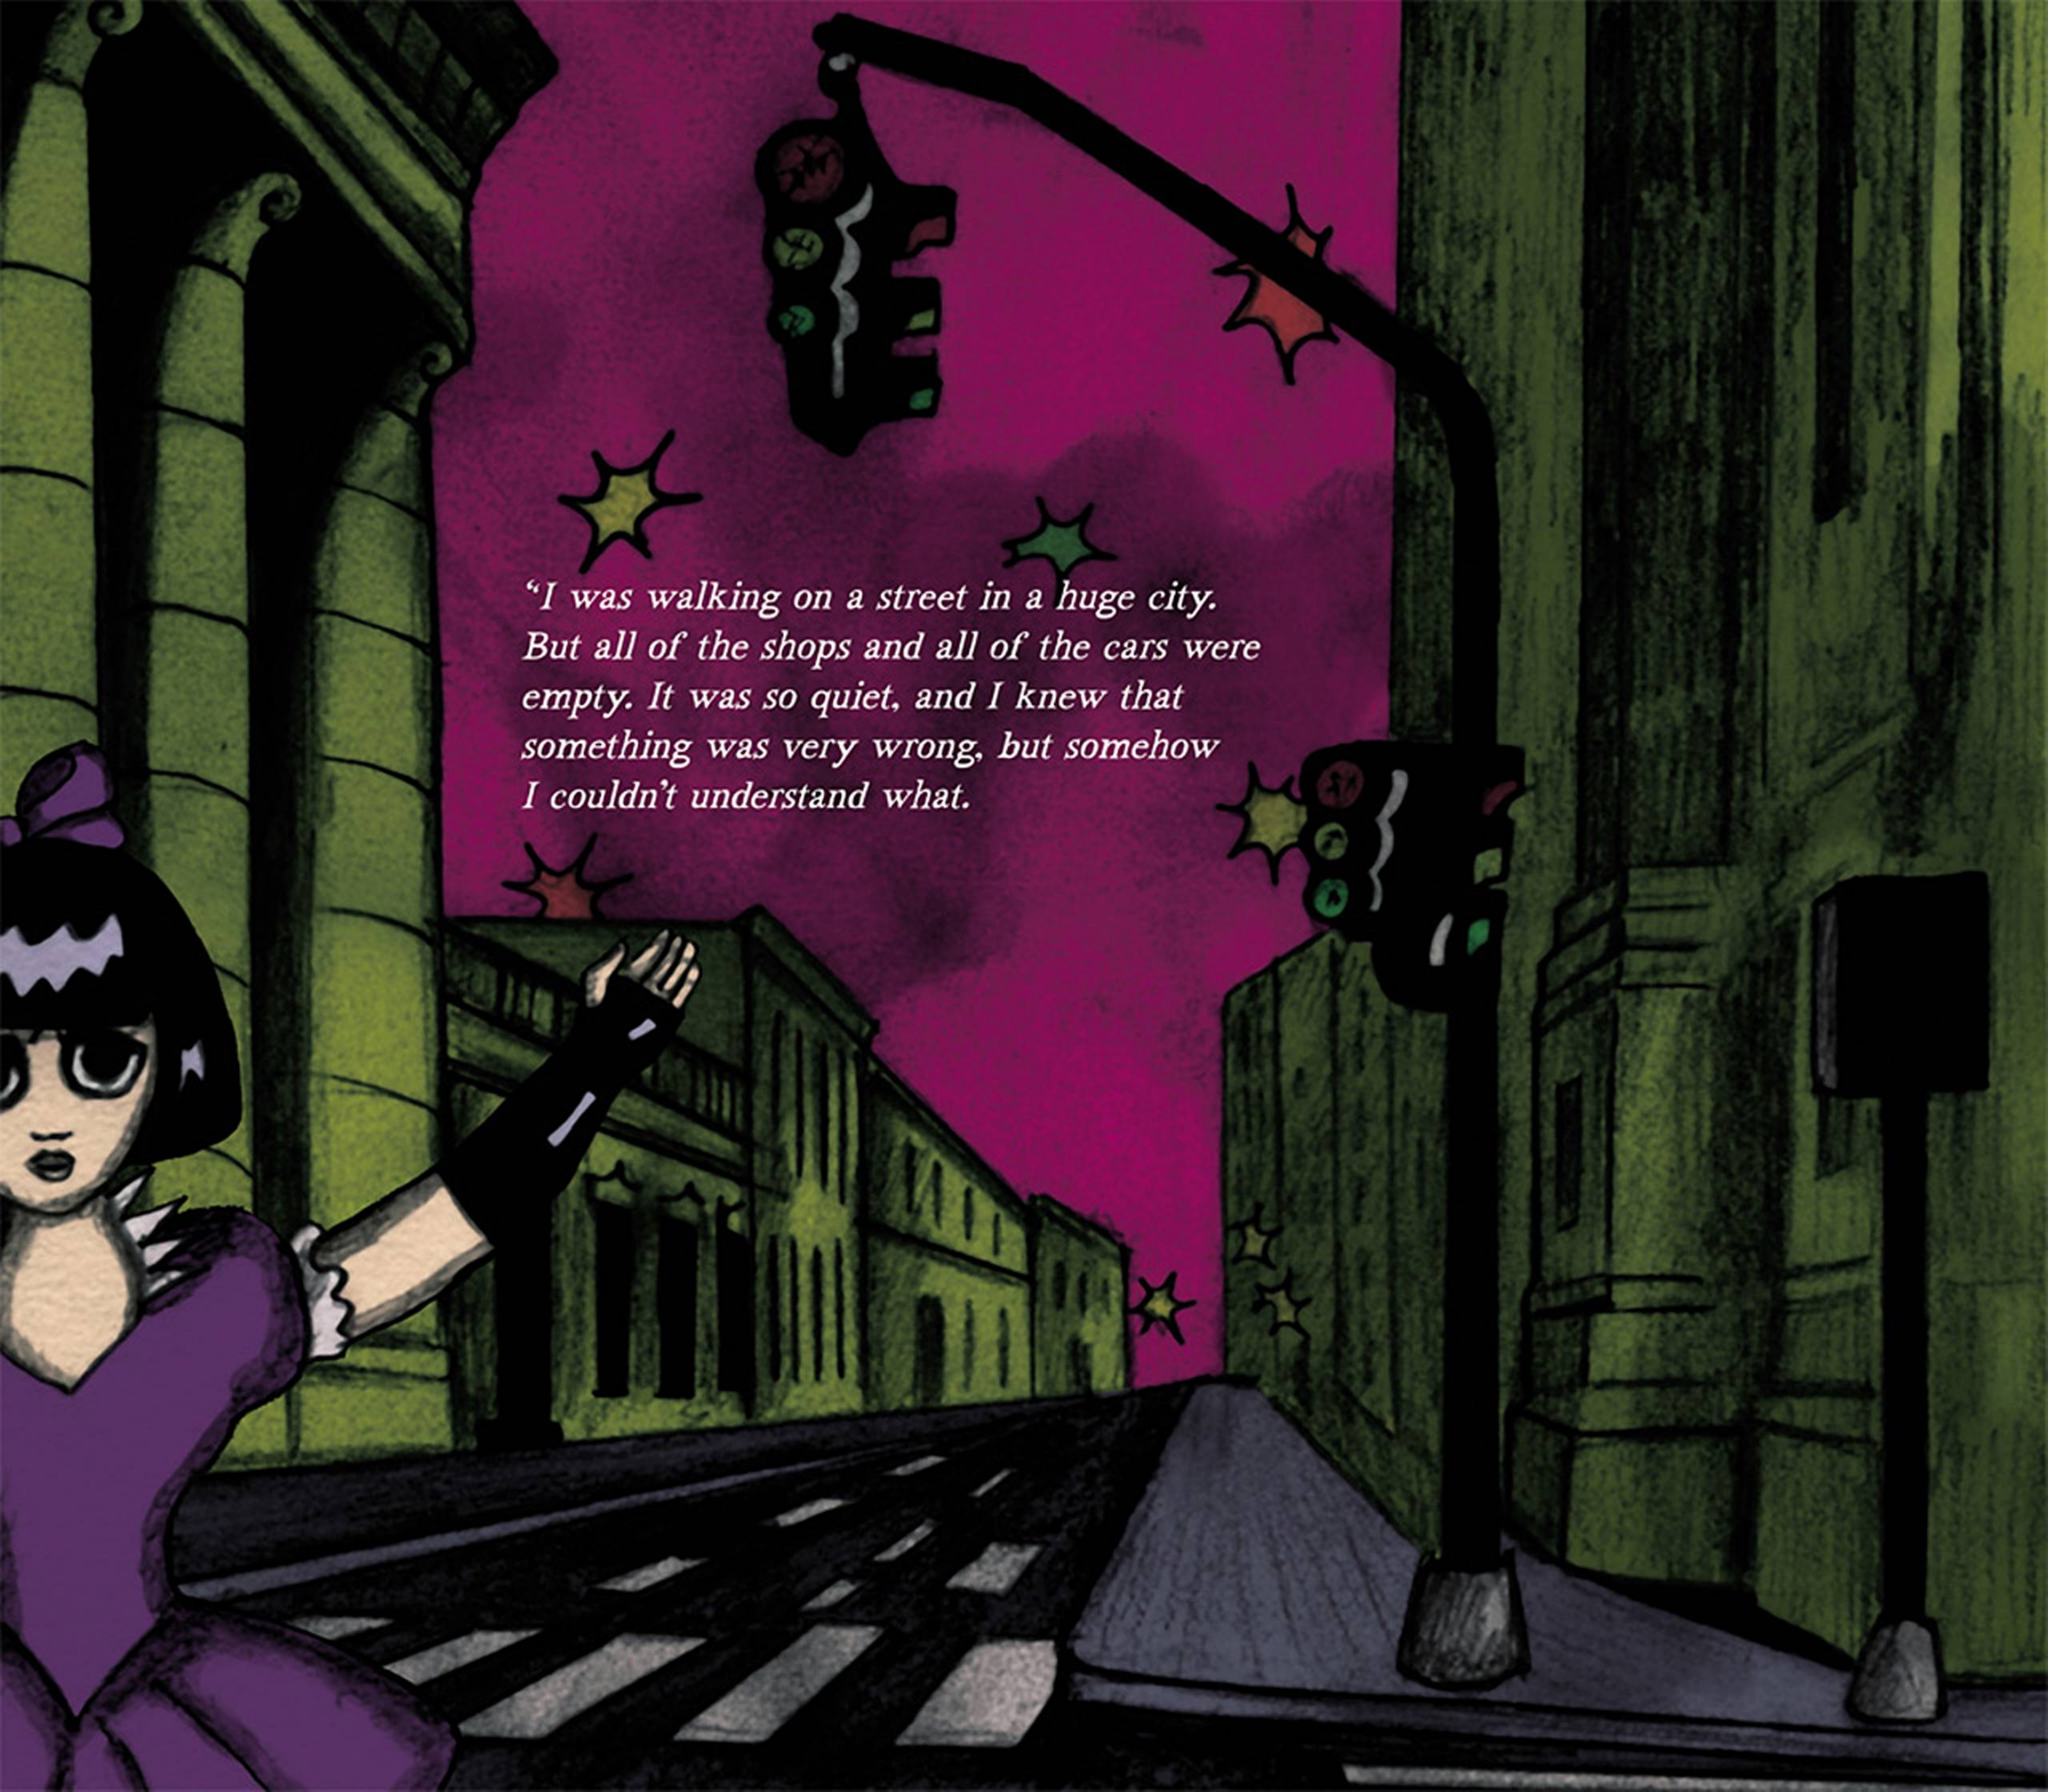
"I just had the most terrible dream."



“I was walking on a street in a huge city. But all of the shops and all of the cars were empty. It was so quiet, and I knew that something was very wrong, but somehow I couldn’t understand what.

I looked for you everywhere, Evelyn."

Afterword

by NEIL GAIMAN

THE MAGIC AND THE DANGER OF FICTION IS THIS: it allows us to see through other eyes. It takes us to places we have never been, allows us to care about, worry about, laugh with, and cry for people who do not, outside of the story, exist.

There are people who think that things that happen in fiction do not really happen. These people are wrong.

Amanda Palmer is an outgoing, astonishingly funny, irreverent, sometimes loud, almost unembarrassable, beautiful, chatty singer who plays piano as a percussion instrument.

Jason Webley is a foot-stomping, freewheeling, gentle, aggressive houseboat dweller, who plays the guitar and the accordion. He always wears a hat and mostly has a beard.

Oddly enough, it was he who introduced me to Amanda Palmer, in e-mail, almost three years ago.

I heard Evelyn Evelyn before I knew anything about them. The song "Have You Seen My Sister Evelyn?" was on my iPod, a strange ragtime encrustation, as was a song about an elephant, called "Elephant Elephant." The songs had crept onto my "Stuff I Really Like That I Don't Really Know What It Is" Playlist.

I'd not been friends long with Amanda Palmer when I asked her about the Evelyn Evelyn songs.

"They are conjoined twins," she told me. "Jason and I met them through MySpace."

"I thought it was you and Jason," I said.

"No," she said. "Conjoined twins. They have had a hard life. But they make amazing music. They have a whole album coming out. Jason and I are producing it for them."

"Is that true?" I asked. "Only, on the songs on my iPod, it sounds like you and Jason singing together."

"Funny, that," said Amanda Palmer.

Cynthia von Buhler has illustrated the life of the twins for you.

She brings delicacy and charm to a story that contains tragedy and darkness. Her illustrations have the simplicity of great children's illustrators, but they tell a story that could only exist because adults are foolish and confused and sometimes evil. She lets the Neville sisters and their story move beyond the characters that Amanda and Jason first showed us, and takes them out into the world.

The Evelyn Evelyn story is hard and strange, and they have had more than their share of bad luck and tragedy. But then, the same can be said of most of us. It is one of the secrets of being human. It's not the pain that you suffer: it's how you take the pain and move on. In the case of the Neville sisters, they make art.

And so do Amanda Palmer and Jason Webley, and so does Cynthia von Buhler.

Backstage, Evelyn and Evelyn whisper to each other. The left-hand Evelyn seems slightly more masculine than the right-hand Evelyn. They do not meet your eyes. They are a unit. You watch them as they move, like one person. They are reluctant to walk out onto the stage.

Amanda Palmer is never reluctant to walk onto a stage. Neither is Jason Webley.

They play two-handed piano. One of the Neville twins plays the right hand; the other plays the left hand. The same with accordion, ukulele, guitar. They play two kazoos, for they have two mouths. Only one twin needs play the snare drum and cymbals.

They sing. They relate to each other in a way they do not relate to the audience. Amanda Palmer sings to, and talks to, and cares about, and interacts with, her audience. Jason Webley is famous for getting his audiences magically drunk, without even using alcohol.

The twins exist for each other - they play to each other, disagree, make up, care for each other, and whisper, always whisper.

They are aware of the audience. They respond to applause. But they are not on that stage for us.

And people ask, as I once asked, as even Cynthia von Buhler must sometimes have wondered, whether Amanda Palmer and Jason Webley are actually Evelyn Evelyn.

And they are not. They are something other. Eva and Lynn Neville, something that exists in a make-believe space inhabited by puppets and dreams. They are no more Jason and Amanda than the Haitian loa, Baron Samedi, Mistress Erzulie, and the rest, are really the horses that they ride. No more than Father Christmas was only ever your dad and nothing more than that.

This is the secret of Evelyn Evelyn. You can be them too. The process has already begun. You have read this book, after all. Now you will see through their eyes, and begin to whisper secrets to yourself in the dark.

AMANDA PALMER is a songwriter, singer, blogger, piano-slayer, ukulele hack and "performance artist" of unclassifiable proportions and has toured the world for over a decade fronting the seminal punk cabaret band the Dresden Dolls. Palmer now spends her time virtually crowd-surfing the world, going where the good wine, couches and conversation can be found. She is a vocal activist for freely distributing musical content on the internet and much of her music is available for donation at www.amandapalmer.net.

JASON WEBLEY is a Seattle-based accordion troubadour whose relentless touring schedule has built him a loyal following in most corners of the planet. Webley runs his own record label, Eleven Records; organizes the annual Monsters of Accordion tour; and runs a silly day camp called Camp Tomato for adults and children. He can occasionally be found in his floating domicile just outside of Seattle, where he might be working on a book of short stories. His music, tour dates, and stories can be found at www.jasonwebley.com.

CYNTHIA VON BUHLER, a.k.a. Countess von Buhler, is an internationally exhibiting visual artist and children's book author. She has won numerous awards for her art and her paintings have appeared in Rolling Stone, the New Yorker, the New York Times, Spin, and thousands of other publications. She rescues animals in need and shares her home with a plethora of feathered and furred creatures. Fall into her ornate rabbit hole at www.cynthiavonbuhler.com.
